INTRODUCTION

COLLECTIVE list, with a detailed description of such portraits as remain in the country houses of England, has been a want long felt and hitherto but partially and imperfectly supplied.

As long ago as 1797 Sir William Musgrave exercised his best endeavours in this direction. Residing in London, he received from his many friends lists of portraits in the country houses they might chance to visit. These he catalogued and indexed; they form a large portion of the series, Add. MSS. British Museum, 5726-6391, and there can be little doubt but that the result of Sir William Musgrave's labours should be looked upon as not only what it really was, the beginning, but the foundation of all works dealing with country house portraiture.

The late director of the National Portrait Gallery, Sir George Scharf, K.C.B., made another attempt, at a recent date, to induce the owners thereof to register or record at the aforementioned institution all the portraits they might possess; however, it is believed that no great amount of success attended his efforts to secure so valuable a contribution.

In this twentieth century, what with railways and motor cars, it is an easy matter for anyone to get about from house to house, and thus, without trusting to the knowledge and capabilities of other people, see for themselves and record exactly what does remain. This present volume is therefore the result of such a survey and an attempt on the part of the compiler to record to the best of his ability what he has seen.

As far as possible every portrait known to exist, whether in the larger mansions and farmhouses of the county or in the towns is here described, the name of the artist given when it is known, and a short genealogical account of the subject appended.

The list follows in alphabetical order, each town and village in the western division of the county of Suffolk, that being the only portion dealt with in the present volume. Every picture herein described has been seen by the compiler, and many of them have passed under a very minute examination, by which means several hitherto unknown portraits have been identified, the names of artists discovered, and scores of portraits, being approximately dated, have been enabled to have names tentatively assigned to them.

No technical terms, or even well-known appellations, have been used in dealing either with armour, costume, wigs, or hair. Everything is described, in language as simple as possible, just as it appeared to the compiler; thus it is hoped a little further knowledge may be gained as to the gradual evolution of all such general details connected with portraits throughout three centuries.

In describing the position of the head and figure, it has been customary in all portrait literature to state whether such be turned towards the right or left of the spectator. This custom, laudable as it may seem, has not been carried out in the present work lest a confusion should be created in the mind of the compiler, he being accustomed to regard things from an heraldic point of view, in which dexter and sinister are exactly opposed to these customary terms of right and left. Every picture, therefore, has been considered, as it were, a shield which has a dexter and a sinister side, and these terms, being well known in their signification, there can remain little doubt in the mind of any reader as to what is meant when a head, or a figure, is said to be turned towards either the dexter or the sinister side. Moreover, there will thus be no confusion in the comparison of any picture described in this work with that of the same or a similar picture in another book in which the customary terms are used.

The description of each portrait follows a definite line, and that portion of the figure which has been portrayed by the artist is the first thing to be taken into consideration in any description of the picture which may be given.

Four divisions are herein used, and they are customary designations oftentimes quoted in the description of engraved portraits.

F.L. A full-length figure.

T.Q.L. A three-quarter length figure; that is, a figure represented to below the knees.

H.L. A half-length figure; that is, to the waist, or generally wherever the hands are apparent.

H. and S. The head and shoulders of the figure only, more often styled a bust, which is an erroneous expression, because sometimes the lower portion of the arm is not wanting as it is in a bust.

After this follows the aforementioned description of the position of the head and figure, with any additional detail connected therewith; then the costume, concluding with any further particulars concerning the portrait which might help to distinguish it from any other one of a similar kind.

It is necessary now to make a few observations on the principles which have guided the compiler in venturing to assign names and dates to hitherto unnamed, and possibly inaccurately dated, portraits.

Costume has been the chief factor in attaining this desirable result, though it must be confessed that artistic manipulation, or as it has been generally called "technique," has always to be taken into account.

Male costume will be dealt with first, and one of the most important things to be considered in the costume of men, is the treatment of the hair, or the size and shape of the wig.

Beginning then with the moderately short hair which was the fashion throughout the reign of Elizabeth, and the earlier years of James I, the long hair which was in vogue throughout the reign of Charles I and the Commonwealth, we reach the very long and curly wigs, brought back from France by Charles II after the restoration; always of a natural colour, whether dark or fair, till the closing years of the seventeenth century, and after that slightly tinted with powder, and very high on either side of the parting on the top of the head; then the passing over the shoulders those long ends of the wig, which, until that time, hung down on either side in front. This evolution took place just when the seventeenth century was passing into the eighteenth. Soon after that we find the aforesaid ends tied into knots; they are then cut off altogether to a length just below the shoulder, when, as a rule, the tint of the powder increases till it has attained a perfect white. After this we have what I may call (it is an expressive term) full-backed wigs, more usually than not worn by divines, whilst laymen dressed the back portion in the form of a pigtail, tied with a queue, with either three or two or but one roll of the hair at the side of the head; then follows the passing away of the wig altogether, and the adoption once again of man's own short and natural hair.

Armour and clothes also require a good deal of consideration, even though, as has been stated in a work of repute, "Lely and Kneller clothed their sitters in a conventional fancy dress, which was frequently painted on the canvas before the arrival of the sitter, so that he or she might choose a becoming costume ready made"; nevertheless that conventional costume or fancy dress can be so easily distinguished and dated, that the same becomes a help rather than a hindrance to the identification of portraits painted by those well-known artists, or by the pupils in their schools.

With respect to armour, so much has been written that the gradual process or evolution concerning the same is not a difficult matter to decide, in that the production of portraits did not commence till armour was passing from its higher degree of perfection through the successive degrees of decadence, till it should disappear, as a matter of necessity, altogether.

We must, in male costume, commence with the doublet, a descriptive name, than which we need no other, for the coat worn throughout a long number of years; it changed little with the times, whether puffed, padded, slashed, or embroidered, it is the doublet all the same, and remained in vogue till the Puritans robbed it of all its grace, and left it without lace or embroidery, as ugly a garment as one could possibly find.

Passing over that period, hereinbefore mentioned when Lely and Kneller are supposed to have supplied the costumes, we reach the square-cut coats, with ample skirts, the flapped waistcoats and the knee-breeches, which were the fore-runners of that exquisitely gorgeous dress worn by gentlemen in the reign of George II, which, however, was so soon to pass into the double-breasted coat, with the high velvet collar, and then the swallow-tail coat of the latter years of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth centuries.

Another very important point in the consideration of costume, and one on which a good deal of stress has been laid by the compiler in the description of each picture, is the kind of scarf, collar, or throat covering, worn by the sitter. It may be said in style and fashion to commence with the small puckered muslin collar in vogue about the middle of the sixteenth century, which soon after developed into the ruff, and then again declined to the ruff collar, sometimes described as the falling ruff, this in its turn expanding into that very large collar in use during the latter years of James I and the earlier portion of the reign of Charles I, more often than not tied beneath the chin, and from the strings of which were suspended very ornamental tassels. This latter very ornate shoulder-covering gave place to the linen collar of Puritanism. After the Restoration there is a change, brought doubtless with the wig by Charles II from France. It is the adoption once more of lace in the ornamentation of the scarf or throat covering, at first two wide pieces of lace, joined down the middle, are visible in front under the chin, then these ends are formed into the shape of a fan; after which the lace is used simply on the ends of the scarf, only to disappear once more, and leave a simple cravat with the ends crossed over, and hanging down. After this no more cravat, only the full shirt, with tight band round the throat, together with a simple frill in front, succeeded by the white collar and the ordinary stock so well known.

All this was certainly a gradual evolution, and it would be impossible to state exactly the date when the fashion changed, but if the wearing of the hair or the shape of the wig be taken into consideration, with other details of the costume, there is no doubt but that one can give authoritatively an approximate date to a portrait, which shall be within a few years of the exact period when the picture was painted.

In the costume of the lady there is not quite so much scope for identifying the approximate year when a portrait was painted, because the wig is wanting; however, here a certain amount of evolution can be noticed, and it has been recorded in the various descriptions of the ladies portrayed.

Elizabethan costume is not difficult to distinguish from any other period; for there is always the ruff, and the lady is more often than not very gorgeously attired, so much so that in many cases portraits of this date hanging in country houses have been erroneously said to represent the virgin Queen.

In the latter years of James I, and in the earlier years of Charles I, we find the same large collar as worn by the gentlemen of the period, only very often it is composed entirely of lace. Examples of this costume may be seen illustrated in the book, as the work of Cornelis Janssens, about 1625.

Not till about the middle of the seventeenth century does any very great difficulty arise in deciding the date of the female costume, and this may be owing to the introduction of the so-called "fancy dress and conventional costume" of Lely and Kneller; any how a peculiar mode of dressing the hair started by Henrietta Maria, Queen of Charles I, seems to have remained in fashion till after the restoration, nor was there much alteration till the ladies of the Court of Charles II about 1670 adopted a style which may always be seen in the portraits of the King's favourite, Nell Gwyn. During all these years the bodice of the dress, which was tight to the figure, was cut very low, and very round.

About 1690 commences a period, extending over a long time, when the hair is again dressed close to the head, only high on the top with long curls apparent on one or both sides, the ends thereof resting on the shoulder; with this we have the appearance of the chemisette, sometimes only in the form of a tucker, with a loose bodice passing over the shoulders, and forming in front, where it is open, a shape like a letter V; the sleeves are loose, extend to the elbow, and have similar white ones, equally loose below. Of this period Kneller and his school, succeeded by Michael Dahl are the chief representatives, and without some little knowledge of their artistic manipulation, it would be most difficult accurately to date the portraits of those years.

About 1740, with the hair and sleeves remaining as before described, we find a tight, long, and sometimes pointed bodice to the ladies' dress with very full skirts. Of this period Hudson, Highmore, and Heins are the chief exponents in East Anglia; very many of their pictures are dated, thus substantiating this decided alteration in the costume.

From thence onwards there is little more concerning ladies' dress which need be specified. About 1770 we have the advent of that great artistic school, represented by Reynolds, Gainsborough, Romney, and other artists almost as good, which marks a period so well known, and so much written about, that no comments are needed here. West Suffolk is fortunate enough to have examples of all the artists of this school; some of which are illustrated in the book.

The closing years of the eighteenth century brought in a fashion so utterly and entirely different from any in vogue before, a word or two on the matter will not be out of place. It is the introduction of that exquisitely simple short-waisted bodice, with full sleeves and straight skirt, the hair being dressed, in its natural state, on the very top of the head. Portraits of this period by Hoppner, and other artists not so well known, are recorded in the list. This style brought to a conclusion all the grace and beauty of female attire; since then, until quite recent years, a lady could not be portrayed in a costume, unless "fancy and conventional," which would give the artist a chance of producing a picture fit to be seen.

It is considered advisable, and by some people absolutely necessary, for any list of portraits to be complete, that it must be accompanied by a statement of the exact size of the panel or canvas on which the picture is painted. To do this for every one of the hundreds of portraits hanging in Suffolk houses is a task which the compiler of this work would not care to undertake, even if in every case it were allowed to be done; indeed, of many it would be impossible, suspended as they are far beyond the reach of steps or ladders; and unless the size given is absolutely accurate, it fails in its intention of being an unerring guide to the identity of any picture which has strayed from its original home.

Five standards have been adopted :

V.L. Pictures of a very large size, as a rule full-length portraits and gallery pictures, approximately 84 by 42 inches.

L. Pictures of a large size, as a rule three-quarter length figures, though some of them are oblong in shape, approximately 50 by 38 inches.

M. Pictures of medium size, usually half-length figures, or those represented only by the head and shoulders—oftentimes called the bust—approximately 28 by 24 inches.

S. Small pictures, approximately 16 by 10 inches, and of any size between this and miniatures.

Min. All miniatures of whatsoever size and shape, such, however, being oval, unless otherwise described.

One other term used throughout the book needs a little explanation. It is that of "false frame," this being the oval framework round the portrait or the canvas, sometimes only a line, sometimes quite plain, and sometimes composed of shell-work, fruit, and flowers. This was much used by artists during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

We have now reached one of the most important matters connected with this or any similar work. It is that of the indexes; for surely to know or believe that anything is recorded in a book and not to be able to find it is one of the most aggravating of experiences known to lovers of research. The compiler has endeavoured to obviate this by producing indexes in which any house, owner, portrait, or artist ought to be immediately discovered.

In the Index of Portraits the name of each sitter portrayed is given under any and every appellation by which such a person could be known: if a lady, under the maiden as well as the married name; if the holder of a title, under that heading as well as under the heading of the family to which he or she must belong.

In the Index of Artists dates are appended which are intended merely as a guide to the period when the artists lived or worked. If but one portrait by any artist is recorded, and on that portrait there should chance to be a date, that is the date printed in the index; should there not be a date on the picture, an approximate one is given, preceded by "c." for "circa." When the artists are well known, and their work extended over a long period, then the dates in the index are those given either in Bryan's "Dictionary of Painters" or "The Dictionary of National Biography," as the dates of birth and death of the artist registered. In many cases, where but little of the artist's biography is known, and there are several productions, then the dates given in the index cover the period during which the portraits were painted. It is hoped that this addition may prove a help, and not a hindrance, to anyone consulting the same. One thing can hardly fail to escape attention—it is the fact that many names of artists are recorded here for the first time, some of them painted locally, and their work is not only interesting but of considerable merit.

Four or five of these artists deserve special notice. Joseph Brook, or Brooks, living at Bury St. Edmunds, painted some time during the closing years of the seventeenth century, and for the first quarter of the eighteenth century. Not one of his pictures is dated, nor are any absolutely signed; specimens of his work, however, are fairly numerous in this western division of the county, and the same are of very unequal merit.

A picture dated 1694 is signed "P. A. Dinant," and it is very characteristic of many portraits of the same school of painting throughout East Anglia.

A hitherto absolutely unknown artist has come to light in the person of William Johnson, whose portrait, painted by himself, is in the possession of the compiler, and illustrated in this volume. His pictures show great talent, but as he apparently lived in East Suffolk, and for the most part worked there, further details concerning his productions will be reserved for a future volume dealing only with that portion of the county. Three pictures recorded in this list are either signed by, or ascribed to, "G. K. Ralph," who seems to have lived in, or somewhere around, Bury St. Edmunds during the last quarter of the eighteenth century. Two pictures by him are illustrated to face page 308.

There is yet one more name which may be singled out, the name of Walton, concerning which somewhat may be here recorded. One of that name, Henry Walton, mentioned in Bryan's "Dictionary of Painters," was born about 1720, and died about 1790; save that he exhibited at the Society of Artists and the Royal Academy, little is known concerning him. A few examples of portraits by him are hanging in Suffolk houses, and they are exactly similar in style to that of Gibbon, the historian, in the National Portrait Gallery. It is more than probable, and later on the fact may be proved, that Henry Walton lived and painted at Burgate, a little village in Suffolk, not far from Diss.

Another one of the same name, who signs his pictures "Walton, Burgate," certainly lived and worked in a farmhouse adjoining the main road about 1810, and it is to this man, I think, must be attributed the portrait of Lord Lansdowne, said to have been painted by Henry Walton in 1806, hanging also in the National Portrait Gallery. Yet one more of the name is known in Suffolk, but whether a relation or not is undetermined, John Whitehead Walton, who in 1840 exhibited in London, painted several portraits of the well-known families around Bury St. Edmunds, and a few in other parts of the county.

At the end of the volume certain collections of pictures have been recorded and described which are not at the present time in West Suffolk, and for this a reason must be assigned. The fact is that all the details concerning the same were collected, many of the portraits also photographed and engraved, when the scheme was to include, in one volume, everything of the kind in any way connected with the western side of the county, whether in their original homes or not. This was not found to be possible, therefore the scope and design of the work was much altered and enlarged; however, it was not thought advisable, or appreciative of the kindness of those who helped to originate the scheme, to leave out of this volume the beautiful illustrations so liberally provided by the owners, or matter which after all is very intimately associated with the history of this portion of the county.

In conclusion, grateful thanks must be tendered not only to the owners of the portraits, who have one and all been unfailing in their endeavours to co-operate with the compiler in producing this volume, and who have rendered the task to him an easy and agreeable one; but to those also who have supplied the accompanying illustrations, without which the book would be dull indeed.

The compiler can only hope that in this volume some facts concerning the portraits in the houses of Suffolk, have been rescued from oblivion, and that others may be tempted to undertake a similar survey elsewhere.

In sham oval frame, which is of similar design to that of Sir William Cooke's picture. M.

Jane, daughter of William Steward of Barton Mills. She died in 1698, aged sixty-three, as is recorded on the tablet in Cranworth church, Norfolk.

10. ROBERT DEVEREUX, 2ND EARL OF ESSEX. H. and S. Full face, dark hair, with reddish beard and moustache. Dress: black doublet, white muslin ruff, ribbon of Garter round the neck. Shield of arms in sinister top corner, having thereon "Devereux," encircled with the Garter, and ensigned with an earl's coronet. M. c. 1580.

Robert Devereux, eldest son of William Devereux, 2nd Viscount Hereford, 1st Earl of Essex, by his wife Lettice, daughter of Sir Francis Knolles, K.G., succeeded his father 1576. K.G., Master of the Horse, Earl Marshal of England, favourite of Queen Elizabeth. Executed 25th February, 1600. See D. N. B., xiv, 425.

11. BRAMPTON GURDON. H. and S. Full face, fair hair, moustache, and square-cut beard. Dress: black doublet and cloak over shoulders—the former just edged with gold at waist, and small ruff round the neck—on it "Ano 1626. æt 60." In sham oval. M.

Brampton Gurdon, son of John Gurdon of Assington, by Amy his wife, sole daughter and heir of William Brampton, of Letton, co. Norfolk; born about 1566. High Sheriff for Suffolk, 1628; M.P. for Sudbury, 1620. He married, first, Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Barrett, of Belhouse, co. Essex; and, secondly, Muriel, daughter of Martin Sedley, of Morley, co. Norfolk. His will was proved 16th May, 1650.

12. HON. MRS. BRAMPTON GURDON. H.L. Seated, body full, face turned slightly to the sinister, red cap with white lace on the head. Dress: black, lace round the neck; the red back of chair visible. M. By S. Sidley.

Henrietta Susannah, eldest daughter and co-heir of Nicholas William, Lord Colbourne, married 12th August, 1828, to Brampton Gurdon, of Letton, M.P. for West Norfolk. She died 1880. She was mother to Sir William Brampton Gurdon, K.C.M.G., C.B., M.P., present owner of Assington Hall.

It is probably Elizabeth Gurdon, daughter of Nathaniel Gurdon, of Assington, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of John Sayer, of Stowmarket. She was born 1725, inherited from her father, but died before her mother, her will being proved in 1781.

14. JOHN GURDON. H.L. Body and face both full, short brown hair, small moustache and pointed beard. Dress: black doublet, muslin and lace ruff collar, cloak thrown over shoulders, a gold chain of four rows round neck; right hand forward, holding gloves; left hand placed just above the gold hilt of the sword. Shield of arms, in the dexter top corner "Gurdon," with motto "Virtus viget in arduis"; also "Ano Dom. 1590. æ suæ 54."

John Gurdon, son of Robert Gurdon, by his wife Rose, daughter of Robert Sexton; married Amy, daughter and sole heir of William Brampton of Letton, co. Norfolk. High Sheriff of Suffolk, 1584. Will proved 10th October, 1623.

15. MRS. JOHN GURDON. H.L. Body and face both full, hair dressed upwards and round the face; a black headdress above, trimmed with gold ornaments and pearls. Dress: white brocade, with a black over-bodice and skirt, the two latter trimmed with gold embroidery; a white ruff collar round the neck, as also a gold chain, caught up; muslin cuffs, with gold bracelets on either wrist, having the arms of Gurdon on the one, and Brampton on the other, the hands of the figure are crossed in front. Brampton arms in a lozenge at top dexter corner, and "A.D. 1590. æ suæ 44." M.

Amy, daughter and heir of William Brampton, of Letton, co. Norfolk, wife of John Gurdon, of Assington. She made her will on 5th May, 1567, which was made void 1572.

16. JOHN GURDON, M.P.? H. and S. Full face, white hair, also short white beard and small moustache, black skull cap on his head. Dress: black, with square-bottomed white muslin collar, having two small tassels below; red curtain behind. M. c. 1645.

It is probably John Gurdon, son of Brampton Gurdon, of Assington, and his first wife, Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Edward Barrett, of Belhouse in Aveley, co. Essex. He married Ann, daughter of Sir Calthrop Parker. He was M.P. for Ipswich in the Long Parliament, and afterwards for Suffolk, Elizabeth, fifth daughter of Paul d'Ewes of Stowlangtoft; born 23rd January, 1617; married, as his second wife, Sir William Poley, Knt., of Boxted. Buried at Boxted 5th April, 1698.

at the knee, black shoes. There is an oak table on the dexter side of the picture with a cloth on it. L. On it, in recent lettering, "Sir John Poley K^t son and heir of William Poley and Alice Shaa, Nat temp Hen. 8 ob. Dec. 17 1587."

John, son and heir of William Poley, of Boxted, by Alice his wife, daughter and sole heir of Edmund Shaa, of Horndon. He died in Flanders.

18. SIR JOHN POLEY, KNT., OF WRONGEY. H. and S. Body and face both turned very slightly to the dexter, short curly hair. Dress: doublet of a light colour just slashed all over to show the lining through it; a red bow on right shoulder, and a black bow on the left; neck armour, with a collar over it edged with lace. In small oval. S. On canvas. On it: "Vnum teget omnia cœlum, ætatis. xx. Anno 1587." On frame: "Sir John Poley born 1567. died Dec. 3. 1638. of Wrongey in Norf." There is a great deal written on back of picture. See No. 19.

John, second son of Thomas Poley, of Wrongey (Wormegay), in Norfolk, a younger brother of William Poley, of Boxted, who married Alice Shaa. He married Abigail Wix. He died 1638, aged eighty, and was buried at Boxted.

19. SIR JOHN POLEY, KNT., OF WRONGEY. A similar picture to the last, and in all probability the original of it. It is on panel, and has the same inscription and writing at the back. S. Oval. See No. 18.

N.B.—The features are very different.

John, third (but second surviving) son of Sir William Poley, of Boxted, by Anne his wife, second daughter of Sir Robert Jermyn of Rushbrooke, baptized at Rushbrooke, 6th November, 1603; married at Rougham, 21st April, 1653, Catherine, daughter and co-heir of Dr. Jasper Despotine, of Bury. He died 9th November, 1664, and was buried at Boxted.

21. SIR JOHN POLEY, KNT. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, a long curly wig, but parted in the middle. Dress: brown robe, white cravat. M. On it, in recent letters, "Sr John Poley, of Boxted, son of Sir Wm. Poley and Eliz. D'Ewes, married Eliz. daughter of Geo. Walton (Walden) Esq of Little Burstled, Essex, nat. 1637, ob. 1705."

John, son of Sir William Poley, Knight, by his second wife, Elizabeth, fifth daughter of Paul d'Ewes, of Stowlangtoft; baptized at Boxted, 22nd January, 1637, married first, Elizabeth, daughter of George Walton (Walden), of Burstled; second, Bridget, daughter of Richard Samms, of Little Totham, and widow of Thomas Roberts, of Braxstead, Essex; and third, Dorothy, daughter of Sir Henry Felton, of Playford, Bart., widow of Maurice Claxton, of Livermere, Suffolk. He was baptized 22nd January, 1637. M.P. for Sudbury, 1688. Died 13th September, 1705.

22. JOHN POLEY. H. and S. Full face, body turned to the dexter, very large curly brown wig. Dress: purple robe, turnover cravat or scarf. Oval. On it, in recent lettering, "John Poley, Esq., son of Sr John Poley and Eliz. daughter of Geo. Walton of Little Burstled, Essex, nat. 1676, ob. 1757."

John, son of Sir John Poley, Knight, of Boxted, by Elizabeth his first wife, daughter of George Walton (Walden), of Little Burstled, Essex. He was baptized at Boxted, 29th July, 1676; buried there, 14th September, 1757, s.p.

Richard Poley, youngest son of Richard Poley, of Boxted, by Anne, his wife, daughter of Sir William Clopton; baptized at Boxted, 1546. He married a daughter of Judge Morgan, and was buried at Boxted, 14th September, 1611.

N.B.—This picture was recently named "John Poley," who was baptized at Boxted 27th September, 1539, buried there 1580. The date as given above, in ancient lettering below the glaze, will not agree with this name. The date above, "1601, aged 58," also agrees with that of Sir Robert Jermy, the husband of No. 9.

24. SIR WILLIAM POLEY, KNT. H. and S. Full face, reddish hair, moustache and beard. Dress: black doublet with lace collar, edged with a finer narrow lace; there are no tassels in front of the collar. S. On panel. At bottom sinister corner, in recent lettering, "S^r William Poley, 2nd son of William Poley, Esq., and Alice, daughter of Edmund Shaa, Esq., of Rochford, Essex, married Ann, daughter of Sir Rob^t Jermin, of Rushbrooke, Suffolk, ob. 1629."

William, second son of William Poley, of Boxted, by Alice his wife, daughter and sole heir of Edmund Shaa, of Horndon-at-ye-Hill, in co. Essex; baptized 23rd December, 1562; married at Rushbrooke, 20th September, 1597, to Ann, second daughter of Sir Robert Jermyn, Knt., of Rushbrooke. He was M.P. for Sudbury, 1623 and 1628. Died 5th August, 1629.

25. SIR WILLIAM POLEY, KNT. H. and S. Body and face both full, dark hair, a ruff collar round his neck, edged with lace. Dress: a dark coloured doublet. On panel. S. At top sinister corner, "S^r Will^m Poley," in original lettering. At bottom sinister corner, in recent lettering, "S^r William Polēy son of Sir W^m Poley and Ann Jermin, married Eliz. daughter of Paul D'Ewes Esq. of Stow Hall, Suffolk, ob. 1664."

William, second son, but eventually heir, of Sir William Poley, Knt., of Boxted, by Anne, his second wife, daughter of Sir Robert Jermyn, Knt., of Rushbrooke; baptized at Rushbrooke, 15th August, 1602; married first, Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Sir Henry Arden, Knt., of Warwickshire; and second, Elizabeth, fifth daughter of Paul d'Ewes, of Stowlangtoft. He died 17th May, 1664.

26. . . . POLEY. H. and S. Lady. Body and face full, little curls on the forehead and on either side of face, a diamond ornament on left side of the head, a row of large pearls round the throat, and pear-shaped pearl earrings. Dress: black, cut low; white lace collar of an under bodice is turned over and fastened in front with a double-diamond star, similar ornaments all down the front of dress, and tied together with little yellow sarsnet bows; an old gold scarf over right shoulder. In sham oval. M.

N.B.—This picture certainly represents a daughter of No. 12. It might be Miss Mary Poley, baptized 1616.

27. ROBERT WELLER. T.Q.L. Body turned to the sinister, face full, powdered wig to shoulder, straight and curled. Dress: brown coat, with white scarf and shirt cuffs. An open book is on the sinister side of the picture, held by the left hand of figure, the right hand by the side. Column behind. L. On it, in recent lettering, "Robert Weller, of Tonbridge, in Kent, married Eliz. daughter of Thomas, second son of Sir Wm. Poley, of Boxsted nat. 1676 ob. 1751."

28. MRS. ROBERT WELLER. H.L. Full face. Dress: white bodice cut low, white tucker over it; a red robe-like dress with lappet sleeves, fastened on the left shoulder with a jewel, showing the white under sleeves very loose; a blue robe is over right shoulder, passes behind and appears on the other side; the right arm and hand rest on a pedestal, the left hand reaches forward with flowers; scenery on the dexter side behind. M. On it, in recent lettering, "... Daughter of Tho. Poley, 2nd son of Sir ... Poley of Boxted, and Frances his wife, daughter of S^r Rich^d ... of Rochester, Bart., wife of Robt Weller Esq of ... bridge, Kent, nat. 1681 ob. 1761." This picture must have been reframed since lettering. M. The lady is young.

Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Poley, by Frances his wife, daughter of Sir Richard Head, of Rochester, Bart.; born 2nd December, 1681; married Robert Weller, of Tonbridge in Kent. He died 13th May, 1761.

29. GEORGE WELLER-POLEY. T.Q.L. Full face, clean shaven, body turned slightly to the dexter, powdered wig to shoulders, rows of curls behind. Dress: brown coat with gold braid and buttons in front, long white waistcoat trimmed with gold braid; a white turnover scarf, muslin ruffs; papers on a table on the dexter side of the picture, the figure is holding a paper with both hands, which is apparently a letter, addressed: "S^t — Lorenzo, Sep. 1747," etc., etc., and relates to a sum of £2,000. L.

George, son of Robert Weller, of Tonbridge, Kent, by Elizabeth his wife, eldest daughter of Thomas Poley; born 30th May, 1710; married Frances, daughter of Thomas Hussey, of Burwash, co. Sussex. He died 29th December, 1778, and is buried at Boxted.

30. GEORGE WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Body full, face turned very slightly to the dexter, black hair and whiskers. Dress: black coat, white collar and cravat. M. See No. 31.

George Weller, son of Rev. John Weller-Poley of Boxted by Jane his wife, daughter of John Blatch Whaley; born 1st November, 1783; married 8th March, 1808, to Helen Sophia, daughter of James Fisher, of Browston Hall, Suffolk. He died 5th November, 1849, aged sixty-six.

31. GEORGE WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Full face, dark hair, with coloured cheeks, dark whiskers. Dress: black coat, buff waistcoat, white stock. M. It is said to be by John Opie. See No. 30.

32. MRS. GEORGE WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the sinister, body full, dark hair in curls on top of head. Dress: white, cut low, an ornament at breast in front, pale orange-red scarf thrown off; she wears earrings. M.

Helen Sophia, daughter of James Fisher, of Browston Hall, Suffolk; married 8th March, 1808, to George Weller-Poley, of Boxted. She died 20th October, 1860.

33. MISS HELEN SOPHIA WELLER-POLEY. T.Q.L. Body turned to the dexter, face very nearly full, dark hair dressed on either side of the face, with pink azaleas on both sides. Dress: gray, cut low, white tucker, a lace coat over all, fastened on the breast with a brooch, the right hand touches the same, the left down; a table with a red cloth on dexter side of portrait, having on it a cornucopia vase with flowers in it; bracelets on either wrist. A pair to No. 4. M. Water-colour. By Negelon.

Helen Sophia, daughter of George Weller-Poley, of Boxted, by Helen Sophia, his wife. Died unmarried in 1882.

34. MRS. JOHN WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Face nearly full, body turned slightly to the sinister; a white cap on the head and muslin cape on the shoulders. Dress: gray. Min. The lady is aged.

Jane, daughter of John Blatch Whaley, of Colchester; married 1st February, 1783, Rev. John Weller-Poley, of Boxted. She died in 1833.

35. REV. WILLIAM WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Body slightly turned to the sinister, full face, clean shaven; gray hair, with very short gray whiskers. Dress: black coat and waistcoat, white collar and cravat. M.

William Weller, youngest son of George Weller Poley by his wife, Frances, daughter of Thomas Hussey, of Burwash, Sussex; born 12th August, 1765. He lived at Hartest, and died a bachelor, 15th February, 1837, aged seventy-two.

36. THOMAS WELLER-POLEY AND JOHN GEORGE WELLER-POLEY. F.L. Two young children. The one on the dexter side seated in a child's chair, full faced, dressed in white with pink trimmings; the one on the sinister side standing; dark hair, dressed in blue. Red curtain behind; lots of books and toys scattered about below. L.

Thomas, younger son, and John George, elder son of John George Weller-Poley, of Boxted, by Diana his wife, youngest daughter of Thomas Halifax, of Chadacre Hall, Shimpling, Suffolk. Thomas was born 8th November, 1850; and married, 1878, Eleanor Mary, only child of John James Johnson, Esq., of West Broyle, Sussex. John George, born 25th May, 1849, succeeded to Boxted in 1869. High Sheriff, 1883; and married 19th June, 1900, to Ethel, daughter of the late Rev. Stenning Johnson, of Itchenor, Sussex.

37. WELLER-POLEY. H. and S. Man. Body turned to the dexter, face but slightly so; clean shaven, powdered wig, one turn up round the head. Dress: coat of soft red colour, canary waistcoat, fur trimming to the coat, white lace frill and cravat tight round throat. M. Probably by T. Gainsborough.

This picture represents one of the three sons of George Weller-Poley, of Boxted, by Frances his wife, daughter of Thomas Hussey, of Burwash, Sussex. It is either Robert, who died 1756; George, who died 1780; or John, who died 1799.

38. MAN. H. and S. Body nearly full, face turned quite sinister, clean shaven; black cap on head. Dress: black doublet, a little white collar. S. By Holbein? On panel. It came to Boxted with the Wellers from Tonbridge. It is c. 1530.

N.B.—This is said to represent "Lord Bergavenny." If so, it represents George Nevill, Lord Bergavenny, K.G. To him the King granted the castle and lands of Abergavenny, he being the representative, through his grandmother, of the Beauchamps. His will was dated 1535. His son and heir was not summoned to Parliament till 1551, and if Holbein painted this picture, it was prior to 1543, when he died.

N.B.—These arms have been submitted to one of the Heralds at the College of Arms, and are unknown there. It seems very extraordinary that a portrait with so much about it, to aid the identification, should have to be classed among the unknown ones.

40. MAN. H.L. Full face, gray moustache and long beard, almost square below, a black cap on the head. Dress: black doublet, with gold buttons, high shoulder pieces, and very high collar behind the neck, small white frilled linen collar round the throat, small and similar cuffs; a white wand is held in the right hand, and the George of the Garter is suspended round the neck. M. On panel. c. 1580, aged about sixty.

41. LADY. H.L. Full face, hair dressed back from forehead; an upright muslin and lace headdress on top of head. Dress: dark colour, jewelled all over, high shoulder pieces, fur-tippet over, muslin ruff round the throat; the right hand is forward, holding red book, a ring is on forefinger, three rows of coral beads round right wrist, and a large chain passing across the front of the waist. M. In sham oval. c. 1610.
42. BOY. T.Q.L. Full face, fair hair. Dress: a leather doublet and pantaloons, white linen collar, with a red leather band round the waist; the right hand rests on this band by the side, and the other hand grasps it; short linen cuffs turned back, buttons all down the front of doublet. M. On panel. c. 1610.
43. LITTLE CHILD. F.L. Full face, fair hair, dressed up off the head, cut short. Dress: black, full skirt, white ruff collar edged with lace, and white lawn cuffs, turned back, edged with similar lace; a black hat is held in left hand, the hand itself, turned back, resting on the child's hip; the right hand is downwards; a little black and white dog, on the dexter side of the picture, below. L. On it, in ancient lettering, "Ætā 5 . 1616." On three panels.
44. MAN. H.L. Body turned to the sinister, face but slightly so; short fair hair, little moustache and beard. Dress: black doublet, white muslin ruff; in the right hand, which is forward, is a piece of vine with leaves. In sham oval. M. Panel. On it "ætatis suæ . 26 . An . 1613."
45. YOUNG LADY. H. and S. Fair hair, hat on the head. Dress: striped red and gold, cut low with tucker; red corals round the neck. S. On panel.
N.B.—These pictures, Nos. 45, 46, 47, 48, and 49, represent probably five sisters. The date is c. 1620. There is not much difference in age between them. It might be fancy dress at a later period.
46. YOUNG LADY. H. and S. Dark hair, very much puffed out on either side of head, pearls on the top, curls on the forehead. Dress: an enormous double ruff lace collar over an under-bodice of stripes, with a black overcoat; pearls round the neck and large pearl earrings. S. On panel.

47. YOUNG LADY. H. and S. Full face, fair hair; five ornaments, rising from top of the head, three tall, with two short ones in between, and a similar ornament behind. Dress: a lace cape over the shoulders, edged with fine lace, fastened tight round the neck. S. On panel.
48. YOUNG LADY. H. and S. Body full, but face looking downwards and to the dexter, fair hair. Dress: white, cut low and V shape, black hood on the head; and four black ribbons round the throat, the hood is suspended on the right side of the face by right hand. S. On panel.
49. YOUNG LADY. H. and S. Body full, face slightly inclined to the sinister, fair hair, a blue cap, with silver trimming, on the head, and a single bird's feather stuck in front, below which is a pearl suspended. Dress: white, lace tucker, blue shoulder straps on each shoulder, with gold fastenings in stripes on either side; pearl earrings. S. On panel.
50. LITTLE GIRL. F.L. Full face, fair hair, a small insertion of lace worked into the hair, the front lock passing over it. Dress: red, with lace collar and cuffs, similar to that on head, the dress has stripes of white down the front and on the top, and is very full in the skirt. The child has a battledore in right hand, and a shuttlecock in the left. M. At top sinister corner "1623."
51. MAN. H.L. Full face, body turned slightly to the sinister; gray hair, moustache, and small beard; a little black skull cap on the head. Dress: black doublet, a narrow white linen collar with two tassels below. M. Panel. On it "Ætatis. 64." and signed "Js. cüyp. fec. 1649."
N.B.—This picture is very Dutch.
52. MAN. H. and S. Full face, very large long curly black wig. Dress: red robe, lined with pale green, white turnover scarf round the neck. In oval. M. c. 1680; a young man, probably by Sir Godfrey Kneller.
53. LADY. . and S. Full face. Dress: a widow's costume, black, with a black hood over head, curls of hair apparent over the forehead, and not gray. On it "Ano Dom. 1685. ætatis suae 80."
54. LADY. H.L. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister, fair hair, curls on either shoulder. Dress: blue, open V-shape in front, showing white underbodice; the dress is lined with pale mauve satin, under-sleeves of white apparent to elbow; the right hand crosses figure, touching front of dress; the left hand is forward, holding snuff box. M. c. 1710, aged about thirty-five.

55. MAN. H.L. Full face, white wig resting on the shoulders. Dress: red coat, white turnover tie, and white shirt apparent at wrists; the right hand and arm rest on a table. M. c. 1720-1730. Aged about twenty-five.
56. LADY. H. and S. Full face, dark hair. Dress: blue, cut square, trimmed with lace. Min. Before 1750. Aged about twenty-five.
57. LADY. H. and S. Body and face both full, fair hair; black ribbon on the top of the head and round the throat. Dress: blue, cut square and trimmed with lace. Min. c. 1760. Under thirty years of age.
58. MAN. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, but face very nearly full, clean shaven; white wig with curls. Dress: brown coat, red waistcoat, edged with gold braid; white lace on cravat. Min. c. 1760. Aged sixty.
59. AGED MAN. H. and S. Face turned to the sinister, large white wig. Dress: dark red coat. Min. c. 1770.
60. GIRL. F.L. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full. Dress: a rich brocaded red dress and train, with a white front skirt; her right hand and arm rest on a large flower vase, the left reaching up to it; a little black and white dog at bottom dexter corner of the picture, looks up at the child; a parquet floor in front, scenery on the sinister side behind. L. It is said to be by Thomas Gainsborough.
N.B.—This picture was purchased in recent years.
61. MAN. H. and S. Full face, short white wig, with one turn of it upwards, clean shaven. Dress: in uniform of East Essex Volunteers, red with green facings, green waistcoat, white frill. Min. c. 1780. Aged about twenty.
62. AGED LADY. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, face only slightly so, white cap trimmed with black round the head and tied beneath the chin. Dress: black, with white muslin under-bodice. Min. c. 1780. Aged sixty. It is a pair with No. 61.
63. YOUNG MAN. H. and S. Clean shaven, white wig. Dress: blue coat, red waistcoat embroidered with gold, and white shirt. Min. c. 1780. Aged about twenty-three.

64. LADY. H. and S. Full face, curly powdered hair. Dress: white, short-waisted bodice, small gold chain round the neck, and a high white collar behind. Min. c. 1790. Aged about twenty-five. Possibly by R. Cosway.
65. MAN. H. and S. Body turned slightly to the dexter, face nearly full, clean shaven, hair powdered. Dress: blue, double-breasted coat, white cravat. Min. Possibly by R. Cosway or G. Engleheart. c. 1795. Aged about forty.

I.

Ann, daughter of Henry Polsted, of London, merchant, second wife of Thomas Barnardiston, of Kedington. He died 14th May, 1681, aged eighty-eight. Her death is not recorded on the tablet at Kedington.

N.B.—Prince Frederick Duleep Singh informs me that a similar portrait in miniature, of Mary Polsted, her sister, who married Brampton Gurdon, M.P. for Ipswich 1640-1654, was at Letton Hall, Norfolk.

2. MRS. THOMAS BARNARDISTON. H. and S. Full face. Dress: pale-coloured satin, cut low, showing white tucker, the whole looped up artistically here and there with ornaments. On the picture: "My. Daught^r to S^r George Downing Bart., wife of Thos. Barnardiston, Esq^r., 1720." In sham oval. M.

Mary, daughter of Sir George Downing Bart., by Frances, his wife, daughter of Sir William Howard, Knt., of Naworth Castle; she married Thomas, son of Thomas Barnardiston, a merchant of London, by his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of John Clarke, M.P. for Bury.

3. THE HON. LADY BARNARDISTON. T.Q.L. Full face. Dress: blue, cut low, tucker white and interlaced with pearls, one string of pearls round the throat, sleeves to the elbow, very full, white showing beneath, and held up with a jewel brooch, a similar one being in the middle of the front of the dress; brown robe over left shoulder and right arm; the right hand crosses the picture and holds a rose, the left hand plucking another from off a bush. On the dexter side is a column, on the sinister side scenery above; and below what seems a table, on it, "THE HON^{BLE} LADY BARNARDISTON." L. c. 1670-1680.

This may be Elizabeth, daughter and heir of Sir Robert King, by Sophia, widow of Viscount Wimbledon, and daughter of Sir Edward Zouch, Knt., of Woking, in Surrey, wife of Sir Thomas Barnardiston, of Kedington. She died in 1707. Of her many children, one, Thomas, succeeded as the 4th Bart., and another son, Samuel, as the 5th Bart.

N.B.—The portrait of Sir Samuel Barnardiston was previously at Brent Eleigh.

4. EDWARD CHESTER. H.L. Full face, hair short and just pointed over the forehead, wearing moustache and pointed beard, ruff of muslin edged with lace round the neck, and small cuffs of same material. Dress: to represent the armour of the period, edged and adorned with red, and studded with gold buttons to represent knobs; the right hand of the figure rests on the side, and there is a small ring on the little finger. There is a shield of arms, with crest and mantling in the top sinister corner. "Ermine on a chief sable, a griffin passant argent." Chester, co. Herts. Crest. A griffin passant, argent, Chester, and these words: "ætatis suæ 29, 1573." M. On panel.

Edward, eldest son of Sir Robert Chester, one of the gentlemen of the Privy Chamber to King Henry VIII, knighted in 1552, by his first wife, Catherine, the daughter of Christopher Throckmorton, of Coorse Court, in Gloucestershire. He was stated to be thirty years of age by an inquisition taken at Royston, 6th April, 1575. He married, 16th October, 1564, Katherine, daughter and heir of Sir James Granado, Equerry to Henry VIII, daughter of his father's second wife, who was the widow of the same Sir James.

This Edward Colman must be the son of Edward Colman of Brent Eleigh, who died 1651, aged fifty-eight, and his wife, Dionesse, daughter of Richard Hale, who died 1691, in the eighty-eighth year of her age. Edward Colman married Jane, daughter of John Chace. He must have been forty-seven when this portrait was painted by Mr. Verelst.

RICHARD COLMAN 1683
BRENT ELEIGH HALL No. 8

N.B.—The artist came over from Antwerp to England in that year. He usually painted flowers; however, he taught his daughter to paint portraits, and here we have an example of his own work.

6. MRS. EDWARD COLMAN. H.L. Full face, hair very high and curled. Dress: two shades of brown, cut low, tucker and sleeves white, the latter to the elbow; a blue robe over her right shoulder; the left hand only appears, crossing the picture, and supporting the robe. Red curtain on dexter side, and scenery on the sinister side of the picture above. In oval. L. On the picture is this: "Jane daugh^r to Jⁿ Chase. Esq. wife of Edward Colman Esq^r H. Verelst 1683."

Jane, wife of Edward Colman, and daughter of John Chace. She died in London 31st October, 1684, in the forty-eighth year of her age.

N.B.—She too must have been forty-seven when her portrait was painted by Mr. Verelst.

7. RICHARD COLMAN. H. and S. Face turned very slightly to the sinister, curly hair. Dress: black, white collar with two lappets like bands, having square ends in front; set in a sham frame. M. On the picture these words: "Rth Colman. Councill at Law. 1662. F. Vandyke."

From the Brent Eleigh Registers. See "Dr Howard's Miscellanea," vol. i, Second Series, p. 350, "Richard Colman Esq. Consellour at Law, patron of, and good benefactor to this church was buried October ye 29 1672. with general lamentation aged 40 years." He was son of Robert Colman, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Robert Mott, of Colchester. From the memorial he appears to have been the heir of Edward Colman and Dionesse his wife (see No. 5), and he died at Salisbury. He was thirty years old when the portrait was painted. Sir Anthony Van Dyck died in 1641.

8. RICHARD COLMAN. H.L. Face turned very slightly to the dexter, with a brown curly wig. Dress: loose brown coat fastened in front with three brooches, sleeves turned back at the elbow with red, and fastened with another brooch, white loose shirt-sleeves appear beneath; over all a blue robe, embroidered here and there with gold, brooch on the left shoulder fastens it; the robe passes behind the figure, and in front is supported with the right hand. In oval. L. On the picture is this: "Richard Colman Esq. H. Verelst. 1683."

Richard, nephew (?) of Edward and Jane Colman, son of Richard Colman by Anne his wife, daughter of Edward Hyde, of Hatch. He died 22nd January, 1709, in his forty-sixth year.

9. ROBERT COLMAN. H and S. Face turned very slightly to the sinister, long and curly brown wig. Dress: a red robe lined with a lighter shade, and white scarf tied round the neck loosely, and hanging down in front. M. c. 1690.

This is probably, from the style of costume, Robert, eldest son of Robert Colman, by his wife Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Robert Mott, of Colchester. He married Dionesse, daughter of William Cullum, and died 9th May, 1730, aged seventy-four.

There is another portrait of her at Hardwick, and possibly one was at Wortham Manor, near Diss.

Sarah, one of the daughters and heirs of Jacob Garrard, eldest son of Sir Thomas Garrard, of Langford, Norfolk, by Abigail his wife, daughter of Sir John Holland, Bart., of Quidenham, Norfolk. She married Charles Downing, third son of Sir George Downing, Bart., by Frances his wife, daughter of Sir William Howard, Kt., of Naworth Castle. Her husband died 15th April, 1740.

12. EDWARD GOATE? H. and S. Boy, about seven or eight years of age; full face, bright complexion, brown hair. Dress: blue coat, white collar, and black tie just loosely crossed over. This picture is set in a sham frame. M. c. 1740-1750.

This is probably, as a child, Edward Goate, son of Edward Goate and his wife Mary, daughter of Thomas Barnardiston. He was born about 1740, was once in a regiment of Footguards, and afterwards Colonel of the Suffolk Militia. He died after a few hours' illness at Ipswich, where he was with his regiment on 25th May, 1803, aged sixty-three.

13. MISS GOATE? H. and S. Girl, about twelve or thirteen years of age; full face, lace cap on her head. Dress: straw colour, with lace tucker and pinafore trimmed with lace in front. This picture is set in a sham frame, like No. 12. M. c. 1740-1750. These two children (Nos. 12 and 13) must be brother and sister.

Mary, daughter of Edward Goate, by Mary his wife, daughter of Thomas Barnardiston; married to John Ranby, of Bury St. Edmunds. She was about the same age as her brother, Colonel Edward Goate. She died 3rd January, 1814, having been married forty years. Her husband died on 31st March, 1820, aged seventy-seven.

14. . . . GOATE? H. and S. Man, full face, clean shaven, short wig, powdered. Dress: light blue coat, embroidered with red and gold, slashed at the cuffs, buttons seemingly of gold; the coat is buttoned at the waist only; white shirt, tight round the neck, and showing very slightly at the wrists; right hand crossing the picture, rests on the front of the coat. Dark background. M. c. 1770.

15. MRS. MONTAGU. H. and S. Full face, body turned slightly to the dexter; cap of white on the head, trimmed with white satin ribbon, black ribbon tied round the neck and in front fastened with a bow. Dress: light blue, lace fichu crossed over the shoulders, meeting in front, and fastened with a blue bow, the colour of the dress; two others, one on each sleeve; these latter cease at the elbows. c. 1790. Age about sixty-five. On the picture written: "Mrs. Montagu. by Nathaniel Hone."

Probably Mrs. Elizabeth Montagu, authoress and leader of society; born 1720. Died 1800. To whom the epithet of "blue-stocking" applied. See D. N. B., xxxviii, 240.

16. SOPHIA DOROTHY, QUEEN OF PRUSSIA. H.L. Full face, fair hair. Dress: cut open, but over the shoulders, white bodice underneath with tucker, robe over both shoulders and in front. M. On back, "Sophia Dorothy, Queen of Prussia, by Kneller," with a sort of private mark.

Sophia Dorothy, daughter of George I, King of Great Britain; born 1687; married, 1706, to Frederick William, afterwards King of Prussia. Died 1757.

17. LADY. H and S. Full face, ostrich feathers on the head, ruff round the neck. Dress: cut square over the shoulders, sleeves slashed, white tucker, two brooches below in front. S. Painted in an oval.

N.B.—This may be fancy dress.

18. LADY. H. and S. Face turned to the dexter and looking upwards; auburn hair done in curls, but partly covered behind by blue robe, which passes in front over the right shoulder, and leaves only chemisette over the left shoulder apparent. M.
19. MAN. H. and S. Full face, a white wig, short, and turned up over the ears, bunch behind tied with black. Dress: in uniform, white, with red collar turned down, and lace round the neck in front. Cocked hat beneath left arm. A ribbon of an order, white, edged on both sides with red, passes over right shoulder underneath the coat; an order hangs round his neck also beneath the coat, and two others are suspended on his left breast. M. c. 1780.
N.B.—This is said to be an Austrian uniform, and to represent one of the Archdukes of Austria.
20. MAN. H. and S. Full face, wig powdered. Dress: gray coat and waistcoat, loose scarf round the neck, left hand only visible, holding a stick, shirt sleeves appear at the wrist. M. c. 1790. About eighty years of age.
N.B.—This may represent John Ranby.
21. MAN. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full, bushy hair, bright complexion, slight whiskers. Dress: dark coat, double breasted, white scarf round the neck and tied in front, frilled shirt. Set in a sham oval. M. c. 1810-1820.

husband succeeded to his father's title, and later on was created Viscount Chelsea and Earl Cadogan.

11. ELIZABETH, LADY CADOGAN. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, dark brown hair. Dress: coronation robes. On a table on the sinister side of the picture rests the coronet of a baroness; there is a pillar on the dexter side. L. See Nos. 12 and 13.

Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Sir Hans Sloane, Bart.; married 25th July, 1717, to Charles, 2nd Baron Cadogan. She died 20th May, 1768.

12. ELIZABETH, LADY CADOGAN. H.L. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister, brown hair, turned back from the forehead, curl on left shoulder. Dress: white under-bodice, with an over-bodice of green, cut open, but over the shoulders; this bodice crosses in front, showing a rose-coloured lining; white under-sleeves. M. By Sir Godfrey Kneller. On it: "Eliz. Lady Cadogan." See Nos. 11 and 13.

N.B.—The dog represented in the picture is Fenella, a female puppy of Dandie Dinmont, presented by Sir Walter Scott to Lord Cadogan.

George, second son of Charles Sloane, 1st Earl Cadogan (new creation), by his second wife Mary, daughter of Charles Churchill, so in reality his eighth son. He succeeded his half-brother, Charles Henry Sloane, 2nd Earl, in 1832. He was Admiral R.N., a distinguished naval officer, C.B. and K.M.T. Born 8th May, 1783; created Baron Oakley 10th September, 1831; he married in 1810, Honoria Louisa, daughter of Joseph Blake of Ardfry, sister of the 1st Lord Wallscourt. George Henry, eldest son of Henry Charles, 4th Earl Cadogan, by Mary Sarah his wife, third daughter of the Hon. and Rev. Gerald Valerian Wellesley; born 12th May, 1840. He has held many offices of State, and was Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, 1895. He succeeded as 5th Earl in 1873. He married 16th May, 1865, Beatrix Jane, fourth daughter of William, 2nd Earl of Craven.
N.B.—Presented by Irish friends.
17. GEORGE HENRY, 5TH EARL CADOGAN. H.L. Seated, body and face both turned slightly to the dexter, brown hair. Dress: black coat, with white collar and black tie; the hands are crossed in front; both the back and side of the chair are visible. L. By G. F. Watts, R.A. On frame: "H E The Earl Cadogan K G, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Presented in 1879. By G F Watts, R.A." See No. 16.
N.B.—This picture is now (1907) at Chelsea House, in London.
18. HONORIA LOUISA, COUNTESS CADOGAN. H.L. Body turned slightly to the dexter, face nearly full, dark hair. S. Chalk drawing by "Augusta S Cadogan. July 1844."
Honoria Louisa, daughter of Joseph Blake, of Ardfry, sister of the 1st Lord Wallscourt; married in 1810 to George, 3rd Earl Cadogan. She died in 1845.
19. LADY HONORIA LOUISA CADOGAN. H.L. Full face, dark hair dressed in curls on either side. Dress: blue, cut low. Chalk drawing tinted with water colour. S. By Louis Girard.
Honoria Louisa, daughter of George, 3rd Earl Cadogan, by Honoria Louisa, his wife, daughter of Joseph Blake, of Ardfry.
20. MARGARETTA CECILIA, COUNTESS CADOGAN. T.Q.L. Seated, full face. Dress: soft red satin, cut low, white under-bodice and under-sleeves; a blue robe is cast over the shoulders; the right hand grasps the robe, the left resting on the lap. Scenery is on the dexter side of the picture, and a tree on the other side. A coat of arms is on the sinister side below. The quartered coat of Cadogan. 1 and 4. Gules, a lion rampant regardant argent. 2 and 3. Argent three boars' heads couped sable; impaling, the tripartite coat of Munter; and this: "Margaretta Cecilia, Countess Cadogan, daughter of Mr. Munter of Holland. Born 16th July. O.S. 1675." The frame is ensigned with the coronet of a countess.

Margaretta Cecilia, daughter of William Munter, counsellor of the court of Holland; married to William, 1st Earl Cadogan (of the old creation), by whom she had two daughters, Sarah, wife of Charles, 2nd Duke of Richmond; and Margaret, wife of Charles John, Count Bentinck, second son of William, Earl of Portland.

N.B.—This picture is a copy of one at Goodwood.

21. MARY, LADY CADOGAN. H.L. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full, powdered hair, with blue ribbon in it. Dress: white bodice, with muslin crossed over the shoulders, black skirt, blue waistband. Min. By Richard Cosway. See No. 22.

Mary, daughter of Charles Churchill, by his wife, Lady Maria Walpole; married, as his second wife, 10th August, 1777, Charles, 3rd Lord Cadogan, from whom she was divorced in 1796, he afterwards becoming Viscount Chelsea and Earl Cadogan. She was mother of the 3rd Earl.

N.B.—There is another which is an exact copy of this.

23. LADY SOPHIA CADOGAN. H.L. Little girl, body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, long fair hair; she grasps by the neck a liver and white coloured dog. Dress: white, with a blue sash.

N.B.—This is called Sophia, daughter of Charles, Earl Cadogan. No such name is given in the peerage; she may have died quite young.

24. WILLIAM, 1ST EARL CADOGAN, K.T. (the old creation). F.L. A long tinted wig, high at the top, full face, clean shaven. Dress: in armour, a red robe over the shoulders, and flowing on the ground; the left elbow rests on a marble side-table, the right hand is outstretched, grasping a baton. Battle scenery on the dexter side. V.L. See Nos. 25 and 26.

William Cadogan, first son of Henry Cadogan, of Liscarton, co. Meath, barrister-at-law, by Bridget, daughter of Sir Hardress Waller, Knt.; born 1670, entered the army 1694, Brigadier-General 1704, Major-General 1707, Lieut.-General 1709, Commander-in-Chief of the forces in Scotland 1716, and was on 21st June, 1716, created Baron Cadogan of Reading, co. Berks, Knt., and General of all the Foot 1718. On 18th May, 1718, he was created Baron Cadogan, of Oakley, co. Bucks, Viscount Caversham, co. Oxford, and Earl Cadogan, co. Denbigh. In 1722 he succeeded the Duke of Marlborough as Commander-in-Chief, Master-General of the Ordnance, and on 23rd June, 1723, was one of the Lords Justices of the Realm, during the King's absence from England. He married, early in life, at the Hague, where he was Ambassador, Margaretta Cecilia, daughter of John Munter, Doctor of Laws of Utrecht, Counsellor of the Court of Holland, by Margaret, daughter of Hendrick Tripp, of Amsterdam, and Cecilia Godin, his wife. He died 17th July, 1726, in his fifty-seventh year. See D. N. B., viii, 182.

Body full, face just slightly turned to the dexter, powdered wig to the shoulders and resting thereon. Dress: in armour, white shirt and cravat, Ribbon of the Thistle over left shoulder; the right hand turned upwards, holding a baton, the left downwards, touching his sword hilt. L. c. 1720. Aged thirty to forty. See Nos. 24 and 26.
26. WILLIAM, 1ST EARL CADOGAN, K.T. (the old creation). T.Q.L.
Body and face both turned slightly to the dexter, a long tinted wig, clean shaven. Dress: a crimson coat slashed with gold, body armour beneath, ribbon and star of the Thistle; the right hand out, gloved, holding baton, the left on hip; helmet and glove on dexter side, below. Scenery behind. L. See Nos. 24 and 25.
27. WILLIAM, 1ST EARL CADOGAN, K.T. A group of six persons on horseback riding towards the dexter; all are dressed in a similar manner, with powdered wigs, black cocked hats, with a sprig of green on each, and are clad in armour, the front one completely so; the others have buff jerkins below. (1) On a bay horse, wearing the ribbon of the Garter; (2) on a gray horse; (3) on a brown horse; (4) on a gray horse; (5) on a black horse; while the last is quite in the background of the picture. On the dexter side is a battle scene, that of Malplaquet, and in the foreground lies a glove, concerning which, it is recorded, as being on the spot which General Cadogan had chosen as the place from which to attack the French. Below is written: "Duke of Marlborough. Lt.-General Cadogan, Quarter Master General. Col. John Armstrong, Quarter Master General to Prince Eugene's Army. Col. Thos. Lascelles, Deputy Quarter Master General to the Duke of Marlborough's

Army. Brigadier Hopkey, Col. of the Artillery. Col. Watson, Lt.-Col. of the Artillery."

N.B.—The story of the dropping of the glove is recorded by many writers. General Cadogan, having been sent the day previous to know what Marshal Villars had to offer, he improved the opportunity so effectually, by viewing the French intrenchments, that he dropped his glove at the spot where, in the dead of night, he directed the Colonel of Artillery, who was with him, to place the guns. He thus contributed greatly to the forcing of the French lines.

28. HON. MRS. WILLIAM BROMLEY CADOGAN. H.L. Aged, full face, cap on the head, curls on either side. Dress: white, short-waisted, lace round the throat, and shawl over shoulders. S. Drawing.

... widow of ... Bradshaw; married in 1782, to Hon. William Bromley Cadogan, second son of Charles Sloane, 3rd Baron and afterwards 1st Earl (of new creation). He was Rector of St. Luke's, Chelsea, and St. Giles, Reading. She died in 1827.

29. GENERAL CHARLES CHURCHILL? T.Q.L. Body turned to the dexter, face but slightly so, clean shaven, long curly wig. Dress: in armour, a cross-over cravat, the left hand forward, a helmet and baton on a table at the dexter side of the picture. On it, below: "G Kneller fecit 1688." L.

N.B.—This portrait is unnamed; but from the date on it, and the age of the man portrayed, it may possibly represent that Churchill from whom the owner is directly descended.

Charles Churchill, third surviving son of Sir Winston Churchill, and brother of John, Duke of Marlborough. Born 2nd February, 1656. At the battle of Blenheim he ably assisted his elder brother. He married, in 1702, Mary, daughter and sole heir of James Gould, of Dorchester. During his brother's absence he commanded in the Netherlands, and in 1706 he was Governor of Guernsey. He died without legitimate issue on 29th December, 1714. See D. N. B., x, 308.

N.B.—This portrait is unnamed; but from the remarkable likeness to members of the Churchill family, and from the approximate date of the painting, it probably represents Charles Churchill.

Charles, natural son of General Charles Churchill [who was a natural son of General Charles Churchill (see No. 29), M.P. for Castle Rising and Governor of Plymouth], by Nance Oldfield; born 1720; married to Lady Anna Maria, legitimized daughter of Sir Robert Walpole, 1st Earl of Orford, by Maria, daughter and sole heir of Thomas Skerret. He died 13th April, 1812, aged ninety-two. Of two daughters of this marriage, Sophia, became wife of Horatio, Earl of Orford, and Mary, of Earl Cadogan.

31. LADY MARIA CHURCHILL. H.L. Body and face both full, fair hair in curls. Dress: white, cut low and V shape, a mauve-coloured robe over the right shoulder; she wears earrings and pearls roped in front. A blue background. Min. On it, behind, in ancient letters: "Lady Maria Walpole only daughter of Sir Robert Walpole. Earl of Orford. by Maria Skerret his 2^d wife. by Zink. 1744. H. W." Probably by Christian Frederick Zinke. See No. 32.

N.B.—No issue is given in Burke's Extinct Peerage to this second marriage of Sir Robert Walpole; but in ancient peerages is this: "Sir Robert Walpole married, in 1737, Maria, daughter and sole heir of Thomas Skerret, who died in 1738; he had a daughter from her before marriage, Maria, his Majesty's housekeeper at Windsor, and wife of Charles Churchill. She was legitimated, and given the rank of an Earl's daughter."

32. LADY MARIA CHURCHILL. H.L. Body and face both full, fair coloured brown hair, with blue flower in it. Dress: white satin, pointed bodice with blue lacings across the front cut square and over shoulders; very large full sleeves with lace; the right hand rests on the lap, holding a bunch of pink, white, and blue flowers; the left hand, a small cornelian ring being on the third finger, holds a yellow flower upwards; she wears pearl necklace and earrings. M. c. 1750. Aged about twenty-five. By Thomas Hudson. See No. 31.

N.B.—This picture has been reckoned amongst the unknown ones; but on comparing the miniature (No. 31) with it, there can, I think, be little doubt of its identity. It was painted about the same period of her life.

33. MARIA, COUNTESS OF COVENTRY. H.L. In fancy dress; body full, face turned slightly downward and to the dexter. She represents a washerwoman, with basin in front washing, cap on the head. M. By George Morland.

N.B.—This probably represents Maria, eldest daughter of James Gunning, co. Roscommon, first wife of George William, 6th Earl of Coventry, who died 30th September, 1760. She was sister of Elizabeth, Duchess of Hamilton, the famous beauty. See D. N. B., xii, 359.

34. OLIVER CROMWELL. H.L. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister. Dress: in armour, linen collar. By Robert Walker.

Oliver Cromwell, the Protector; born 1599. Died 1658. See D. N. B., xiii, 155.

35. ELIZABETH, COUNTESS OF ERROLL. H.L. Body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, dark hair in curls. Dress: red bodice cut low, white sleeves. Min. See Nos. 36, 37, and 38.

Elizabeth Jemima, daughter of Joseph Blake, of Ardfry, co. Galway; married in 1796, George Hay, 14th Earl of Erroll. She was married, secondly, after his lordship's decease, to the Right Hon. John Hookham Frere, of Roydon Hall, Norfolk. She died 17th January, ? 1831.

36. ELIZABETH, COUNTESS OF ERROLL. H. and S. Full face, body turned slightly to the dexter, powdered hair. Dress: white. Min. By Richard Cosway. On back: "Elizabeth Countess of Erroll, by Cosway." See Nos. 35, 37, and 38.

CHURCH HOUSE

The Property of Miss Partridge, 1905

1. JOHN ANSELL OF HADLEIGH. F.L. On horseback, two spaniel dogs frisking around; the man turned to the dexter. Dress: black tailed coat, gray trousers, and tall black hat. In the background of the picture is a representation of Aldham Hall, Suffolk, with the round tower of the little church of Aldham. S. This picture is a copy of the original one, which was by the late J. D. Piper of Ipswich.

John Ansell of Hadleigh, died 1863, aged eighty-four. His sister, Mary Ansell, married Robert Partridge of Shelley Hall, and their son, Thomas Partridge, lived at Aldham Hall.

2. MISS BLOSS. H. and S. Body and face both turned to the dexter, hair dressed high, curls on the side of the face and over the forehead; there is a parting just above the left ear. Dress: white, open at the throat, edged with scalloped frill. S. On cardboard, $4\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches. c. 1800-1810.

It represents probably one of the daughters of Lionel and Mary Bloss of Aldham. They had a daughter, Mary, baptized at Aldham, in 1784. This may be the Mary Bloss who, about 1804, married Daniel Partridge of Shelley Hall.

Patron and Rector of Somersham, 1803-1833; Vicar of Offton. He was born in 1767 at Raydon, and died in 1835 at Higham, aged sixty-seven, having married, in 1798, Martha, daughter of James Sparrow of Gosfield.

9. MRS. NEWMAN JOHN STUBBIN. H. and S. Full face, brown hair, dressed on either side of the face in curls, white cap on the head. Dress: black, with white lace over the shoulders. S. On the back: "Taken. Nov. 11. 1854." See No. 10.

Martha, daughter of James Sparrow, of Gosfield, Essex; born 1768; married in 1798 to Rev. Newman John Stubbin. Died 24th April, 1861, aged ninety-three, and buried at Somersham, Suffolk.

10. MRS. NEWMAN JOHN STUBBIN. H. and S. Face turned to the sinister, long hair, a large hat on the head. Dress: pink. S. A silhouette with features and dress coloured. On it: "Martha Sparrow. 1779. Died April 24, 1861." See No. 9.

11. AGED LADY. H. and S. Full face, black hood over the head, just pointed over the forehead. Dress: black, tight round the throat, showing a little of the latter with a band of jet and jewels; a broad ermine collar passes in front, and there is a large jewel below the ermine collar, with a pearl drop. Min. c. 1650.

N.B.—The costume of this lady is similar to No. 16, at Boxted Hall.

12. LADY. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the dexter, brown hair, curls on either shoulder. Dress: white bodice, having blue edged with white over each shoulder, cut low and open in front; a gold jewelled band over shoulder also. Min. c. 1700-1710.
13. LADY. H. and S. Full face, a bright complexion, fair hair just parted in the middle, curls resting on both shoulders. Dress: a white under-bodice, cut low, with a blue cloak fastened on right shoulder. Min. In oils on copper. c. 1710-1720.
14. LADY. H. and S. Full face, dark hair, curls hanging on both shoulders. Dress: yellow, white tucker; the open front is partially round. Min. In oils on copper. c. 1710-1720.
15. LADY. H. and S. Full face, dark curly hair dressed very high on top of head and hanging over shoulders. Dress: pink, open in front and embroidered with gold; small necklace of two rows round the throat, with black cross suspended. Min. Very small. c. 1730-1740.

N.B.—It may be a fancy dress.

Aged about thirty.

HOLBECKS

The Property of Mr. H. Engleheart, 1905-1906

The portraits here described were all removed some few years ago from Giffords Hall, and they represent either members or connections of the family of Mannock. From the various costumes, and the ages of the people portrayed, I have ventured to assign names to them. Two other portraits, both of them large, and in a very bad state of repair, were left in the great hall at Giffords. I have been informed by the present owner of Giffords that these portraits are not now in the house. The portraits here described have again (1907) been removed from Holbecks, Hadleigh, to Stoke.

hip. A scene is introduced at top dexter corner, with an ancient ship at sea; in lower dexter corner on the table is an envelope with "Dni Pavo Lynch. Admiral Dn. q^d Dios m'a Theneref." L. c. 1695.

Peter Lynch married Audry, the fifth daughter of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., by Mary, his wife, the eldest daughter of Sir George Heneage, Knt., of Hainton, co. Lincoln.

2. MRS. PETER LYNCH? T.Q.L. Seated, full face, fair hair rolled in curls on top of the head. Dress: cut low round the throat, of blue, embroidered in red and white, lined with material of latter colour, a gold and silver embroidered robe over left shoulder, passing behind and appearing on the dexter side. The dress is looped up at the elbows, the white under-sleeves appearing, edged with lace; a lace tucker to the dress, pearl necklace and earrings are worn. She holds in her right hand a rose, has a gold ring on thumb; the left hand and arm rest on table, on which stands a pot of roses. The chair has a red back studded with gold nails; a red curtain on the dexter side. L. c. 1695. Aged about forty-five.

This corresponds in date and in size to No. 1, and may represent Audry, the fifth daughter of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., who married Peter Lynch.

Dorothy, daughter of William Saunders, of Blofield, in Norfolk; married in 1608 to Francis Mannock, created Bart. in 1627. She died "June 1632, aged 42, and in 24th year of married life." This is on the brass erected to her memory at Stoke-by-Nayland Church.

4. SIR FRANCIS MANNOCK, 1ST BART. H.L. Full face, hair worn long on either side in Carolean fashion. Dress: black, with a plain white linen collar, no tassels, white shirt, which appears in front of the dress and through the cuts of the sleeves and on cuffs; left hand forward. M. On it, behind, in large black letters: "Sir Francis Mannock. The 1st Bart. Created 1627."

Francis Mannock, of Giffords Hall, Stoke-by-Nayland, son of William

DOROTHY LADY MANNOCK
HOLBECKS HADLEIGH No. 3

Mannock by Etheldred his wife, daughter of Ferdinando Parys, of Linton, Cambridgeshire; married, in 1608, Dorothy, daughter of William Saunders, of Blofield, in Norfolk. He was created by King Charles I a Baronet on 1st June, 1627. He died 20th November, 1634, aged forty-nine, and is buried at Stoke-by-Nayland.

5. SIR FRANCIS MANNOCK, 2ND BART. ? H. and S. Full face, fair long hair on either side of the face, wearing a very small moustache and bunch under the lower lip. Dress: blue robe lined with orange, white cravat just crossed. M. In oval. c. 1660. Aged about twenty-two.

Francis, son of Sir Francis Mannock, 1st Bart., by Dorothy his wife, daughter of William Saunders; married, in 1636, Mary, eldest daughter of Sir George Heneage, Knt., of Hainton, co. Lincoln. Died 26th April, 1686.

6. FRANCIS MANNOCK ? H. and S. Full face, long brown wig, a very slight moustache. Dress: dark, cravat with lace and flat ends. M. c. 1675. Aged about forty.

Possibly Francis, a younger son of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir George Heneage, of Hainton.

7. SIR FRANCIS MANNOCK, 4TH BART. H.L. Face slightly turned to the dexter, body full, clean shaven, gray wig nearly to the shoulders. Dress: brown, with white cravat. On the back of it: "Sir Francis Mannock, aged 79. 1754. Pixt. Alexander."

Francis, son of Sir William Mannock, by Ursula, daughter of Henry Nevill, alias Smith, of Holt, in Leicestershire; succeeded 1713; married Frances, daughter and heir of George Yates, of North Waltham, near Southampton. He died 27th August, 1758.

8. SIR FRANCIS MANNOCK, 7TH BART. ? H.L. Full face, clean shaven, gray wig to the shoulders. Dress: a red robe, white shirt with lace frill and cravat; the left hand upwards holding robe, the right hand rests on the back of a chair. M. On back: "J. P. Sauvage. Pictor suæ Sac Caes Reg M. Pinx. Brux. 1769."

Francis, second son of Sir Francis Mannock, 4th Bart., a Spanish merchant of Sevington, Northamptonshire; he married Elizabeth Mary (Eliza Mary), daughter of Thomas Stonor, of Watlington Park, Oxon. He died 11th September, 1778, without issue.

Frances, daughter of George Yates, of North Waltham, near Southampton; married to Sir Francis Mannock, 4th Bart., of Giffords Hall. She died 18th May, 1761, and is buried at Stoke-by-Nayland.
10. JOHN MANNOCK ? H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, long curly dark brown wig. Dress: a brown robe, with white cravat crossed. M. c. 1680. Aged about fifty.
Possibly John, a younger son of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir George Heneage, of Hainton.
11. JOHN MANNOCK ? H.L. Full face, wig slightly powdered, and to the shoulders. Dress: a white robe lined with blue, right hand forward holding the robe. M. c. 1730. Aged about fifty.
This may be John, third son of Sir William Mannock, 3rd Bart., by Frances his wife, daughter of George Yates, of North Waltham, near Southampton.
12. MISS MARGARET MANNOCK. H.L. Full face. Dress: costume of an abbess, wearing a cross and holding a crozier in left hand. M. On back: "J.P. Sauvage. Pictor suæ Sac Caes Reg M. Pinx Brux 1769."
Margaret, sixth daughter of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir George Heneage; Abbess of the English Convent of Blue Nuns at Paris. She died 25th April, 1725, aged seventy-eight.
N.B.—This picture may have been copied from an earlier one. The lady is the only abbess noted in the family pedigree.
13. PATRICK MANNOCK ? H. and S. Full face, fair hair, and red whiskers. Dress: brown coat, black velvet collar, canary waistcoat, black tie in bow, high white collar. M. c. 1830. Aged about forty.
Patrick, son of Patrick Power, of Waterford, by his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Nicholas White and his wife, Barbara Strickland; born in 1793; assumed by royal licence the name and arms of Mannock in 1830; married, in May, 1820, Catherine, daughter of Nicholas Power.

14. MRS. PATRICK MANNOCK. T.Q.L. Face slightly turned to the sinister, body very nearly full, fair hair, long curls on either side, parted in the middle. Dress: black, cut low, white lace on bodice round it below, short and close sleeves edged with lace, right arm and left hand rest on the back of a chair in front. Red background, harp on the sinister side. L. A coat of arms below. Quarterly (1) Mannoek; (2) Power; (3) . . . ; (4) . . . , impaling Power. Crest, Mannoek. Motto, Aut vincere aut mori. Signed: "Ed. Wallays 1845."

Catherine, daughter of Nicholas Power; married, 1830, Patrick Mannoek, who, by royal licence in 1830, had changed his name from Power to Mannoek, he being related to the Mannoeks through the Stricklands.

15. SIR THOMAS MANNOCK, 8TH BART. H.L. Full face, white wig turned up with two rows of curls. Dress: red coat, blue waistcoat with gold-edge embroidery, white shirt, showing cuffs. He wears a ring on the little finger of the right hand, and holds a letter addressed "Sir Thomas Mannoek, Bar London." In sham oval. M.

Thomas, third son of Sir Francis Mannoek, 5th Bart.; succeeded his brother Francis; he married first, Mary, daughter of George Brownlow Doughty, of Snasford Hall, co. Lincoln; second, Anastasia, daughter of Mark Browne, of Eastbourne in Sussex. He died s.p., 2nd September, 1781.

16. THOMAS MANNOCK? H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, fair wig. Dress: in armour, studded with gold; cravat of lace crossed. In oval. M. 1680. About twenty years of age.

Possibly, from the date, this may represent Thomas, younger son of Sir Francis Mannoek, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir George Heneage, Knt., of Hainton, co. Lincoln; he married first, Mary, daughter of Sir Cecil Bishopp; and second, Mary, daughter of . . . Galloway. He lived at Great Bromley, Essex.

17. MRS. THOMAS MANNOCK? H. and S. Full face, fair hair. Dress: blue, with white tucker; pink robe over shoulders, very big pearl at the breast. M. In oval. c. 1695. About twenty-two years of age.

In that this picture corresponds with No. 16, it may represent one of the wives of Thomas Mannoek, of Bromley.

18. WALTER STRICKLAND MANNOCK? H.L. Seated, full face, short fair hair, clean shaven. Dress: black coat, canary waistcoat, black stock and white high collar; the left arm rests on back of chair, showing white cuff, and ring on little finger. Green curtain on the sinister side of the picture. M. Aged about twenty in 1840.

Walter Strickland, eldest son of Patrick Mannock, of Giffords Hall, Suffolk, by Catherine his wife, daughter of Nicholas Power.

19. SIR WILLIAM MANNOCK, 3RD BART.? T.Q.L. Body and face turned slightly to the sinister, long fair wig, just tinted. Dress: a brown coat, with large cuffs to the sleeves, white cravat, very long; right hand, with lace cuff, rests on end of carved wood chair or settee; left hand tucked in coat. M. c. 1710. About thirty-five.

This may be William, eldest son of Sir Francis Mannock, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, eldest daughter of Sir George Heneage, of Hainton, co. Lincoln; married Ursula, daughter of Henry Nevill, of Holt, Leicestershire. He died 26th January, 1713-4.

20. WILLIAM MANNOCK? H.L. Full face, slightly powdered wig, reaching to the shoulders, clean shaven. Dress: blue coat, white crossed cravat, white shirt frilled at wrists; music beneath the right hand. M. c. 1730. Aged about fifty-five.

This may be William, second son of Sir William Mannock, 3rd Bart., by Frances his wife, daughter of George Yates.

21. WILLIAM VALENTINE MANNOCK? H.L. Full face, short gray hair and whiskers. Dress: black coat, white waistcoat and stock. Red curtain behind, pillar on the dexter side, hands partly visible, holding a stick. M. c. 1810. Aged about seventy-five.

Probably William Valentine Comyns, who, according to the last will and testament of his cousin, Lady Mannock, relict of Sir Francis Mannock, 7th Bart., assumed, on 29th January, 1793, the name and arms of Mannock. He died in 1819, leaving no issue.

22. URSULA, LADY MANNOCK? T.Q.L. Full face, black hair, curls behind and on the right shoulder. Dress: red, cut open, V shape, white sleeve appearing at elbow; the right hand upward, holding a fichu, rests on a balustrade, left hand down by side. Some rocks behind the figure, with scenery on the dexter side. L. c. 1720. Aged about thirty.

He died 17th June, 1836, and was buried at Stonham Aspal.

N.B.—This picture is hanging at 7, Ashburn Place, London, S.W.

HINDERCLAY RECTORY

The Property of the Rev. E. Farrer, 1903-6

I.

ROBERT GAINSBOROUGH. H.L. Body turned to the sinister, face slightly so, tinted wig to the shoulders, clean shaven. Dress: red coat, buttoned at the waist, long white turn-over tie, and shirt beneath. In sham oval. S. On back: "Rob. Gainsbro' 1729"; and more obliterated, on frame below: "A M^r Thomas Gainsborough"; while on a paper attached to the frame is: "Portrait of Robert Gainsborough, eldest brother of John Gainsborough, father of the great artist. Born June 1673. Painted by Robert Cardinall pupil of Sir Godfrey Kneller—Cardinall was a Suffolk artist of repute, and painted in 1730 the figures of Moses and Aaron for the old reredos in S^t Peters Church Sudbury."

2. WILLIAM JOHNSON. H. and S. Body and face both turned slightly to the sinister, clean shaven, hair to shoulders and powdered. Dress: dove-coloured coat, buff waistcoat, white shirt, tie and frill. S. Oval.

William Johnson, a Suffolk artist. c. 1790. By himself.

N.B.—This picture was presented by the Misses Welch, of Yaxley Hall, it having been painted for their grandfather, Francis Gilbert Yaxley Leeke, of Yaxley Hall.

3. MISS HENRIETTA NELSON. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, hair slightly powdered, short curls on either side resting on the shoulders, very large white hat on the head, full at the top, and ribbon trimming around. Dress: blue, with white muslin crossed over the shoulders, and in front of skirt; elbow sleeves, edged with lace; black velvet tied round the throat; the hands are crossed, and repose on the lap, roses being held in the left hand; the chair is of Chippendale design; curtain behind on the dexter side, and an ancient mirror on the sinister side of the picture. S. By William Johnson.

Henrietta Nelson, of Yaxley Hall, who died 4th April, 1816, aged eighty-two. The following is an extract from the Leeke Diary under that date: "Mrs. Henrietta Nelson died at 26 minutes past nine in the evening, her death was occasioned by a fall in the Old Parlour from whence she was carried into her room, where she was confined to her bed for seven weeks, and not being able to be removed from one position, the parts from constant pressure became sore, which terminated in Mortification, to which statement with extreme and lasting sorrow I put my name. She was 82 years of age. Mrs. Nelson was placed in a Vault according to her own request, in our own grounds which I have caused to be made expressly for that purpose. Francis G. Y. Lecke."

4. LITTLE GIRL. F.L. Fair hair, full face. Dress: orange with white bodice, and front skirt, sleeves to match, a train is fastened at the back of the neck of same colour and material, and flows behind. She holds a basket of flowers; on the sinister side of the picture is a beautiful garden. L. c. 1630.

Purchased at the Yaxley Hall sale in 1905. In damaged condition.

5. LADY. H.L. Full face, fair hair, parted in the centre of the head, over the ears and behind; the hair hangs down in curls. Dress: white, cut low, and round over the shoulders and neck; there is a necklace of very large single pearls round the throat, and two brooches, each composed of two pearls, in front of the dress, pearl earrings; the sleeves of the dress extend to the elbows; a light blue scarf of silk hangs across the figure, and over the left shoulder. M. c. 1660. Possibly by Sir Peter Lely.

This and No. 6 were purchased of Mr. E. Aldrich, of Denmark Street, Diss, who bought them at a sale at one of the Stonhams in Suffolk.

6. LADY. H.L. Face and body very slightly turned to the sinister; the hair is fair and smooth at the top of the head with short curls covering both ears, and apparently behind the head as well. Dress: red, cut low, and round over the shoulders and neck, short sleeves, showing white beneath; over the right shoulder is an armlet studded with pearls; there is a necklace of large single pearls around the throat, and large pear-shaped pearls in the ears. M. c. 1660. Probably by a Dutch artist.

7. MAN. H. and S. Body and face both inclined slightly to the sinister, long hair, partly gray, little moustache and bunch beneath the lip. Dress: brown, a black knot of ribbon fastened on the right shoulder, cuff of sleeve just apparent, white linen collar cut square, and with two tassels. On it: "A^o 76. 1676."

This picture must represent some Puritan gentleman, who retained the costume till this late date. It came from Yaxley Hall, near Eye.

8. MAN. H. and S. Full face, long brown wig. Dress: a red robe, probably legal, with bands, and turned back muslin cuffs. There is either a black patch over the left eye, or inserted within the brows a small telescope; the right hand is forward holding a paper. M. c. 1680.

This picture, with No. 10 in the same frame, hung once at Wingfield Castle, Suffolk. It came in 1905 from Yaxley Hall, near Eye.

This picture was purchased by Mr. Ellis, of Norwich, at the sale of the effects of the Rev. A. E. Edwards, of Barningham Rectory, Suffolk, in the autumn of 1903, and from thence reached Hinderclay early in 1904.

10. MAN. H.L. Full face, short powdered wig. Dress: green coat, lined with red, very rich gold brocaded waistcoat, white cravat. M. On the back in ancient black letters, is this: "F. Muller pic. 1732. J Knigell p."

11. LADY. H.L. Full face, hair taken back from off the forehead, with a small jewelled ornament in it, on the right side. Dress: blue, cut low, but over the shoulders; a tight bodice. S. Oval. c. 1750.

This picture was purchased some few years ago at Botesdale, and belonged possibly to some Suffolk house.

12. AGED LADY. H.L. Body and face both full, fair hair tinted with gray, black hood with white beneath, over the head. Dress: black, open at the neck, white elbow sleeve; right hand upwards, resting on the top of a large book, bound in brown calf, tooled with gold. M. c. 1700. Aged about seventy-five. By Joseph Brook, of Bury.

Purchased in Ipswich in 1907.

HOPTON

The Property of Miss Button, 1904

I.

ENJAMIN BUTTON. H. and S. Full face. Dress: blue coat, high yellow waistcoat, and white scarf. Min. On the back: "Benj Button. died 12. March 1819. aged 66."

2. MRS. SARAH COCKSEGE. H. and S. Aged lady, face and body both turned to the dexter; white cap trimmed with black ribbon on the head, yellow shawl over the shoulders. Blue background. Min. On the back: "M^{rs} Sarah Cocksedge of Hopton, Mother to J P Cocksedge Esq^r Norwich, Grandmother to Miss Isabella Cocksedge of Norwich, great grandmother to Henry Button of Hopton."

3. HENRY FOWELL, OF IPSWICH. H.L. Body and face both turned to the dexter, hair black, with short whiskers. Dress: dark blue coat. Blue background. Min. A lock of hair inserted in the back of the frame.

Henry, son of . . . Fowell, a freeholder in Coney Weston. He died s.p., and left his estate to his great-nephew, Richard Drake Fowell, Clk., of Christ's Coll. Camb., 1849, who was a son of Richard Fowell, his brother, by Mary, a daughter of . . . Gooch. This Richard Fowell died 16th September, 1820, aged fifty-nine. There was another brother, Nathaniel Fowell, an attorney at Hopton.

HUNSTON HALL

The Property of Major Clement Heigham, 1903-6

Of these portraits Nos. 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, 11, 20, 25, and 36 were once the property of Dr. Symonds, Recorder of Bury St. Edmunds, and were bequeathed by him, in his will, dated 1807, to Henry Heigham, Clk.; one other, "The Duchess of Orleans," has disappeared. These pictures are said by S. H. A. H. in the "Rushbrooke Registers" to have hung formerly at Rushbrooke. Of the others, Nos. 1, 3, 5, 6, 10, 18, 19, 22, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, and 35 were until recently the property of Miss Merelina Spring Stanley, and all of them once at New House, Pakenham, some possibly at an earlier date in the old Hall there.

I.

COLONEL THOMAS BLAGGE. H. and S. Body slightly turned to the sinister, face nearly full, clean shaven, hair dark and curly. Dress: in body armour, with white plain cravat crossed. On it: "— Blagge Esq." M.

Thomas, third son of Ambrose Blagge, of Little Horringer Hall, Suffolk, by his wife Martha Barber, of Bury St. Edmunds. He was baptised in 1613 and married Mary North, of Mildenhall. He raised a regiment for Charles I, and on Charles II fleeing to Holland, the diamond George was entrusted to Col. Blagge. He was Governor of Landguard Fort. He lived to see the Restoration, but died 14th November, 1660; and was buried in Westminster Abbey. He had four daughters attached to the Court, of whom Margaret married Lord Godolphin.

2. REBECCA, VISCOUNTESS BROUNCKER. T.Q.L. Face and body full, hair flat at the top, but curls on either side; she wears pearl earrings and necklace. Dress: light blue, trimmed with pearls, cut low, full sleeves, but only to the elbow; a brown robe over the left shoulder and right arm. The background is of trees, with flowers on the dexter side of the picture. The hands of the figure are in front, the right holding a flower, the left touching another one which is placed on a table; a small ring is on the third finger of right hand, others being on the third and fourth fingers of the left hand. L. "LADY . BROUNCKER, MOTHER OF . LORD . JERMYN."

Rebecca, daughter of . . . Rodway, and wife, first of the Hon. Thomas Jermy, of Rushbrooke, and afterwards wife of Right Hon. Henry, Viscount Brouncker. She died 24th January, 1693-4, and was buried at Richmond, Surrey.

3. ELIZABETH, DUCHESS OF ORMONDE. F.L. Body full, face turned to the sinister, and looking downwards, brown hair, long behind and in curls, ropes of pearls dressed with the hair on the top of the head. Dress: green, cut low and round, with white lace round the bodice, which latter is open down the front and fastened with two jewels, showing the under-bodice beneath, open sleeves at the elbow, with white under-sleeves as well, a red robe is over the right shoulder and passes in front; the right hand downwards, bracelet on the wrist, the left is upwards and holds a long rope of pearls across the front of the bodice. A negro boy is on the sinister side of the picture, with a curtain behind; the dexter side has a terrace wall, with a vase of flowers. On it, "Du^t of Ormond." S. On back, "Dutches of Ormond." and "L—hg—e." Probably by Nicolas de Largilliere.

Elizabeth, daughter and heir of Richard Preston, Earl of Desmond, by his wife Elizabeth, only daughter and heir of Thomas Butler, Earl of Ormonde and Ossory; born 25th July, 1615; married, September, 1629, her cousin, James Butler, Duke of Ormonde. She was godmother to Queen Mary II, and died 21st July, 1684, in her sixty-ninth year.

4. BARBARA, DUCHESS OF CLEVELAND. T.Q.L. Body turned to the sinister, face full, hair black, one curl over the right shoulder. Dress: yellow, with white trimmings on the shoulder, low at the neck, sleeves to the elbow, showing white beneath, brown robe falling off behind her; pearl necklace, and pearl earrings, also sapphire and pearl clasps on the shoulders. The background is the stem of a tree, while on the left is an orange tree growing from out of a stone vase, the stem of which is being held by both the hands of the figure, with a sprig in bloom. L. "DUTCHESS. OF. CLEVELAND."

Barbara, wife of Roger Palmer, Earl of Castlemaine, created Duchess of Cleveland 3rd August, 1670; mistress of Charles II; on 25th November, 1705, in her eighty-fifth year, she was married for a second time to Major-General Robert Feilding, better known as "Beau Feilding." She died of dropsy at her house in Chiswick, 9th October, 1709; leaving her grandson, Charles, Duke of Grafton, residuary legatee. See D. N. B., lviii, 312.

5. SIR ROBERT CORDELL, BART. H. and S. Full face, with long fair hair, just slightly tinted with gray. Dress: bluish gray doublet, with a white lace cravat tied with a bluish-gray bow. M. c. 1660. It has been called Sir Cordell Firebrace, who died 1759, which is an impossibility. Beneath the varnish, but painted over, is "S^r Rob^t Cordell Bart."

Robert Cordell, of Melford, created a baronet 22nd June, 1660, M.P. for Sudbury, 1661-1678; sheriff of Suffolk, 1653; he married Margaret, daughter and co-heir of Sir Edmund Wright, Lord Mayor of London. The date of his death is not recorded in the pedigree, "Vis. of Suffolk," edited by J. J. Howard. His second daughter, Sarah, married in 1644 Sir William Spring, Bart.

6. MRS. COVEL. H.L. Body turned very slightly to the sinister, face full; hair auburn, with a comb on the top of head, ringlets on either side. Dress: white satin, cut low and round with white tucker, a crimson cloak, partly thrown off, sleeves apparently of white silk appearing beneath; she wears a single rope of pearls round the throat. Dark background. M.

Judith, fourth daughter of Ambrose Blagge, of Little Horringer Hall, Suffolk, by his wife Martha Barber, of Bury St. Edmunds. She married, in 1664, Thomas Covell, of Horringer; they had no children. She died in 1710, aged eighty-seven.

N.B.—I think this portrait may represent Mrs. Blagge. See No. 1.

7. PENELOPE, LADY (? MRS.) DASHWOOD. H.L. Very aged lady, full face, black veil over the head. Dress: black, white muslin over the shoulders tied with three bows; the right arm comes across the picture, showing wrist and a white muslin cuff, the thumb of the hand being in a book. M. On back, "Perry grand-daughter (? grand-mother) of Robert, Richard, and George Dashwood, Lady Hare, Lady Peyton."

Penelope, daughter and co-heiress of Sir Thomas Chamberlayne, wife of Sir Robert Dashwood, 1st Baronet. The costume would be too early for Penelope Dashwood, daughter of George Dashwood, of Peyton Hall, Suffolk, by his wife Margaret, second daughter of Sir Sewster Peyton, and therefore granddaughter of Sir Robert Dashwood, 1st Bart. Elizabeth, wife of Sir Thomas Hare, Bart., of Stow Hall, sister of Sir Robert Dashwood Bart., died 25th January, 1749-1750, in her eighty-ninth year. See monument at Stow, Bardolph, Norfolk.

8. ELIZABETH, ELECTRESS PALATINE, QUEEN OF BOHEMIA. H.L. Full face. Dress: richly embroidered, short waist, muslin collar. M. Elizabeth, daughter of James I, King of England; born in 1596; married 1613, to Frederick V, the Elector Palatine. Died in London, 13th February, 1661-2; buried in Westminster Abbey. See D. N. B., xvii, 233.
9. FREDERICK, ELECTOR PALATINE, KING OF BOHEMIA. H.L. Full face, pointed beard. Dress: doublet, with muslin collar. M. Frederick, 5th Elector Palatine, King of Bohemia; married, 1613, to Elizabeth, daughter of James I, King of England.
10. JOHN FISHER, BISHOP OF ROCHESTER. H.L. Full face, with dark hair, beard and moustache, square cap on the head. Dress: so dark as to be imperceptible from the background, white frill at neck just apparent. He holds a book between his two hands. Shield over right shoulder. On it: "A bend between two fishes azure." M. John Fisher, Bishop of Rochester, 1504-1535. This picture hung at Pakenham, Suffolk, and there was undoubtedly some connection between Bishop Fisher and the Springs. See D. N. B. xix, 58.
11. MISS ELEANOR GWYN. T.Q.L. Seated, face nearly full. Dress: grayish blue, with white bodice cut very low, hair with curls hanging over her forehead, right hand holding a bunch of grapes, left hand pointing to peaches on a table. A robe is thrown from off her shoulders; she wears a large pearl necklace. The background is brown, with a curtain on the sinister side of the picture. L. On it: "M^{rs}. ELEANORA GWYN." Eleanor Gwyn, born 1650. Actress, and mistress of Charles II. She died in 1687. See D. N. B. xxiii, 401.
12. REV. HENRY HEIGHAM. H. and S. Face nearly full, hair not powdered. Dress: blue coat, white scarf. Min. Henry Heigham, clerk; born January, 1768; married 13th July, 1790, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Symonds, Captain R.N., brother of the Recorder. See No. 36. Granddaughter of John Symonds, D.D., Rector of Horringer. Min. In oval. See No. 13.

15. JOHN HENRY HEIGHAM. H.L. Full face, natural hair. Dress: blue coat and white tie. Min.

John Henry Heigham, of Hunston Hall, Suffolk; born 1798. Died 1879.

16. MRS. JOHN HENRY HEIGHAM. H.L. Full face, curls on either side of the head. Dress: purple, cut low. Min.

Maria Catherine, eldest daughter of William Gould, of Bury St. Edmunds, and wife of John Henry Heigham, of Hunston. She was married 14th August, 1823, and died 29th November, 1837.

17. MRS. PELL HEIGHAM. T.Q.L. Aged lady, body nearly full, face turned to the sinister, white cap on the head. Dress: white, crossed over in front, arms bare to elbow. S. In oval; chalk. Probably by J. Downman.

Penelope Dashwood, daughter of George Dashwood, of Peyton Hall, Suffolk; she was heiress of Sir Sewster Peyton, Bart., and sister of Henry Dashwood, who assumed the name of Peyton; married Pell Heigham, of Bury St. Edmunds, 2nd October, 1757. Died 17th September, 1806.

18. LADY HOWARD. F.L. Body full, face turned slightly to the dexter, fair hair, long curl over left shoulder. Dress: blue, neck open with a white tucker, and white under-bodice, the over-bodice being fastened in front with three clasps, each composed of two bands of pearls; white elbow sleeves; a green robe is over the left shoulder, and passing behind, is held up by the right hand, the left hand, with the two forefingers up, supports the head, the elbow being on a pedestal, and on this is the name, "Lady Howard." Scenery and trees behind. On the back, "Lady Howard," in ancient writing, and this, "L . . . h- l . . . e." See No. 3. Probably by Nicolas de Largillière.

N.B.—This is exactly similar in style to No. 3, but I am unable to identify it.

19. MARY, LADY JERMYN. H. and S. Body and face both turned very slightly to the dexter, dark hair, with a comb of pearls across the head, short curls on each side. Dress: old gold stomacher, cut low and round; green cloak thrown off. Dark background. M.

Mary, daughter of Henry Merry, of Barton Blount, co. Derby, by Penelope, his wife, daughter of Sir John Gage, Bart.; married in 1659 to Thomas, Lord Jermyn, of Rushbrooke. She died in London, May, 1713.

156. MAN. H.L. Full face, gray hair, moustache and long beard. Dress: black doublet studded with gold buttons, small ruff; left hand forward, thumb in the waist of doublet; chain round the neck. M. c. 1600.
157. MAN. H. and S. Body turned to the sinister, face very nearly full, fair moustache and bunch beneath the lower lip, hair long, grayish and wavy, parted in the middle, and falling down behind. Dress: black velvet coat, white linen collar, tied in front with cord and tassels, shirt sleeve just apparent over right wrist; the hand holds a small book, "THOMAS A KEMPIS," with the right forefinger in its pages. A pillar behind on the sinister side. S. c. 1630.
158. LITTLE BOY. F.L. Full face, thick brown curly hair. Dress: black, slashed with red, white muslin collar and cuffs, corals around both neck and wrists; the right hand held forward, touching the top of the head of a large dog, which is looking at him; curtain hangs down from above, with a tassel. L. c. 1635. Spanish.
159. MAN. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, dark wig. Dress: in armour, the brocaded sleeves apparent from beneath, white collar. Min. c. 1660. By Thomas Flatman.
160. TWO FIGURES. H.L. (1) Man in a blue coat, white facings, and a short powdered wig. (2) Lady in a blue hood. Mins. c. 1770. By Nathaniel Hone, R.A.
N.B.—These two miniatures were fastened together with clasps.
161. LADY. T.Q.L. Seated, body full, face turned slightly to the dexter, hair powdered. Dress: puce-coloured, trimmed with fur, and with a fur muff; left arm on a table, red seat of chair behind. S. c. 1760. Possibly by Johann Zoffany, R.A.
162. LADY. H. and S. Full face, body turned to the sinister. Dress: blue, trimmed with white fur, and blue round the throat. Min. c. 1780. By John Smart.
163. LADY. H.L. Seated, full face, white mob cap on the head. Dress: gray; left hand forward, supporting the right elbow, with the right hand holding a miniature. M. c. 1790.

164. LADY. T.Q.L. Seated, body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, cap on and around the head, with curls showing in front, flowers on a table on the dexter side of the picture, letter-rack and work-basket on the sinister side, a book on the lap. S. c. 1830, aged about seventy-five.
165. A HEAD. S. By George Romney, R.A.
166. MAN. H. and S. Body and face turned slightly to the dexter, dark hair and complexion. M.
An Italian.
167. LADY. H. and S. Full face. M.
One of the Royal family of Spain.
168. LADY. T.Q.L. Seated, full face. Dress: white, cut open in front, and square, in ermine cloak; hands both forward. The seat of the chair appears, with scenery, on the dexter side of the picture; and on a table, a coronet as worn by nieces or cousins of the sovereign. L. c. 1750. Aged about thirty.
169. MAN. H.L. Full face, cocked hat on the head. Dress: orange ribbon over left shoulder, the Order of the Black Eagle on left breast. M.
170. ELIZABETH, QUEEN OF SPAIN. H. and S. Full face, white hair. Dress: a rich brocade, covered with castles and lions; the dress is open in front. M.
Elizabeth Farnese, second wife of Philip V of Spain; born 25th October, 1692; the daughter and heir of Odardo Farnese, Duke of Parma, by Dorothea Sophia, of Bavaria; married Philip V on 24th December, 1714, by whom she was mother of Charles III of Spain, Philip, Duke of Parma, and other children. Called after 1746 the Queen Mother. She died 11th July, 1766.
N.B.—This picture has been identified by Mr. Gery Milner-Gibson-Cullum, since the arrangement of this list, as being very similar to one in the Musée de Versailles, by L. M. Vanloo, of the lady commonly called "The Termagant of Spain."
171. QUEEN OF SARDINIA. H.L. Lady. Full face. Dress: a very gorgeous costume; dog on a table, which is covered with a blue cloth, on the dexter side of the picture. M.
N.B.—Probably a Queen of Sardinia, and the wife of either No. 17, or No. 148.

ANNABELLA LADY BLAKE

IXWORTH

The Property of Mrs. J. South Phillips, 1905

I.

ANNABELLA, LADY BLAKE. F.L. Body full, face turned to the dexter, long brown hair, passing from behind the head and neck, falls over the right shoulder, an ornament on the top of the head. Dress: white, with a gray robe wound round the figure. At the top dexter corner an angel and dove, a rainbow in the top sinister corner, and below, sea, with a ship thereon, and an angry sky; woody scenery on dexter side, with a river below, and, on it, sprites in a boat. M. Pastel. By Daniel Gardner. It probably represents Miranda.

Annabella, daughter of Rev. Sir William Bunbury, Bart., of Barton Hall, Bury St. Edmunds, by Eleanor his wife, daughter and co-heir of Henry Vere Graham; married first, to Patrick Blake (son of Andrew Blake), who was created a baronet in 1772; from him she was divorced by Act of Parliament in 1778, and she was married, secondly, to George Boscawen, of St. Peter's, Isle of Thanet.

N.B.—There is a portrait of Lady Blake at Barton Hall (see No. 1).

2. SIR THOMAS CHARLES BUNBURY, BART. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, face slightly to the sinister, brownish hair, clean shaven. Dress: a red robe, trimmed with fur, white shirt, frill, and stock. M. This is a copy of the picture at Barton Hall, by Sir Joshua Reynolds (see No. 15).

Thomas Charles, eldest son of Rev. Sir William Bunbury, Bart., by Eleanor his wife, daughter and co-heir of Henry Vere Graham, of Wix Abbey, Essex; born May, 1740; M.P. for Suffolk for forty years; married, 2nd June, 1762, Lady Sarah Lennox, daughter of Charles, 2nd Duke of Richmond, which marriage was dissolved by Act of Parliament in 1776. He died 1821.

3. LAURENCE DESBOROUGH. H. and S. Full face, body turned very slightly to the dexter, powdered wig, with one large roll turned up. Dress: green coat, white waistcoat striped with blue, white stock. Min. c. 1770.

4. MRS. DESBOROUGH. H. and S. Body turned very slightly to the dexter, and face full, hair powdered. Dress: white bodice, with black overcoat, showing the white front of the dress, but fastened across the front with black cords. Min.

Anne, daughter of . . . Byrne, wife of Laurence Desborough, surgeon, of Huntingdon; born 21st September, 1732. She died 1st December, 1794.

5. MRS. JOHN JACKSON. H.L. Body turned slightly to the sinister, face very nearly full, brown hair, dressed high on the head and on either side, with curls below. Dress: yellow, cut low, with white muslin over it, and with muslin trimming round the bodice and waistband; there is a red cushion on a table on the sinister side, on which rests the left arm; the other down. On it: "Martin P.W. P (or B) pinxit" 1782 (? 8). M. An inscription in writing on the back. "Elizabeth Terrot, widow of John Clerk, of Tobago, who was uncle of Mrs. S. Jenyns Soame; she married a second time, Rev. John Jackson, Vicar of the Minster, Beverley, Yorkshire. She died 1844, aged eighty-four."

6. JOHN PHILLIPS. H. and S. Body and face both nearly full, short gray hair. Dress: black coat, with white stock. M.
 John, son of John Phillips, of Warham St. Mary, Norfolk; born at Warham, 24th November, 1755; married in London, to Miss Frances Crewe. He was a doctor.

7. MRS. JOHN PHILLIPS. H.L. Body full, face turned to the dexter, powdered hair. Dress: white, with a black over-coat, showing the front of dress; hands gloved, and crossed in front on her lap. Scenery with angry sky behind. S. Pastel. By Daniel Gardner.
 Frances Crewe; born in London, 8th March, 1758; married at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, on 5th March, 1782, to Dr. John Phillips.

8. JOHN SOUTH PHILLIPS. H. and S. Boy, full face, fair hair. Dress: dark blue, with white collar. S. By Samuel Lane.
 John South, only son of John Phillips, of Great Barton, Suffolk, by Mary Elizabeth his wife, daughter John South, of Huntingdon; born 8th September, 1825; married first, 1849, to Mary Anna Charlotte, second daughter of John Henry Heigham, of Hunston Hall; second, 1861, to Eliza Caroline, second daughter of Rev. H. A. H. Oakes, Rector of Nowton, Suffolk. He died 3rd July, 1896.

9. MISS CATHERINE MARIA SOAME. H.L. Seated, body and face both full, brown hair, dressed in curls on either side of the face, with large gold earrings. Dress: pale blue, cut low, black shawl lying on the lap. The lady appears to be seated on a sofa covered with red. S. On it: "Catherine Maria, daughter of Stephen Jenyns Soame and Elizabeth his wife."

Catherine Maria, younger daughter of Stephen Jenyns Soame, of Little Thurlow Hall, Suffolk, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Ralph Lidgerton, of Bellingham, Northumberland. Died at Bury St. Edmunds.

10. MISS ELIZABETH POOLE SOAME. H.L. Seated, full face, brown hair, dressed in curls on either side of the face, with large gold earrings. Dress: red, cut low, with muslin over, and white tucker; the back of the chair is visible, with ornamental woodwork, and it is covered with green. S. On it: "Elizabeth Poole, daughter of Stephen Jenyns Soame and Elizabeth his wife."

Elizabeth Poole, daughter of Stephen Jenyns Soame, of Little Thurlow Hall, Suffolk, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Ralph Lidgerton, of Bellingham, Northumberland. Died at Bury St. Edmunds.

11. REV. HENRY SOAME, MRS. SOAME, AND HENRY FRANCIS ROBERT SOAME. A group of three figures. (1) F.L. On the dexter side, seated, face turned to the sinister, powdered hair, clean shaven. Dress: black coat and knee breeches, and gray stockings; black shoes and buckles; he wears a white stock. (2) F.L. In the middle, seated, body full, face slightly to the sinister, powdered hair, white muslin and lace bonnet on the head, with blue trimming. Dress: white, trimmed with blue, and a puce-coloured skirt, long blue gloves on both hands; the right one, on the lap, holds a book, the left, upwards, is stretched towards, and holding, (3) a little boy, with short brown hair, seated on a gray pony. Dress a red coat and white trousers. Scenery behind. M. Pastel. By Daniel Gardner.

(1) The Rev. Henry Soame, son and heir of Stephen Soame, of Little Thurlow Hall, by Ann, second daughter of Joseph Alston, of Edwardstone, Suffolk; married 15th June, 1765. Died 29th March, 1813. Sir William Bunbury, Bart., of Barton Hall, Suffolk, and (3) their only child, Henry Francis Robert Soame, of Trinity College, Cambridge; Lieut. 22nd Dragoons; born 16th October, 1768. Died, unmarried, at Madras, 1803.

12. MAN. H. and S. Body and face both turned entirely to the dexter, white short hair and very small whiskers. Dress: blue coat, gold buttons, white stock. Min. c. 1810-1820. Aged about 70.

H H

IXWORTH ABBEY

The Property of Mr. Richard Norton Cartwright, 1905

I.
RICHARD NORTON CARTWRIGHT. F.L. Little boy. He has his arm around the neck of a donkey, which stands on the dexter side of the picture. Scenery behind. S. Water colour. On it: "Har^t Cartwright fecit," and on back: "Richard Norton Cartwright, taken May 1806, by Miss Harriet Cartwright."

Richard Norton, eldest son of Richard Thomas Cartwright, of Ixworth Abbey, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Edward Chinery, of Chilton, near Sudbury, Suffolk; born May, 1800; married, 30th March, 1826, his first cousin, Frances Felicia, daughter of Benjamin Cobb, of Lydd, co. Kent. He succeeded his father in 1824, and he died about 1865.

2. . . . CARTWRIGHT? T.Q.L. Man, full face, long white wig turned back over the shoulders, clean shaven. Dress: red velvet coat and waistcoat, showing at the top a white shirt, which is tight round the throat, and also at the wrists; the right hand holds a black hat, and the left rests on the hip. Scenery behind. L. c. 1720.

It is called by the family "Mr. Cartwright."

N.B.—It is much too early for the John Cartwright of Stoke by Ipswich, who married Isabella, the daughter of Colonel Richard Norton by Isabella Hutchinson. It might be an ancestor of his.

3. MRS. CARTWRIGHT. (? SARAH, DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH.) T.Q.L. Seated, full face, hair off the forehead, with black veil carried backwards. Dress: black velvet, open in front V shape, the right hand is forward, with a white cuff round the wrist, grasping a portion of the black veil; the left hand with a similar cuff is on the seat beside her. A red curtain behind on the sinister side; scenery on the dexter, with a portion of a very large white mansion; a fountain playing. L. c. 1720.

It is named by the family "Mrs. Cartwright." The costume is that of a widow.

N.B.—A photograph of this portrait was sent to the present Duke of Marlborough, who identified it as being exactly like one at Blenheim, of Sarah, daughter and co-heir of Richard Jennings, wife of John Churchill, the great Duke of Marlborough; she married the Duke in 1678. The Duke died in 1722, shortly before this picture was painted.

COLONEL HUTCHINSON (?)
IXWORTH ABBEY No. 7

MRS. HUTCHINSON (?)
IXWORTH ABBEY No. 8

4. WILLIAM WOODLEY FREDERICK CERJAT. F.L. Little boy, turned towards the sinister with a bow and arrow; scenery below. S. Water colour. On back of it: "Master W. W. F. Cerjat, taken Oct. 1805, by Miss H. Cartwright."

William Woodley Frederick, son of George John Cerjat, Captain of the 1st Royal Dragoons, by Mary his wife, daughter of William Woodley, of Larling, Norfolk; born 15th March, 1800; married Maria, daughter of Peter Holmes, of Peterfield, co. Tipperary. He had a daughter, Henrietta Mary, born at Beccles, 27th January, 1832.

5. CHARLES I. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the sinister, long brown hair, moustache and pointed beard. Dress: red and white stripes, a very large collar with deep lace round the neck, as also the blue ribbon of the Garter, the George not being visible. S.

Charles I, King of Great Britain and Ireland; born 1600; executed 1649. See D. N. B., x, 67.

6. GEORGE I. F.L. With a long brown curly wig. Dress: in regal robes; hand on orb, crown and sceptre on table. L.

George I, King of Great Britain and Ireland; born 1660. Died 1727. See D. N. B., xxi, 146.

7. COLONEL JOHN HUTCHINSON? T.Q.L. Body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, a long brown wig, but not very curly. Dress: in armour, red sash round the waist, white cravat tied in bow; baton in right hand, left rests on hilt of sword. Brown background to the figure; curtain on the dexter side. Camp scene on the sinister. L. c. 1670-1680. Aged between thirty and forty.

This picture is named by the family "John Hutchinson, the regicide. Born 1615. Died 1664." See D. N. B., xxviii, 339.

N.B.—It is a little too late for the regicide, and may represent Colonel Richard Norton, the first of the family of Southwick, Hants, who held property here, and was High Sheriff for Suffolk 1708. He died 10th December, 1708, aged sixty-six, and was buried at Ixworth. This family was connected with that of the Hutchinsons later on. The originals of the portraits of Colonel Hutchinson and his wife by Van Dyck were carried off to America, and said to have been lost at sea; of these I have seen tracings, and there is no resemblance to the Ixworth portraits.

8. MRS. JOHN HUTCHINSON? T.Q.L. Seated, body turned slightly to the dexter, full face, brown hair in curls on both sides resting on shoulders, her head is leaning on the right hand, the elbow of which arm rests on the base of a column, and this has a medallion on its side below. Dress: white satin, looped up with enormous pearls, and is cut low and round, very full white sleeves looped up with jewels, a blue robe, cast off, left hand in lap holding a white flower. L. c. 1670-1680.

This picture is called by the family "Lucy, daughter of Sir Allen Apsley, wife of John Hutchinson, the regicide. Born 1620." See D. N. B., xxviii, 340.

N.B.—I think this portrait is a little too late, and the dress rather too gorgeous for such a puritanical lady as Lucy Hutchinson. It must be the wife of No. 7, and if so, may be Elizabeth, the daughter of James Butler, of Amberley Castle, Sussex, wife of Richard Norton, who died at Ixworth, and was buried there 1st May, 1708, aged forty-eight.

9. COLONEL RICHARD NORTON. T.Q.L. Body and face both full, white wig to below the shoulders, and tied in a knot. Dress: a jerkin, with body armour over it, and over that a red coat trimmed with gold braid, very large turned back cuffs to the coat, white stock, and also shirt, visible at the wrists. The right hand rests on a helmet, the left on the hip. Dark background. L. c. 1735.

Richard Norton, baptized at Ixworth on 1st July, 1715. (He was possibly a son of Thomas Norton, of Ixworth, by Frances his wife, daughter of Sir Compton Felton of Playford, Bart.) He married Isabella Hutchinson, of Westminster, daughter of Julius Hutchinson, by his wife, Betty, daughter of Richard Norton and Elizabeth Butler. He was M.P. for Bury (see "Gentleman's Magazine," vol. L, p. 30), and he died in 1781.

10. LADY. H. and S. Full face, curls on either side and over the shoulders. Dress: white bodice cut low and round, a brown robe thrown over, single row of pearls round the throat, pearl earrings, and a diamond brooch on the left shoulder. M. c. 1670-1680. Quite young.
11. LADY. H.L. Full face, dark hair, curl over the right shoulder. Dress: white bodice and elbow sleeves, the top cut low and round, yellow robe over, fastened with a brooch on the left arm just below the shoulder; the right arm, without the hand, is just apparent. M. 1680-1690. About thirty years of age.

COLONEL RICHARD NORTON
IXWORTH ABBEY No. 9

A LADY c. 1675
IXWORTH ABBEY No. 10

13. TWO LADIES. H.L. Both standing side by side in fancy costumes. (1) On the dexter side, dark hair, flowers on the head, with her arm round the other lady. (2) On the sinister side, very fair; she holds a nest in her hand, with two doves in it. L. It is set in a sham oval, and is oblong.

N.B.—The date of it is uncertain, but may probably be c. 1700.

LACKFORD MANOR

The Property of the Rev. John Shuttleworth Holden, 1906

I.

EDWARD ANTHONY HOLDEN AND REV. JAMES RICHARD HOLDEN. Two men. (1) F.L. On the dexter side, standing, body full, face turned slightly to the sinister, brown hair and whiskers. Dress: dark gray coat, waistcoat, and trousers; white shirt, collar and cuffs, dark blue cravat; he wears long wading boots, holds a stick and hat in right hand, and a fish in the left. (2) F.L. On the sinister side, seated, body and face both turned to the dexter, brown hair and whiskers, soft hat on the head. Dress: light gray coat, brown waistcoat, and gray trousers, turned up below; both hands are holding a book of fishing flies; there is a rod and basket by the side. Mountainous scenery behind. L. See Nos. 2 and 3.

Edward Anthony Holden, of Aston Hall, Derby, son of the Rev. Charles Shuttleworth, of Aston, who assumed the name of Holden in 1791, by his third wife, Rosamund Amelia Dean; born 2nd August, 1805; married 22nd November, 1832, Susan Drummond, daughter of George Moore, of Appleby Hall, co. Leicester. He died in 1877.

James Richard Holden, of Lackford Manor, Suffolk, another son of Rev. Charles Shuttleworth, by Rosamund Amelia Dean; he took Holy Orders; married Mary, only daughter of Thomas Moore, of Ruddington, Notts. He died in 1876, bequeathing Lackford Manor to the present owner, Rev. John Shuttleworth Holden.

2. REV. JAMES RICHARD HOLDEN. F.L. Standing on the dexter side of the picture, by the head of a bay horse. Dress: gray suit and hat to match. He holds a riding whip and gloves in the right hand, which is downwards, the left hand held up, as if holding something to feed the horse. Park scene behind. M. See Nos. 1 and 3.

3. REV. JAMES RICHARD HOLDEN. H. and S. Body and face both turned very slightly to the dexter, brown hair and whiskers. Dress: dark coat, white collar, and checked cravat. Oval. M. See Nos. 1 and 2.

4. . . . HOLDEN. H. and S. Man, body turned slightly to the sinister, face full, tinted wig resting on the shoulders, clean shaven. Dress: a loose blue robe, white shirt, with tight band round the throat. In sham oval. M.
 It is a copy of a picture at Aston Hall, Derby, and is called "Mr. Councillor Holden," probably, therefore, Robert Holden, of Aston, barrister-at-law, who died 17th June, 1746, aged seventy, and whose only daughter and heir, Mary Holden, married James Shuttleworth, of Gawthorpe, in Lancashire.

5. DR. SAMUEL JOHNSON. H. and S. Face full, but leaning towards the dexter side, short powdered wig, clean shaven. Dress: brown coat and waistcoat, a red curtain hangs behind. M.
 Samuel Johnson, the great lexicographer; born 1709. Died 1784. See D. N. B., xxx, 31.

6. MAN. T.Q.L. Body and face both full, short fair hair, moustache, and pointed beard. Dress: black doublet and hose, with a cloak over the left shoulder, a large white lace collar, and similar cuffs; the left hand raised, and elbow of the arm resting on something; the right hand, holding gloves, rests on a table with red cloth, on the table a hat. L. Supposed to be by Cornelius Janssens. It is c. 1630. Aged about forty-five.
 It was purchased at Lord Byron's sale at Newstead Abbey.

7. MAN. H. and S. Full face, long curly wig, clean shaven, lace cravat hanging down with two ends loose. Garter robes, the chain with the George hanging round the neck. M. Oval. c. 1690. Aged about thirty.
 This probably represents George I.

8. LADY. H. and S. Full face, fair hair, curls on either side of head, puffed out. Dress: red, loose and looped up with jewel and pearls, a white undergarment, cut low, with white tucker; a white under-sleeve apparent on left arm. In sham oval. M. c. 1690. Aged about twenty-five.

9. LADY. H. and S. Full face, body turned slightly to the sinister, fair hair in curls at the top of the head. Dress: red, cut low, with white under-bodice; there is a blue robe over the shoulders, and a jewel on the right side. Oval. M. Signed: "G. Kneller." c. 1690. Aged about twenty-five.

LANGHAM HALL

The Property of Mrs. Fuller Maitland Wilson, 1905

I.

LIEUT.-COLONEL FULLER MAITLAND WILSON. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the dexter; whiskers. Dress: coat, waistcoat, and bow tie, with collar. M. Crayon. On it: "Geo. Richmond. del. 1852." See No. 2.

Fuller Maitland, eldest son of Henry Wilson, of Stowlangtoft, by Mary Fuller, his first wife, elder daughter of Ebenezer Fuller Maitland. He was born 27th August, 1825, and died in 1875.

2. LIEUT.-COLONEL FULLER MAITLAND WILSON. H.L. Young man (about eighteen), full face, fair hair. Dress: blue jacket with gold buttons, a blue and white striped shirt, and white collar. A river scene behind. S. By Margaret Carpenter. See No. 1.

3. MRS. FULLER MAITLAND WILSON. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the dexter, hair flat at the top, and filled out on either side of the face. Dress: a loose costume, with white round the throat. M. Crayon. On it: "Geo Richmond del. 1852."

LAYHAM—OVERBURY HALL

The Property of Mr. John Fairlie Thomas Dipnall, 1904

I.

LUKE BROOKS. H.L. Seated, full face. Dress: black coat, canary-coloured waistcoat, white shirt and stock. Curtain behind. M.

Luke Brooks, of Layham, Suffolk. He died about 1873, at the age of fifty.

2. QUEEN ELIZABETH? H. and S. Young lady, fair hair, pearls on the top of the head. Dress: white, embroidered in gold, large ruff, and large jewelled chain round the neck and front of bodice. S. On canvas. It is said to be Queen Elizabeth when quite a young girl.

Elizabeth, Queen of England and Ireland; born 1533. Died 1603. See D. N. B., xvii, 203.

3. PHILIP II OF SPAIN. H. and S. Full face, short hair, slightly red, pointed beard and moustache. Dress: black doublet studded with silver, ruff, and white satin sleeves. M. On panel.

It is said to be Philip II of Spain, son of the Emperor Charles V, husband of Queen Mary of England; born 1527. Died in Spain, 1598. See D. N. B., xxxvi, 343.

LIVERMERE PARK

The Property of Lord de Saumarez, 1905

In dealing with the collections of pictures belonging to Lord and Lady de Saumarez at Shrubland, Livermere, Broke Hall, and of 43, Grosvenor Place, London, I have tried to separate those which belong to the western side of Suffolk from those which belong to the eastern, recording only the former here, and all that are recorded are believed to have been at one time on the walls of Livermere. From the will of John Turnor, of Langham Hall, Bury St. Edmunds, and Livermere, we learn that he bequeathed everything to Baptist Lee, who was residing here about 1740, for he purchased the property in 1722, and died in 1768. The mother of John Turnor was "Lady" Isabella, natural daughter of Baptist May. Therefore a great many of the pictures here, named and unnamed, were once probably in the possession of that notorious courtier of the reign of Charles II.

I.

NATHANIEL LEE ACTON. T.Q.L. Seated, body turned to the sinister, face only slightly so, powdered hair. Dress: black coat, white cravat, white cuffs at wrists, knee breeches, buckles at knees, white stockings. Dark background. M. By George Romney.

Nathaniel Lee, son of Nathaniel Acton, of Bramford, by his wife, Caroline, daughter of John Wearg; married first, Susanna, daughter of Sir Thomas Miller; second, Penelope, daughter of Rev. Sir Richard Nelson Rycroft. He died 1st January, 1836, aged seventy-nine.

N.B.—This picture is now (1907) at 43, Grosvenor Place.

2. MRS. NATHANIEL LEE ACTON. T.Q.L. Seated, body turned to the dexter, face only slightly so, powdered hair, blue ribbons on top of head. Dress: white, short waisted, blue sash round waist, hands crossed on the lap. Scenery behind. M. By George Romney.

Susannah, eldest daughter of Sir Thomas Miller, 5th Bart., M.P. for Portsmouth, by Hannah, his first wife, daughter of Mr. Alderman Black, of Norwich; married, as his first wife, to Nathaniel Lee Acton, of Livermere Park, Suffolk.

Nos. 2 and 3 are now (1907) at 43, Grosvenor Place.

Charles, son of Sir Basil Firebrace, of the City of London, merchant, Sheriff in 1687, knighted that same year, and on 28th July, 1698, created a Baronet, by Mary, daughter of Thomas Hough, of London, merchant. He was born in 1679; succeeded to the Baronetcy 7th May, 1724; married Margaret, daughter of Sir John Cordell, 2nd Bart., of Long Melford, sister and co-heir of Sir John Cordell, 3rd Bart. He died 2nd August, 1727.

12. MRS. CHARLES FIREBRACE. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, body turned slightly to the sinister. Dress: gray satin, cut open and V shape, with a dark blue robe behind, which is carried below the open bodice in front, fastened there and on the shoulder with large jewels; ropes of large pearls suspended between the jewels, the forefinger of the left hand supporting them; the right hand holds a peach; on the dexter side is a marble-topped pedestal, and on the sinister side is a dish of peaches. Curtain behind, clouds on the sinister side. L.

Margaret, daughter of Sir John Cordell, of Long Melford, Bart., by his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Waldegrave, of Smallbridge, Suffolk; born 1765; married, 1710, Charles Firebrace. She died and was buried at Long Melford, 21st May, 1712.

13. SIR CORDELL FIREBRACE, 3RD BART. T.Q.L. Full face, body turned slightly to the sinister, wig powdered and curly, reaching to the shoulders. Dress: puce coat, with buttons down the front, white shirt tight round the neck, cravat white, just crossed over, white sleeves just apparent; a blue robe, which is over the left shoulder and arm, passes behind, and falls on a table on the dexter side of the picture, whereon rests the right hand; the left hand wears a white gauntlet glove, holds another, and rests on the hip; sword hilt just apparent on the sinister side. Dark background. L.

Cordell, only son and heir of Sir Charles Firebrace, 2nd Bart., by Margaret his wife, daughter of Sir John Cordell, 2nd Bart. of Long Melford; born 20th February, 1711-2, at St. Giles's-in-the-Fields, succeeded to the baronetcy 2nd August, 1727; M.P. for Suffolk March, 1735, till his death; he married, 26th October, 1737, Bridget, widow of Edward Evers of Ipswich and of Washingley, co. Lincoln, third daughter of Philip Bacon, of Ipswich, second son of Sir Nicholas Bacon, K.B., of Shrubland Hall, Suffolk. He died s.p., 28th March, 1759, aged forty-seven.

14. MRS. AUSTIN PARK GODDARD. H. and S. Full face, quite young, fair hair. Dress: a white bodice, cut low, light blue robe over. S. Oval. It is named "Anne Parker."

It is probably Anne, second daughter of Hugh Parker, eldest son of Sir Harry Parker, 2nd Bart., by Anne his wife, eldest daughter and co-heir of John Smith; she married Austin Park Goddard, Knight of the Military Order of St. Stephen in Tuscany.

15. ALEXANDER HYDE, BISHOP OF SALISBURY. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, body turned slightly to the dexter, with a long black wig on the head. Dress: the canonical robes of a bishop; on the sinister side behind is a blue curtain with a gold fringe, the straight-backed chair, on which the bishop is seated, has a similar fringe round the seat and on the arms. A column behind on the dexter side. L.

Alexander Hyde, son of Sir Lawrence Hyde, Knt., of Dyneton, co. Wilts; born 1598; Fellow of New College, Oxford; D.C.L., 1632; Sub-dean of Salisbury, 1637; Dean of Winchester, 1660; Bishop of Salisbury, 1665. He died in 1667. See D. N. B., xxviii, 366.

16. SIR ARTHUR HYDE. H.L. Full face, short hair, beard and moustache. Dress: in armour, with a small ruff collar; he holds a baton in the right hand, the left rests on a helmet with plume of feathers. On it in the sinister top corner: "ætatis 30. 1578," and there is something at the top right corner, probably a motto. There are also initials A H., in the form of a monogram, on the picture. M.

N.B.—I have failed to find anything in the Hyde pedigrees which will with certainty identify this portrait. There was a second son of William Hyde of South Denchworth (about 1567) by his wife Alice, daughter of Sir Thomas Essex, Knt., of Lambourn, called "Sir Arthur Hyde of Cazanedo Co Cork."

Sir Edward Hyde, Knt., Lord High Chancellor of England, 1657-1667; elevated to the peerage, as Baron Hyde of Hindon, 1660; created Earl of Clarendon, etc., 1661; he married Frances, daughter, and eventually sole heir, of Sir Thomas Aylesbury, Bart.; died at Rouen in Normandy, 19th December, 1674. See D. N. B., xxviii, 370.

18. EDWARD HYDE, EARL OF CLARENDON. H. and S. Full face, long curly brown wig. Dress: a brown robe, showing sleeves with white lace, muslin cravat, just crossed over. S. See No. 17.

19. LADY HYDE. H.L. Full face, hair turned back from forehead. Dress: white, edged with black, muslin bodice and sleeves, small ruff collar, cloak over shoulders; both hands are in front clasping a book and red purse? A ring on forefinger of right hand. In the top corners of the picture are these words: "Plus pensire, qui dire" "1578 ae. 24." There are also initials "E H," in the form of a monogram, on the picture.

This is probably the wife of Sir Arthur Hyde. See No. 16.

20. BRIDGET, LADY PARKER. H. and S. Body turned slightly to the sinister, face even more so, hair high and powdered. Dress: white folded satin bodice, with a pale blue lining, and a blue coat over it. Dark background. M. By George Romney.

Bridget, daughter of William Cresswell, of Cresswell, co. Northumberland; married, 1765, Sir Harry Parker, 6th Bart. She died at Long Melford, and was buried there, 29th January, 1807, in the sixty-third year of her age. Her funeral hatchment at Melford Hall has on it: "Lady Parker. 1807."

21. HARRY PARKER. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, clear complexion, long curly wig. Dress: a red robe with a white cravat. S. Oval.

Harry, second son of Sir Henry Parker, 2nd Bart., by Margaret his wife, daughter of Alexander Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury; he married a daughter of Dr. Harrison, Master of St. Cross, Winchester, and died s.p.

22. SIR HARRY PARKER, 6TH BART. H.L. Seated, body turned to the dexter, face only slightly so, clean shaven, short powdered wig, turned up, and with bunch behind. Dress: a blue coat with gold buttons, canary-coloured waistcoat, white shirt, frill, and white stock, tight round the neck, white frills round the wrists, both hands rest on an open book which is on a table covered with a green cloth. M. By Sir Joshua Reynolds. See No. 23.

Harry, eldest son of Sir Hyde Parker, 5th Bart., Admiral of the Blue, by Sarah, daughter of Hugh Smithson; born 1735; married, 1765, Bridget, daughter of William Cresswell, of Cresswell, co. Northumberland. He died 15th January, 1812, aged seventy-seven.

23. SIR HARRY PARKER, 6TH BART. H. and S. Face and body both turned slightly to the dexter, clean shaven, clear complexion, powdered wig, short and turned up, apparently with a bunch behind. Dress: black, with white frill in front and cuffs at the wrists, the shirt or stock tight round the neck; the arms folded in front. M. By George Romney. See No. 22.
24. HARRY JOHN PARKER. H. and S. Full face, quite young, fair hair. Dress: naval uniform. S. Oval. By Schetky. On the back: "Harry John Parker, midshipman, 2nd son of Sir Harry Parker, 6th Baronet, Born 25 May 1768. Lost with his grandfather Vice Admiral Sir Hyde Parker in H M Cato. in 1783."

Henry Parker, son of Henry Parker, by Margaret, daughter of John White; born about 1640; M.P. for Evesham 1679-1700, and for Aylesbury 1704-1705; Recorder of Evesham, 1684-1686; succeeded to the Baronetcy, 1696-7; rebuilt the mansion at Honington, in Warwickshire. He married, 29th March, 1665, Mary, daughter of Alexander Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury. He died 25th October, 1713, in his seventh-fourth year.
26. SIR HENRY JOHN PARKER, 3RD BART. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full, clean shaven, curly wig just tinted with powder. Dress: a dark robe edged with fur, white cravat. M. ? By Sir Godfrey Kneller.
Henry John, son and heir of Hugh Parker, M.P. for Evesham, by Anne, daughter of John Smith, Commissioner of the Excise (afterwards Countess of Clanricarde); born 1704; succeeded to the Baronetcy 25th October, 1713; matriculated at Oxford 7th July, 1721, aged seventeen. He married first, 23rd October, 1728, Anne, daughter and heir of Simon Barwell, of Leicester; and secondly, Catherine, daughter of John Page, of Wandsworth, Surrey. He died 7th October, 1771.
27. SIR HUGH PARKER, 1ST BART. H.L. Seated, full face, clean shaven, wig to the shoulders. Dress: blue coat, a large white linen collar, joined by the seam in front, and square below; the right hand forward and upturned. M.

Hugh, 2nd son of Thomas Parker, of Hoberton, co. Devon, and Alderman of London; born 1606; married Rachael, daughter of . . . Brown, of Louth, co. Lincoln, by whom he had no issue. Created Baronet 1st July, 1681, with special limitation in the patent to his nephew, Henry, son of his brother Henry by his wife, Margaret, daughter of John White, of London. He died 5th March, 1696-7, aged eighty-nine.

28. HUGH PARKER. H. and S. Full face, long curly wig just tinted with powder. Dress: brown robe and white cravat. S. In oval.

Hugh Parker, eldest son of Sir Henry Parker, 2nd Bart., by Margaret his wife, daughter of Alexander Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury. He married Anne, daughter of John Smith, a Commissioner of Excise, and was the father of Sir Henry John Parker, 3rd Bart. He died in the lifetime of his father, 2nd February, 1712.

29. MRS. HUGH PARKER. H. and S. Full face, dark hair, curl over the left shoulder. Dress: red, with white tucker, and a blue scarf thrown over the left shoulder. S. Oval.

Anne, daughter of John Smith, Commissioner of Excise, and wife of Hugh Parker; surviving him, she afterwards married Michael, 10th Earl of Clanricarde. She died 1st January, 1732-3.

30. SIR HYDE PARKER, 5TH BART. VICE-ADMIRAL OF THE BLUE. T.Q.L. Body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, clean shaven, short white wig turned up, a bright complexion. Dress: naval uniform (Admiral). Two ships on the sea on the sinister side, one of which is a wreck; to them the man is pointing with left hand, right resting on hip. L. By George Romney.

Hyde Parker, son of the Rev. Hyde Parker, Rector of Treddington, co. Worcester, by Mary his wife, daughter of John Reeves. He distinguished himself when he commanded at St. Lucia, and in the memorable action with the Dutch on the Doggerbank, 5th August, 1781. In that year he succeeded his brother as 5th Bart. Married in 1734 to Sarah, daughter of Hugh Smithson. In 1782, appointed to the command in the East Indies, he left in the "Cato," and, sailing from Rio Janeiro on 12th December, was never heard of again.

31. SIR HYDE PARKER, KNT. ADMIRAL OF THE WHITE. F.L. Standing on sea shore, body full, face slightly to sinister. Dress: naval uniform (a captain), cocked hat on the head; the right hand is downwards, with the sword touching the ground; scenery on the sinister side of the picture, ships on the sea on the dexter side. L. By George Romney. Engraved by James Walker; also engraved in Mahan's "Life of Nelson," as Captain of the "Phoenix." See No. 32.

Hyde, second son of Vice-Admiral Sir Hyde Parker, Bart.; born 1739; knighted 21st April, 1779; married first, Anne, daughter of John Palmer-Boteler; second, Frances, daughter of Admiral Sir Richard Onslow, Bart., G.C.B. He commanded a squadron of frigates in the first American war, and for those services was knighted; he afterwards commanded the fleet in the West Indies, and the Baltic fleet at the Battle of Copenhagen. He died 16th March, 1807, aged sixty-seven. See D. N. B., xliii, 244.

32. SIR HYDE PARKER, KNT. ADMIRAL OF THE WHITE. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the sinister, clean shaven, short powdered wig turned up at sides. Dress: naval uniform. M. By Sir Joshua Reynolds. See No. 31.

33. SIR HYDE PARKER, 8TH BART. F.L. Wading out of a stream, removing meanwhile a fly from his hat; a salmon and fishing rod are lying on the bank. Scenery behind. L.

Hyde, second son of Sir Harry Parker, 6th Bart., by Bridget his wife, daughter of William Cresswell, of Cresswell, Northumberland; born 1785; succeeded to the Baronetcy 21st April, 1830; M.P. for West Suffolk, 1832-1835. He died, unmarried, at Government House, Devonport, 21st March, 1856, aged seventy-one.

34. CAPTAIN HYDE PARKER. T.Q.L. Boy about twelve years old, full face, fair hair. Dress: a short black coat and waistcoat, with white collar and tie, gray trousers. S. In water colours.

Hyde Parker (eldest son of Vice-Admiral Hyde Parker, C.B.), of H.M.S. "Firebrand," "fell gloriously while leading on his men to the storm of a Russian fortification at the Selina mouth of the Danube, July 8. 1854 aged 29 years." From the monument at Melford Church.

35. JOHN PARKER, 1ST EARL OF MORLEY. H.L. Boy, body turned slightly to the sinister, face nearly full. Dress: pink coat and waistcoat, white collar and shirt showing in front. A pony stands on the sinister side of the figure,

JOHN PARKER LORD BORINGDON

ELIZABETH COUNTESS RIVERS
MELFORD HALL No. 40

which is held by the bridle. M. By James Northcote, R.A., when the boy was John, Lord Boringdon.

John Parker, eldest son of John Parker, 1st Lord Boringdon, by his second wife, Theresa Robinson, second daughter of Thomas, 1st Lord Grantham; born 5th May, 1772; succeeded his father as Lord Boringdon 27th April, 1788; married first, 20th June, 1804, Augusta Fane, second daughter of John, Earl of Westmoreland, K.G.; marriage dissolved by Act of Parliament, 1809; married secondly, 21st August, 1809, Frances, daughter of Thomas Talbot, of Wymondham, Norfolk. He was created Earl of Morley 30th September, 1815, and died 14th March, 1840. See D. N. B., xliii, 248.

36. GENERAL RICHARD PARKER. F.L. On horseback, riding towards the dexter side. Dress: full military equipment, and the uniform of the 1st Life Guards. M.

Richard, fourth son of Admiral Sir Hyde Parker, Knt., by his first wife, Anne, daughter of John Palmer-Boteler. He was Hon. Colonel of the 5th Dragoon Guards, and died unmarried, March, 1885, aged eighty-one.

37. THOMAS PARKER. H. and S. Full face, dark hair, moustache, and bunch on chin. Dress: dark, with small linen collar and tassel; the left hand forward. M. Ascribed to "Sir Thomas Parker." c. 1600-1650.

Probably Thomas Parker, son of John Parker, by Frances his wife, daughter of Jeronomy Mayhew, of Boringdon, co. Devon. He was aged twenty-six in 1620.

William Hyde, second son of Sir William Parker, 9th Bart., of Melford Hall, Suffolk, by Sophia Mary, second daughter of Nathaniel Clark Barnardiston, of the Ryes; born 1863; succeeded his father in 1891; married, 18th of November, 1890, Ethel, only daughter of the late John Leech, of Gorse Hall, Cheshire.

39. SIR HYDE PARKER, 8TH BART., JOHN WELLER POLEY, AND THOMAS PETCH. A group of three figures. (1) In the centre a man, F.L., leaning against a chestnut horse. Dress: a gray coat, drab trousers. (2) On the dexter side a man, F.L., on a pony, with his face turned to the sinister. Dress: a gray coat, brown trousers, white tall hat, placed well on the back of the head. (3) On the sinister side a man, F.L., standing in shooting costume, with a gun over the left shoulder, the body turned to the dexter, the face full. Scene: the park of Melford, with the Hall in the background, a liver and white spaniel dog on the dexter side of the central figure, with the tall black hat of its master in its mouth; two pointers rest at the feet of No. 3; the bag consisting of a brace of partridges and a hare in the foreground. L. By E. Havell. 1840.

(1) Sir Hyde Parker, 8th Baronet. See No. 35.

(2) John Weller Poley, of Boxted Hall; born 1812. He died 5th September, 1869.

(3) Thomas Petch, the gamekeeper.

40. ELIZABETH SAVAGE, COUNTESS RIVERS. H.L. Full face, fair hair, curly. Dress: black, cut low and round, white tucker, four ropes of pearls in front, one other rope round the neck, and two huge pear-shaped pearl earrings in the ears; a pearl ornament set in gold at the back of the head. M. On it: "Elizabeth Countess Rivers." Purchased at the Hengrave sale. Probably by Sir Peter Lely.

Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas, Lord Darcy, of Chiche, Viscount Colchester and Earl Rivers, by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir Thomas Kytson, of Hengrave, by his second wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Thomas Cornwallis, of Brome, Suffolk; born 1851. She was the wife of Thomas Savage, Viscount Savage; she was created Countess Rivers for life by patent, 21st April, 17 Charles I. She died 9th March, 1650, and is buried at St. Osyth. Her husband died 20th November, 1635.

41. BEATA, LADY WINFORD. F.L. Little child, seated on a green bank, full face, fair hair. Dress: white, cut low, with sleeves to the elbow; a rose-coloured robe passes over right shoulder, over the knees in front, and is carried behind; a lamb, with wreaths of flowers round its neck, stands on the dexter side of the figure, and the right hand of the child is over its head, whilst with the left hand it holds other flowers before its mouth. Scenery behind. It is named: "Beata Banks née Parker."

Beata, third daughter of Sir Henry Parker, 2nd Bart., by Margaret his wife, daughter of Alexander Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury; married, as his first wife, Sir Thomas Cookes Winford, Bart., of Glashampton. She died 29th November, 1753.

42. MAN. H. and S. Full face, short gray wig, turned up. Dress: blue coat, black waistcoat, white shirt tight round the neck, frill showing in front; the right hand forward, showing sleeves of shirt; fingers tucked into the waistcoat. M. c. 1760.

MELFORD—KENTWELL HALL

The Property of Mr. E. Starkie Bence, 1904-1906

I.

EDWARD ROBERT STARKIE BENCE. F.L. Standing by a horse. Dress: in uniform of King's Dragoon Guards. Scenery behind, retriever dog on the dexter side. M. Painted in Dublin in 1850.

Edward Robert Starkie Bence, of Kentwell Hall, Melford, second son of Henry Bence Sparrow, afterwards (1804) Bence, of Thorington Hall, by Elizabeth Susanna, daughter and co-heiress of Nicholas Starkie, of Frenchwood, co. Lancaster; baptized 27th August, 1823; Captain in King's Dragoon Guards; High Sheriff of Suffolk, 1861; married, 30th July, 1850, Eliza Charlotte Albinia, daughter of George James Sullivan, of Wilmington, Ryde. He died in 1850.

N.B.—There is a F.L. portrait of Captain E. Starkie Bence, painted in 1840-1850, at Brecon, S. Wales.

2. MISS ALICE MAUD STARKIE BENCE. F.L. Child, seated on a cushion, right hand upwards, left hand holding a ring, and ball on the cushion. S. Circular frame. Water colour. She is aged two.

Alice Maud, youngest daughter of E. R. Starkie Bence; baptized at Long Melford 1868.

3. THE MISSES STARKIE BENCE. Two girls. F.L. (1) On the dexter side, standing, body to sinister, face full. (2) On the sinister side, seated, body and face to the dexter. Dresses: white muslin, with tartan sashes. S. Oval. Water colour.

Two of the daughters of Captain E. R. Starkie Bence by Eliza Charlotte Albinia his wife, daughter of George James Sullivan.

4. ANNE CLOPTON. H.L. Body and face both full, black hood, edged with white, over the head. Dress: white, pleated bodice, white muslin round the throat and over the chest; both hands forward, holding a book. M. Panel. c. 1560-1565.

Probably Anne, wife of William Clopton, second son of William Clopton, of Kentwell, by Margaret Jermyn. Her husband died in 1558, a young man, she might, therefore, have been about twenty years of age in 1560.

5. SIR (PETER?) CLOPTON. H. and S. Full face, fair curly wig. Dress: an olive green coat, lined with orange, and gold buttons; white shirt tight round the neck. Set in sham oval. M. c. 1720.

This is called Sir Peter Clopton or Sir William Clopton. From the date of the costume, if it be an East Anglian Clopton, it must be William Clopton, son of William Clopton, of Liston Hall, Essex, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Sir William Poley, Knt., of Boxted. He married Anne, daughter of Edward Crisp, of Bury; his daughter married the Rev. Gilbert Affleck, of Dalham. See Pedigree B, "Visitation of Suffolk." By J. J. Howard. It is not recorded when he died. His younger brother was fifty-six in 1726.

6. . . . ELMY. H. and S. Man, face nearly full, body turned to the dexter, clean shaven, brown hair. Dress: an artistic costume of brown, with a white turnover collar, somewhat Byronic. S. c. 1815. Aged twenty-five.

This portrait is called "Mr Elmy, uncle of Col Bence." If so, it should be a son of William Elmy, of Beccles, by Catherine, daughter of Peter Pulleyn of Halesworth, whose daughter Harriet was married, 16th May, 1786, to Rev. Bence Sparrow, and who died 9th June, 1801. However, I have no record of a son, and Harriet is called in the Bence Pedigree, "Registers of Thorington," by T. S. Hill, 1884, "dau. and heir."

Louise Renée de Penancoët de Kérouaille; born in Brittany, 1647-1649; accompanied Henrietta, Duchess of Orleans, to England; became mistress of Charles II; created Duchess of Portsmouth in 1673; retired to Paris, where she died. See D. N. B., xxxi, 59.

N.B.—This portrait is identical with the one in the National Portrait Gallery, No. 497, by Pierre Mignard, painted in Paris in 1682. It has always been styled "Miss Moore." See D. N. B., xxxi, 59.

MILDENHALL—MANOR HOUSE

The Property of Sir Henry Bunbury, Bart., 1905

I.

CHARLES JOHN BUNBURY, "MASTER BUNBURY." H.L.

Young boy, seated full face, long fair hair. Dress: a brown coat, with a white shirt, the latter open at the neck, the former fastened below, buff waistcoat and breeches; hands resting on his legs. A tree and scenery in the background. M. By Sir Joshua Reynolds, P.R.A. Painted in 1780.

This is engraved in mezzotint by Francis Haward, 1781.

Charles John, eldest son of Henry William Bunbury, the caricaturist, by Catherine his wife, daughter of Captain Kane Horneck; born November, 1772; an officer in the army; married Frances Davison, and died in 1798.

N.B.—This picture was sold at Messrs. Christie's, on 5th July, 1907, for £5,600.

2. SIR HENRY CHARLES JOHN BUNBURY, 10TH BART. H. and S.
Body full, face turned slightly to the dexter. Dress: in naval uniform. M. Crayon. By Eden Upton Eddis.

Henry Charles John, eldest son of Henry William St. Pierre Bunbury, Colonel in the Army; born 9th January, 1855; succeeded as 10th Bart., 1895; married 11th March, 1884, Louisa, third daughter of General Thomas Wood, M.P., of Littleton, Middlesex, and Gwernyfed Park, Brecon.

3. COLONEL HENRY WILLIAM ST. PIERRE BUNBURY. H. and S.
Full face, gray hair, whiskers and moustache. M. Crayon. Signed: "E. U. E. 1870."

Henry William St. Pierre, third son of Sir Henry Edward Bunbury, 7th Bart., by his first wife, Louisa Emilia, daughter of General the Hon. Henry Edward Fox; born 2nd September, 1812; Colonel in the Army; C.B.; married, 30th November, 1852, Cecilia, daughter of Lieutenant-General Sir George Napier, K.C.B. Died 18th September, 1875.

4. HENRY WILLIAM BUNBURY (ARTIST). H.L. Young boy, fair long hair. Dress: a blue-gray coat, white collar, white waistcoat spotted with gold, the right hand forward, holding a glove; scenery behind. This was given by Mrs. Jordan to Sir Henry Bunbury, the 7th Bart.

Henry William, second son of Rev. Sir William Bunbury, 5th Bart., by Eleanor, daughter of Henry Vere Graham, of Wix Abbey, Essex, and Holbrook Hall, Suffolk; born in 1750; married, in 1771, Catherine, daughter of Captain Kane Horneck. He died 7th May, 1811, aged sixty. See D. N. B., vii, 267.

5. MRS. GWYN AND MRS. HENRY WILLIAM BUNBURY. Two ladies, H.L. (1) On the sinister side of the picture, the face turned decidedly to the dexter, with her back to view, brown hair. Dress: white, cut low. (2) On the dexter side of the picture, with the face downwards; this figure is leaning on the shoulder of the other, with right hand upwards. Dress: white, trimmed with pink. M. By Sir Joshua Reynolds, P.R.A. He died 8th April, 1708, and is buried at Bruges. His wife died on 12th October, 1726, and is also buried at Bruges. See D. N. B., xxix, 344.

N.B.—There is another portrait of Lord Dover at Cheveley, which was at Hengrave.

33. JUDITH, LADY JERMYN? T.Q.L. Full face, red hair dressed high, a tiara of diamonds behind the top of the head. Dress: black, with a pointed stomacher of white lace and a large muslin ruff behind, two rows of silver chains round the neck and on either side of the stomacher. The dress is also embroidered in silver, cut low and round, gold pendant on the left side, pearl necklace and drop; the right hand holds a white fan, and rests on a table with a red cloth, having a gold border; the left is downwards, rows of pearls round the wrists. L. c. 1580. Aged about twenty-five.

This is probably Judith, daughter of Sir George Blagge, by his wife, Dorothy Badby, daughter of Thomas Badby, of Bury. She married, about 1571, Sir Robert Jermyn, of Rushbrooke.

N.B.—The picture is called "Queen Elizabeth" in the House catalogue.

34. MARY, LADY JERMYN. T.Q.L. Seated, face and body turned slightly to the sinister, with curls on either side of the face. Dress: blue, embroidered in gold, cut square, with turned down lace collar, and elbow sleeves, pearl necklace, and two rows of pearls on the arms; she sits on a red velvet chair. Background dark. L.

Mary, daughter of Edmund Barber, and widow of Thomas Newton, of Edgefield in Norfolk; married at Rushbrooke, in March, 1641-2, to Sir Thomas Jermyn, of Rushbrooke, as his second wife. She died 19th September, 1679, and is buried at Bury St. Edmunds.

35. MRS ROBERT JERMYN? AND A CHILD. T.Q.L. (1) Full face, brown hair, dressed high, ringlets at the side. Dress: white, embroidered with orange silk, pointed stomacher, lace collar, brown and gold velvet cloak fastened over the shoulders, with long lappet sleeves, lace cuffs, pearl necklace, and red jewels round the neck. (2) Standing on the dexter side a little girl, full face. Dress: reddy-orange, cut low, with full skirt and enormous hips, necklace like the mother's, hair done high, with ornaments on the head, pear-shaped pearls on it, and pearls round the wrists. The two figures are beneath a grand archway, draped with curtain on the dexter side, and scenery through the arch on the sinister side. L. c. 1610.

Dorothy, daughter of Sir Henry Warner, of Mildenhall; married, about 1603-4, to Robert, second son of Sir Robert Jermyn, of Rushbrooke, by Judith his wife, daughter of Sir George Blagge. They had two daughters, baptized at Rushbrooke, Ann in 1606, Elizabeth in 1608, either of whom might be the little girl in the picture.

N.B.—It is also suggested that this picture might represent Catherine, Lady Jermyn, first wife of Sir Thomas Jermyn, whose little girl was poisoned in 1604.

35. SIR THOMAS JERMYN. T.Q.L. Full face, gray beard and moustache, a tall black beaver hat on the head; the right hand, gloved, holds a staff; the left hand holds a similar gauntleted glove, rings on forefinger. Dress: dark, with a white ruff collar. The arms of Jermyn, with crest, are on the top dexter corner, and "aet suae 66., anº 1622." Engraved in "Rushbrooke Registers," by S. H. A. H., p. 232.

Thomas, eldest son of Sir Robert Jermyn, by Judith his wife, daughter of Sir George Blagge and Dorothy his wife; born 1573; he married first, Catherine, daughter of Sir William Killegrew; and second, Mary, daughter of Edmund Barber, and widow of Thomas Newton, of Edgefield, Norfolk. He was buried at Rushbrooke, 7th January, 1645.

N.B.—With regard to this portrait, it is curious to note that the date should be 1639 and not 1622, when Sir Thomas was sixty-six years of age.

37. THOMAS JERMYN. T.Q.L. Full face, a profusion of brown hair, and a small moustache. Dress: black, slashed, showing white beneath at the elbow, and the dress is open in front, showing again the white beneath; a large rich lace collar with tassel, turned back lace cuffs; he wears sword-belt and sword; there is a red covered table on the dexter side, the elbow of the right arm rests on it and hand down; the left hand also rather outwards. On it: "Ætatis 39, anno 1640." Dark background. See No. 38.

Thomas, second, but eldest surviving, son of Sir Thomas Jermyn, by Catherine, his first wife, daughter of Sir William Killegrew; born in or about 1602; he married Rebecca Rodway, who, after his death, re-married Rt. Hon.

Henry Viscount Brouncker. He died 11th November, 1659, aged fifty-eight years. S. H. A. H. in "Rushbrooke Registers," says: "I presume this is the portrait mentioned in the will of his widow Rebecka, Lady Brouncker, she desires it may be 'sent to Rushbrooke to be hang'd up there.'" For a portrait of Rebecca, Lady Brouncker, see Hunston, No. 2.

38. THOMAS JERMYN. H.L. Full face, profusion of brown hair and a small moustache. Dress: black, with a large rich lace collar and tassel, turned back lace cuffs. Background dark. M. This is evidently a smaller replica. See No. 37.

39. MRS. KNOTT. T.Q.L. Seated, body and face both nearly full. Dress: red, loose, and cut slightly low, white sleeves to elbow, a blue robe rests on the knees, with a brown scarf over head and shoulders. Column on the sinister side, scenery on the dexter, book on lap, which is held by the right hand, the left clutches the scarf.

N.B.—This is similar to a picture at Hampton Court, which is named "Mrs. Knott."

40. MRS. PAKE? T.Q.L. Seated, full face, fair hair and curls. Dress: blue, with white tucker, white sleeves, and red robe. Scenery behind. L. ? By Sir Peter Lely. c. 1700.

Penelope, third daughter of Sir Robert Davers, 2nd Bart., by Mary his wife, eldest daughter of Thomas, Lord Jermyn; she was born 1690; married, in November, 1723, to Samuel Pake, M.D., of Bury St. Edmunds. Buried at Rushbrooke in February, 1725, aged thirty-five.

41. EDWARD PROGER. H.L. Body and face both turned to the dexter, long brown hair. Dress: in armour, with yellow embroidered doublet, which is apparent in the sleeve of the left arm. M. By Sir Anthony Van Dyck. Engraved in "West Stow Registers" by S. H. A. H.

Edward, son of Philip Proger, of Gwernvale, near Crickhowell, co. Brecon; born about 1621; Keeper of His Majesty's Palace at York, 1670; became owner of West Stow, Suffolk. Died 31st December, 1713, aged ninety-six, "of the anguish. of cutting teeth."

42. MRS. ROBINSON ("PERDITA"). H. and S. Body full, face turned to the dexter, hair dressed high and powdered, curl on either side, clear complexion. Dress: white and open in front, a black velvet round the throat. Scenery, a sea-scape on the dexter side. M. By Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Mary Robinson, known as "Perdita," actress, author, and mistress of George, Prince of Wales, afterwards George IV. She was Miss Darby, born in 1758, and she married Thomas Robinson in 1774. Her portrait was painted by most of the great artists of the day. She died in 1800. See D. N. B., xlix, 30.

43. BARHAM RUSHBROOKE. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the sinister, in powdered wig. Dress: a black coat, with white cravat. M. In pastel.

Barham, son of Robert Rushbrooke, of Honington; he married, 19th January, 1749, Elizabeth, only child of John Edwards, of West Stow, Suffolk; he was Counsellor-at-law, and lived mostly at Mildenhall. He died at his house, West Stow Hall, in November, 1782. His widow died at West Stow on 23rd August, 1794, aged sixty-one.

44. ROBERT RUSHBROOKE. T.Q.L. Full face, gray hair and ruddy complexion, clean shaven. Dress: dark green, double-breasted coat, leather breeches; he holds a gun under the right arm, and has a leather strap which holds a bag over the right shoulder, and a whistle hangs on the strap; the arms of the figure are crossed, and a fob seal is just apparent; there is a dog at his feet on the sinister side, and a picture of Rushbrooke Hall in the background, with trees and stormy sky. L. By John Jackson, R.A.

Robert, son of Barham Rushbrooke and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of John Edwards; married, in 1778, Mary Grubb, of the ancient family of Grubb of Horsendon, co. Bucks. He died 1829.

45. COLONEL ROBERT RUSHBROOKE. F.L. Seated, body turned to the sinister, face very nearly full, fair hair and complexion, very small whiskers. Dress: uniform, red double-breasted coat, cut away, yellow facings, gold epaulettes, a red scarf round the waist, dark breeches, and black boots; he is on a garden seat with a dog at his feet, and holds a book in left hand. Trees at the back of seat, ships on water to the sinister, with land beyond, rocks at his feet. L.

Robert, son of Robert Rushbrooke and his wife, Mary Grubb; M.P. for the Western Division of Suffolk; born 2nd July, 1779; married, 23rd May, 1808, Frances, illegitimate daughter of Sir Charles Davers, Bart. He died 1845. See No. 46.

46. COLONEL ROBERT RUSHBROOKE. H. and S. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister, brown hair and whiskers. Dress: black coat, fur collar and cuffs, the coat is strapped across the front, white cravat, and black stock; the hands are crossed. There is a red curtain behind. M. See No. 45.

47. MRS. ROBERT RUSHBROOKE. H.L. Full face, hair curly and brown, wreath of flowers at the top of the head. Dress: black, cut square, muslin scarf round the throat, gold chain with ornament round neck, right arm downwards, left hand forward, rings on third and little fingers; red cloak over left arm. Background vague. M.

Frances, illegitimate daughter of Sir Charles Davers, and wife of Colonel Robert Rushbrooke, M.P. She died 1851.

48. MRS. TRIMMER. H.L. Face turned slightly to the dexter, and body full, white hair, clear complexion, a mob cap on the head. Dress: pale blue satin, with white fichu and small black shawl, white tucker, short sleeves to elbow; she holds in the right hand a quill pen, and a pair of spectacles in the left, this arm rests on a Bible; there is an ink-pot, with more pens, and a red book in front. A red curtain behind. M. This is possibly a copy of the picture of Mrs. Trimmer in National Portrait Gallery, by Henry Howard, R.A.

Sarah, daughter of Joshua Kirby, a painter and writer of perspective, who was born at Ipswich; at the age of twenty-two she married James Trimmer, of Brentwood. She was a popular authoress. She died 1810, and is buried at Ealing, Middlesex. See D. N. B., lvii, 231.

49. MRS. JOHN ALFRED TRIMMER. H.L. Full face, black ringlets, flower in the hair. Dress: green velvet, cut low, wide lace tucker, sleeves slashed with pink, pink waistband, gold necklace with ornament, feather fan in right hand; she sits on a red sofa, with her left hand to the face. Behind it: "M^{rs} Alfred Trimmer née Feilding by Howard."

... daughter of Hon. and Rev. James Feilding, son of the Earl of Denbigh; wife of John Alfred Trimmer, of Haslemere, Surrey, whose daughter Violette Emily married Col. Robert Frederick Brownlow Rushbrooke, the father of Robert Wyndham Rushbrooke, the present owner of the collection.

50. MISS JULIA TRIMMER. H.L. Full face, brown curly hair. Dress: white, with very short waist, open at the neck, sleeves to elbow, ribbon round the waist and in the hair. Scenery in the background. M. By H. Howard, R.A.

Julia, daughter of James Trimmer, by Sarah his wife, the authoress.

51. MRS. WILLIAM TRIMMER. T.Q.L. Aged lady, full face, brown hair, lace cap on the head. Dress: black, with white lace collar, black shawl and mittens. She sits on a high red-backed chair, red curtain behind. Water colour. S.

. . . , wife of William Trimmer, who was the son of James Trimmer by his wife Sarah, the authoress.

52. MASTER ARTHUR AND MISS SARAH TRIMMER. Two figures of children. (1) On dexter side, a little girl seated, with a white dress, flowers in her lap, a Dutch lace cap with a blue bow on her head, red shoes. (2) On the sinister side a little boy in a red dress, with a white tucker, short sleeves, and a bird's nest in the hands. Scenery in the background. M. By H. Howard, R.A.

Arthur and Sarah Trimmer, children of William Trimmer, and grandchildren of James Trimmer and his wife Sarah Trimmer, the authoress.

53. SIR THOMAS WENTWORTH, 1ST EARL OF STRAFFORD. H. and S. Full face, short brown hair, with a moustache and short beard. Dress: black, with white muslin collar. M. By Sir Anthony Van Dyck. It is said to be a study for the large picture, engraved as the title-page of "Letters and Dispatches," vol i. London, William Bowyer, 1739.

Thomas Wentworth, son and heir of Sir William Wentworth, Bart., of Wentworth Woodhouse and Gawthorpe, by Anne his wife, daughter and heir of Sir Robert Atkins, of Stowell, co. Gloucester; born on 13th April, 1593; knighted at Royston, 1611; succeeded as 2nd Bart. 1614; M.P. for York, 1621-1622; created, 22nd July, 1628, Baron Wentworth of Wentworth Woodhouse; five months later Viscount Wentworth; and in 1640, Earl of Strafford; he married first, 22nd October, 1611, Margaret, daughter of Francis Clifford, 4th Earl of Cumberland; second, 24th February, 1625, Arabella, second daughter of John Holles, 1st Earl of Clare; and 3rd October, 1632, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Godfrey Rodes, of Great Haughton, co. York. He suffered death on the scaffold 12th May, 1641. See D. N. B., lx, 268.

54. WILLIAM II OF ORANGE. F.L. Boy, body nearly full, face turned partly to the sinister, with a large head and fair hair. Dress: brown, embroidered with gold, long hose, brown gaiters, sandal shoes (no heels to them), and large rosettes thereon; there is a sword fastened behind him; the right hand, uplifted, supports a large brown hat with plume of feathers; the left hand holds a gun by the barrels, pointed to the sinister, it being also apparently supported from the ground. Trees on the sinister side, and scenery, with a Dutch (?) Castle, behind. L.

William, son of Frederick Henry, Prince of Orange; succeeded 1647; he married Mary, daughter of Charles I and Henrietta Maria. He died in 1650.

N.B.—This picture is called in the House catalogue "Prince of Orange," and probably came from Henrietta Maria to the Earl of St. Albans. The costume is rather early for William, Prince of Orange, but the picture may have been painted in Holland, where the style of dress was prevalent for a longer period than in England.

55. LOUISA, MRS. EYRE; AUGUSTA, MRS. DUFFIELD; FANNY, MRS. EDEN. Three figures, T.Q.L. Full faces, with curls. Dresses: white muslin, cut square, open at the neck; the figure on the dexter side has a guitar on the lap and red corals round the neck; the middle one has also red corals, and the third has a music book in the hand. S.

Louisa, Augusta, and Fanny, daughters of Colonel Robert Rushbrooke. Louisa married Lieut.-Colonel Eyre, late of the Grenadier Guards; Augusta Elizabeth married, 1838, Thomas Duffield, of Marcham Park, co. Berks, M.P. for Abingdon; and Fanny Georgiana married Major-General William Eden, late 56th Regiment.

56. MAN. F.L. Full face, moustache, and very small beard. Dress: red, with lace collar, and cuffs; body armour, studded with gold; leather jerkin underneath, also embroidered with gold, and a rich red sash around him; red breeches, Carolean leather boots, with lace at the knee; he stands before a tent, with his helmet on a green-covered table on the sinister side, and camp scenery on the dexter side; the right hand, with a glove, holds a stick, and rests on the ground; the left hand is at the side. S. c. 1640.

57. MAN. H. and S. Face full, body turned to dexter, slight moustache, long brown hair. Dress: in armour, very rich, red scarf over shoulders, with white linen collar. M. c. 1650.

This is in a similar frame to Nos. 58-62. The face is rather like many of the Stuart family. There is also a resemblance to the portrait of William II of Orange, as a boy. By Sir Anthony Van Dyck, at The Hermitage, St. Petersburg. See Gowan's Art Books, "Vandyck."

58. LADY. H. and S. Body full, face turned slightly to sinister, brown ringlets on either side of the face. Dress: black, cut low, with white stomacher, studded with diamonds and pearls; a dead gold scarf over left shoulder, fastened with jewels, pearl pear-shaped earrings and single pearl necklace. S. On panel; behind it: "S. 374."

N.B.—This portrait and five others in exactly similar frames represent six ladies (Nos. 59-62, and No. 7), painted soon after the Restoration (1660). One of them is named Anne, Countess of Middlesex. See No. 7. It is probable that the six ladies were friends of Henrietta Maria, Queen of Charles I, and therefore of the Earl of St. Albans. It is suggested (and with very good reason for the suggestion) in "Rushbrooke Registers," that "these must be the portraits seen by Tom Martin in 1749 when he set down 'Bab May and six Beauties hanging round him.'" S. H. A. H. adds: "Mr. Lionel Cust tells me they are probably by Theodore Russel after Vandyke." There is a gentleman (see No. 57) in a similar frame, but he is certainly not "Bab May."

59. LADY. H. and S. Full face, brown ringlets. Dress: red, cut low and round, slashed, and trimmed with jewels on Indian gauze, and gold scarf is over right shoulder; pearl earrings and necklace. S. On panel; behind it: "S. 375."
60. LADY. H. and S. Face turned slightly to the sinister, fair ringlets. Dress: pink, cut over shoulders and open, two pearls to each earring, pearl necklace, with other pearl and diamond ornaments. S. On panel; behind it: "S. 376."
61. LADY. H. and S. Full face, fair ringlets. Dress: puce colour, cut low, satin scarf over left shoulder, earrings of fine pear-shaped pearls. S. On panel; behind it: "S. 378."
62. LADY. H. and S. Face and body both turned slightly to the sinister, dark ringlets. Dress: white bodice, cut low and round, trimmed with jewels; Indian scarf over right shoulder, pearl earrings and necklace. S. On panel; behind it: "S. 476."
63. LADY. H. and S. Full face, hair dressed high. Dress: yellow, white tucker, blue robes. S. Aged about twenty.
This and six other portraits (Nos. 64-69) may be all dated from 1690 to 1710, and probably represent the children of Sir Robert Davers, 2nd Bart., and his wife, Mary, daughter of Thomas, Lord Jermyn. The frames are black, and uniform in style.

A LADY c 1660
RUSHBROOKE PARK No. 6

64. GIRL. H. and S. Full face, hair turned back. Dress: puce colour, white tucker, blue robe. S. Aged about sixteen.
65. BOY. H. and S. Full face, fair hair. Dress: red, white cravat; right hand forward. S. Aged about fifteen.
66. BOY. H. and S. Full face, large light brown wig. Dress: a brown robe, white cravat just crossed over. S. Aged about fifteen.
67. BOY. H. and S. Full face, fair wig. Dress: brown robe, white cravat. S. Aged about fourteen.
68. GIRL. H. and S. Hair turned back. Dress: red, white tucker, blue cloak, white sleeves. S. Aged about thirteen or fourteen.
69. BOY. H. and S. Fair hair. Dress: white, with blue scarf; left hand out, feeding a parrot. S. Aged about eight.
70. MAN. H. and S. Full face, long brown wig. Dress: a brown robe, with white shirt and sleeves. M. c. 1680.
71. LADY. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, dark hair turned back high over forehead, with gauze over the head. Dress: puce colour, trimmed with gray; the right hand supports the head, the left holds a book. M. ? By Madame Le Brun. c. 1784. Aged about forty.
- This has been supposed to represent Elizabeth, Countess of Bristol (see No. 24). Such is hardly possible. It is not the right date, and there is no resemblance.
72. LADY. H.L. Body and face turned slightly to the sinister, fair hair. Dress: yellow muslin, edged with gold. M. c. 1790.

3. MRS. JOHN MELLING. H.L. See No. 2.

N.B.—This is a similar picture to No. 2, save that the hair and eyes are fair and light in colour.

4. ROBERT MELLING. H.L. Full face, body very slightly turned to the sinister, long curly brown wig. Dress: a blue coat faced with yellow, a crimson cloak thrown over the left arm, the left hand being placed beneath the front of the coat. M. c. 1680.

Robert, son of John Melling, of Somerleyton and St. Olave's, by Anne, his wife; born 1663.

N.B.—Nothing further known of him.

5. THOMAS NORTON AND CHARLES THOMAS NORTON. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, with a little child standing on the sinister side. L. By a local artist.

Thomas Norton, who in 1820 married Harriet, daughter of Charles Baldrey, of Westhall Hall, by Esther Barcham his wife. He purchased the property at Rickingham, which was inherited by his son, Charles Thomas Norton, who died in 1892, aged sixty-nine.

RICKINGHALL

The Property of Mr. William Street, 1903

1. SIR HENRY CROFTS, KNT., AND MISS SUSAN CROFTS. T.Q.L. Full face, wearing moustache and square-trimmed beard. Dress: black doublet with a muslin ruff, etc., his right hand passes round the neck of a little child, standing at the dexter lower corner of the picture, and grasps a book, on which is written SPES . MEA SOLA. The little child has a coral necklace, and in its hand what seems to be a tiny sword with a coral handle. The left hand of the man rests on his hip, the wrist just touching the top of a skull, and by this is written SIC TRANSIT . GLORIA MUNDI. On the forefinger of the man's left hand is a large ring of a red stone cut with the family coat of arms, which consists of a shield, with mantling of seventeenth-century design, and probably a crest. The little finger has on it a jewelled ring. At the top dexter corner is "Ano Dni 1609," and on the opposite side AETATIS SUAE 52. M. On panel. This picture must have hung at Saxham and West Harling.

Henry, son of Thomas Crofts, of Little Saxham Hall, by Susanna his wife, daughter of John Poley, of Badley, near Stowmarket; baptized at Saxham 25th April, 1565; knighted at Dublin 1603; he married Angel, daughter of Sir Lionel Guest. She died in 1608, and was buried in St. John's Church, Dublin. He was scoutmaster to the forces in Ireland, where he remained till near his death. He died 26th December, 1609, and is supposed to have been buried in old St. Paul's, where there was a tablet to him with a long inscription. He left one little daughter and heiress, Susan, who is mentioned in her grandfather's will in 1612; but of her nothing further is known.

2. MISS MARIA CROFTS. H.L. Little child, about three years of age, full face. Dress: a long white gown with a light blue sash over the right shoulder, from which is suspended a trumpet or little hunting horn; in the left hand the child holds a puppy dog by its neck, and in the right hand is a large hat. In top dexter corner: "Ætatis suae 2 yeeres 2 moneths, March 8. 1648."

Maria, daughter of Sir Henry Crofts, Knt., of Saxham, by his second wife, Margaret, daughter of . . .; baptized at Saxham 25th January, 1646; married to Thomas Goddard, of Brampton, Norfolk. She died and was buried at Saxham 26th January, 1722.

3. MISS JOLLY. H. and S. Full face, cap on the head, with curls appearing beneath its top and sides; the face of the lady seems to be that of a person between sixty and seventy. Dress: a covering over the shoulders of muslin, having a network with sprigs of lace thereon, an orange scarf is round her neck above the cape and is fastened in front. On the right of the picture at the back is a screen. S.

4. MISS SUSAN JOLLY. H. and S. Full face, in cap, with curls appearing beneath its top and sides. Dress: a sort of cape over the shoulders, and appearing in front also; it is fastened in front with a brooch. S.

N.B.—This and No. 3 represent members of a family who for many years kept the shop which adjoins the house, where these pictures now are preserved.

Sir Godfrey Kneller, artist, born at Lubeck, 1648. Created a baronet in 1715. He died 7th November, 1723; buried at Twickenham. See D. N. B., xxxi, 240.

6. WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, K.G. H.L. Boy. Aged about ten or eleven, long fair curly hair or wig, face full, body turned to the dexter. Dress: a white coat lined and faced with very pale blue, a white cravat round the throat. The Order of the Garter is on the left breast, and the ribbon of the same over the left shoulder. M. See No. 7.

William Augustus, third son of George II, and Caroline of Anspach, daughter of John Frederick, Margrave of Brandenburg; he was born in 1721, and invested with the Order of the Garter in 1730. He died suddenly on 21st October, 1765. See D. N. B., lxi, 337.

N.B.—This portrait is so like that engraved by John Smith, after a painting by J. Highmore, produced in 1729, and another in full Garter robes painted in 1730, that there can be little doubt of the identity of this picture.

7. WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, K.G. H.L. Body full, face turned to the dexter, clean shaven, with a powdered wig. Dress: blue coat, a red waistcoat; beneath the coat appears the ribbon of the Garter, the Order just being apparent over the lappel of the coat. See No. 6.

N.B.—The features are similar to those on later portraits of the Duke, and it may have come from the same house as Nos. 1, 2, 6, and 9.

8. MAN. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, clean shaven, a wig of long and curly brown hair. Dress: a red gown with bands; the forefinger of the man's right hand is placed within the pages of a little book, which is thus partly open, and discloses a type of ancient characters; the left hand appears to be on a table beside him. L. c. 1680 to 1700.

N.B.—The details of this picture have nearly disappeared, the paint having worn off the canvas. The face only retains its original character.

9. LADY. H.L. Face and body both turned slightly to the sinister. Dress: blue, cut open in front, with a red mantle behind, apparently cast off the shoulders. M. c. 1730.

A Hanoverian lady. This is in a similar frame, and of similar date, to No. 6.

10. LADY. H.L. Hair dressed high. Dress: white, cut low, with very short waist and short sleeves. M. c. 1800.

11. LADY. H.L. Seated, face turned to the dexter, hair dressed on the top of the head. Dress: white, cut low, and short sleeves; a little bead or pearl necklace round the throat. The red back of the chair is visible. M.

This and No. 10 were purchased at the sale of the effects of the Rev. J. Haddock at the School, Botesdale.

ROUGHAM—THE ROOKERY

The Property of Commander W. W. Browne, R.N., 1905

These portraits were all once at Plashwood, Haughley, the residence of the families of Ray and Tyrell, and some of them at an earlier period were at Gipping Hall.

I.

RS. CANNING. H. and S. Full face, a very highly dressed head of fair hair, with a white cap on the top of it, curls down on either side, resting on the shoulders. Dress: purple, with a very large white muslin fichu over it. Min. c. 1770.

N.B.—It is called "M^{rs} Canning."

2. ELIZABETH, LADY DUKE. T.Q.L. Seated, full face, very fair hair in curls around her head, and from behind, over the right shoulder, comes a mass of hair, reaching down to the bottom of the picture. Dress: pale blue, cut low and round, with white tucker, and a black trimming all round the low bodice, with rope of pearls twisted into it, pearl earrings, and row of pearls round the throat; the right hand supports the head, the elbow resting on a red cushion, supported by a pedestal beneath it; the left hand is on the lap. Scenery is at the top sinister corner of the picture. L. By Sir Peter Lely.

Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Duke, M.D., Hon. Fellow of the College of Physicians, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Robert Tollemache of Helmingham; married, in or before 1694, to Sir John Duke, Bart., of Benhall, Suffolk; M.P. for Orford, 1679-1690, and 1697-1698. He died 1705. The will of Dame Elizabeth was proved 1725. She was mother of Anne Duke, who was married, in 1702, to Thomas Tyrell of Gipping Hall.

3. ELIZABETH, ELECTRESS PALATINE, QUEEN OF BOHEMIA. F.L. Full face, fair hair, much frizzed on either side, with an ornament having four spikes of jewels standing up on the top of the head. Dress: red, embroidered, over a white skirt embroidered also with red tulips, etc., white lace ruff collar, laced cuffs turned back; an open top cut square, lace around it, and all the front of the stomacher studded with diamonds; also a necklace of diamonds. There is a green curtain behind, and on the dexter side of the picture a table, having thereon a green cloth with gold fringe, and placed on it a crown, with orb and sceptre; the right hand of the lady touches the latter; the left hand, with a ring on the little finger, holds a white feather fan. L. Painted soon after 1613.

Elizabeth, daughter of James I, King of England; born 1596; married, in 1613, to Frederick V, the Elector Palatine, King of Bohemia. She died in London 13th February, 1661-2, and is buried in Westminster Abbey. See D. N. B., xvii, 233.

4. CHARLES KILLEGREW. T.Q.L. Body and face both turned to the dexter, long curly wig, clean shaven, white under-garment, with white lace cravat round the throat; a brown leather jerkin over the body, with brown lappet sleeves, and with body armour over that; another brown robe over the whole lot; the right hand held outwards, finger pointing to scenery; the left hand rests on what appears to be a staff or baton; a red curtain is at the top sinister corner behind, and on the dexter side below is a coat of arms. Argent an eagle displayed with two heads sable; a bordure of the second charged with eight bezants (Killegrew) impaling. Argent, a lion rampant gules (Bokenham of Great Thornham), and this "Cha^s Killegrew." L.

Charles, son of Thomas Killegrew (who was a son of Sir Robert Killegrew, and Mary, a daughter of Sir Henry Woodhouse of Norfolk) by Charlotte, his second wife, daughter of John de Hesse of Holland; born at Maestrecht on 29th December, 1655; Gentleman of the Privy Chamber to Charles II, 1670; James II, 1685; William and Mary, 1689; Master of the Revels in 1680. He lived at Somerset House, London, and Thornham Hall, Suffolk. He married Jemima, daughter of Paul Bokenham of Thornham, Suffolk, standard-bearer to the Duke of York, by Frances his wife, daughter of Robert Bacon of Redgrave. She was a niece of Richard Bokenham, mercer, of London. He died and was buried at the Savoy, 8th January, 1724-5. His widow survived him, and is buried at Thornham. Their son, Charles Killegrew of Thornham Hall, died, s.p., 9th March, 1756. See D. N. B., xxxi, 106.

5. MRS. DOROTHEA RAWLINSON. T.Q.L. Seated, body full, face very slightly inclined to the dexter, dark hair, curls on both shoulders. Dress: red, with white under-bodice, and sleeves; a cream-coloured satin scarf is over left shoulder, and passes behind; the right hand comes forward and grasps the scarf; the left hand rests on a tuft of grass. Scenery on the dexter side of the picture; trees on the sinister side, at the base of one of which the lady appears to be seated; sky behind. L. Possibly by Sir Godfrey Kneller. See No. 6.

Dorothea, daughter of Rev. Richard Ray, Vicar of Haughley, and Rector of Wetherden, by Margaret his wife, daughter of . . . Walklate of Uttoxeter; born 31st July, 1704; married to Thomas, afterwards Sir Thomas Rawlinson, Knt., Master of the Grocers' Company in 1746; Lord Mayor of London, 1754; knighted by George III in 1760. She died 12th June, 1743, aged thirty-nine, less one month. He died 2nd December, 1769, aged fifty-nine.

N.B.—The lady was but nineteen in the last year of Sir Godfrey Kneller's life, thus the possibility that he painted the portrait is not very great.

6. MRS. DOROTHEA RAWLINSON. H.L. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full, brown hair, curls on both sides over the back of the shoulders. Dress: pink, white under-bodice with tucker, the over-bodice being crossed in front, elbow sleeves; a dark blue scarf passes over the right shoulder. In sham oval. Painted about 1720, the lady being about twenty-four years of age. M. This is illustrated in Cullum's "Pedigree of the Ray Family," page 18, and called "Dorothea Ray, Lady Rawlinson." There does not seem to be much resemblance between the features of the ladies in the two portraits. See No. 5.

7. RICHARD RAY. T.Q.L. Body and face both full, long brown hair or wig of the period of Charles I, clean shaven. Dress: a white under-garment with lace cuffs, a red coat, open at the sleeves like lappets, showing the white below, and a white cravat with blue ends, tied; body armour over it, and over that, crossing the right shoulder, a red scarf; sword by the left side, red pantaloons just visible; the right hand forward, grasping the scarf; the left hand, with a gauntlet glove on it, rests on the hip; green curtain on dexter side of the picture, dark background behind. L. Signed: Tho^o Hudson. fecit 1747." See No. 8.

Richard, son of Rev. Richard Ray, Vicar of Haughley and Rector of Wetherden, by Margaret his wife, daughter of . . . Walklate, of Uttoxeter; born 30th September, 1721, of Plashwood, Haughley; married, in 1770, to Elizabeth, only surviving child and heir of John Lock, gentleman, of Mildenhall, Suffolk. He died 16th February, 1811.

8. RICHARD RAY. H.L. Body very slightly turned to the sinister, face full, clean shaven, long brown curly hair. Dress: red satin coat, buttons down the front, with the sleeves just open, showing a white under-garment; a large white muslin collar, edged with lace, and tied with cord, to which are tassels. M. Signed: "Thos. Hudson fecit. 1746." See No. 7.

9. MRS. RICHARD RAY. T.Q.L. Face turned very slightly to the dexter, with the body full; long ringlets on either side of the face, and a blue ribbon on the top of the head. Dress: white satin, with open top square; there are seven rows of pearls in front of the bodice, with a blue quatrefoil bow at the breast, having on it an enormous pear-shaped pearl, elbow sleeves with blue ribbon around, and a blue sash round the waist with a bow, large pear-shaped pearl earrings, and a row of single pearls round the throat; the right hand holds two blush roses, the left hand downwards. Scenery on the dexter side of the picture, and red curtain behind. L. Signed: "Tho^s Hudson fecit 1771."

Elizabeth, only surviving child and heir of John Lock, of Mildenhall, Suffolk, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heir of William Dixon, citizen and mercer of London; married, in 1770, to Richard Ray, of Plashwood, Haughley. She died 21st June, 1815, and is buried at Haughley.

10. REV. CHARLES TYRELL. F.L. Seated by the base of a tree, body and face both turned to the dexter, clean shaven, black hat on his head. Dress: a bluish-gray coat, double-breasted, fastened over the chest, with loose white cravat round the throat, black waistcoat and breeches, white stockings, and black boots, laced nearly halfway up the calf of the leg; the right hand, gloved, and holding another glove, rests on a bank with a branch of oak; the left hand on the leg, with a long spud; wood and trees on the sinister side of the picture; a cornfield on the dexter side. M. By Henry Walton. See Nos. 11 and 12.

9. MRS. ARTHUR YOUNG. H. and S. Full face, body turned slightly to the sinister, fair hair turned off at the forehead and dressed high behind, curl appearing over the left shoulder. Dress: white satin, cut low, open very much in front, but passing over the shoulders, a small white tucker, the lining of the dress is blue; there is a jewelled ornament with pearls on the head, just at the top of the forehead; a jewelled ornament in front of the dress, and one at each elbow. In sham oval. M.

N.B.—This picture was at Bradfield Hall, and is described in the sale catalogue as "M^{rs} Arthur Young." It is probably the portrait of Mrs. Arthur Young, wife of the Rev. Arthur Young, LL.D., Prebendary of Canterbury, forty years Rector of Bradfield Combust and St. Clare; she was Anne Lucretia, daughter of John Coussmaker, of Weybridge, Surrey. She died 6th October, 1785, aged seventy-seven. She was mother of Arthur Young, F.R.S., the great agriculturist.

10. LADY. H. and S. Full face, hair taken off the forehead backwards, curls on both shoulders. Dress: brown brocade, cut low and round, a very good lace tucker, the left sleeve just appears, slashed down the middle with white, and just gathered together in three places with separate pearls; a red robe lined with white thrown off the right arm and apparent beneath it. S.

N.B.—This picture was bought at the sale of effects at Coddensham Rectory, and possibly represents one of the family of Bacon of Shrubland Park.

STANNINGFIELD—COLDHAM HALL

The Property of Colonel H. T. Trafford-Rawson, 1904

I.

JOHN GAGE. H.L. Face nearly full, wig just tinted gray. Dress: armour, studded with gold. M. On picture: "John Gage, 2nd son of Sir William Gage, 2nd Bart of Hengrave."

John Sikes Sawbridge, Rector of Welford, married Frances Jane, daughter of Framingham Thruston, of Market Weston Hall, Suffolk. and was grandfather of the present Rev. John Sikes Sawbridge, Rector of Thelnetham.

10. . . . SAWBRIDGE. H.L. Lady, full face, on the head a white bonnet trimmed with blue. Dress: white, with blue silk ribbons laced across the bodice in front, over the neck a white muslin crossed; written on back: "a daughter of M^r William Sawbridge. of East Haddon Hall Northamptonshire." S.

The lady represented must be one of the two daughters of William Sawbridge and his wife, Mary, daughter of Henry Shibell, of St. Martin's in the Fields, for the aforesaid William is said to have died in 1761, leaving two daughters: Mary, married to William Gregge Barnston, of London; and Elizabeth, married to Timothy Ravenhill, of London. The next William Sawbridge married, in 1777, Mary, eldest daughter of Miles Barne, of Sotterley, Suffolk, and left an only son.

11. FRAMINGHAM THRUSTON. H.L. Seated, face turned slightly to the sinister, in wig. Dress: red coat, white cravat and lace cuffs, over all a black gown; hands crossed in front of him, right hand holding a book, left elbow on the chair. In oval. Coloured chalk. M. On back there is a cutting from a contemporary newspaper, and an addition in writing to this effect: "Framingham Thruston Esq. who died on Jan^y 28, 1789. of an apoplectic fit at Bury S^t Edmunds. Buried at Market Weston."

Framingham Lake, second son of Thomas Willis, by Jane his wife, daughter of Framingham Lake. He was devisee of the will of Dr. Thruston, and assumed that name; he married, 4th September, 1776, Frances, eldest daughter of Samuel Holworthy, of Elsworth, co. Cambs. He was a Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge.

N.B.—This gentleman was a nephew of the former owner of the property at Market Weston, and succeeded in 1776. He was a Barrister-at-Law, and "died in 1789. at Bury S^t Edmunds. whether he went the day previous to attend his duty at quarter sessions as county magistrate." Page's "Suffolk," 816.

12. MRS. FRAMINGHAM THRUSTON. H.L. Seated, body full, face turned to the dexter. Dress: blue, low bodice, short sleeves, muslin both round the neck of the bodice and sleeves, trimmed with pearls; the right arm passes in front of her, the hand holding a rose; left hand lies on her lap. In oval. Coloured chalk. M. There is nothing on the back, but the lady is most probably the wife of Framingham Thruston, as it is a pendant to No. 11.

Frances, eldest daughter of Samuel Holworthy, of Elsworth, co. Cambs.; married first, to Framingham Lake Thruston, who died in 1789; she married second, 1st December, 1792, to Valentine Gardner; born 1739; Major in the army; elder brother of Alan, 1st Lord Gardner, by whom she had a son, Valentine.

13. LITTLE CHILD. F.L. Full face. Dress: a frock with short sleeves, the front and top being trimmed with very fine wide and open lace; one little foot appears in a shoe or slipper, with a series of straps across the instep; on the right hand is seated a parrot. There is a curtain behind on the dexter side of the picture, and on the sinister side a scene through an open window, with a duck pond, and thereon some ducks or geese. M. c. 1660.
14. MAN. H. and S. Full face, with a long brown curly wig. Dress: a yellow robe and a lace cravat. M. c. 1670.

THORP-MORIEUX HALL

The Property of Mr. T. Courtenay Warner, of Brettenham Park, 1907

I.

- ADY. H.L. Body and face both full; hair in curls on either side and on the forehead, fair, with a reddish tinge in it. Dress: gray, cut low and round, elbow sleeves, a large diamond with a pear-shaped pearl pendant at the breast; a brownish-green robe over shoulders; the left hand is forward, holding a fish. M. Very coarse painting. c. 1655. Aged about forty.
2. LADY. H.L. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister; hair in curls on either side and on the forehead; fair, with a golden tinge in it; on either side of the head a true lover's knot in red. Dress: white, cut low and round, a black double true lovers' knot at the breast; the right hand, forward, holds a flaming torch of Hymen across the figure. M. Very coarse painting. c. 1655. Aged about twenty-five to thirty.
3. LADY. T.Q.L. In the centre of the picture, body and face both turned slightly to the dexter; fair hair in curls on either side and on the forehead. Dress: red, cut open and square, with very loose white under-sleeves, the red over-sleeves being caught twice across the front; the right hand holds a black hat belonging to a child at her feet; the left supports a pennon, thereon "a heart proper transfix'd by two arrows in saltire"; the little boy at the feet of this lady wears a dark dress, with a gold dagger stuck into the belt at his back; on the dexter side of the lady stands a negro servant, and behind him is apparently the brick wall of the terrace of Thorp Morieux Hall and the church tower; on the sinister side of the lady is a young woman with dark hair, dressed in a white under-garment, with a dark one over it, supported over the shoulders by straps; her hands are in front of her, resting on a table with fruit, and below this appears the head of a greyhound. L. c. 1660.

4. LADY. T.Q.L. In the centre of the picture, seated, on a square-backed chair with gold nails; body and face turned slightly to the sinister; dark hair in curls on either side and on the forehead. Dress: red, cut low and round, white undersleeves, a green shawl over the shoulders; both hands are on the top of the head of a child at her feet, putting a rose in its hair; this child is apparently a little girl having fair hair; one curl on forehead, with a puce coloured frock, having very full white sleeves; its hands are in front holding a white flower; on the back of the chair is perched a red parrot, or cockatoo, and below, a vase; on the sinister side of the picture stands a Chinese domestic in a loose red dress; he holds a dish of fruits, and behind him is a large vase having an animal's head on its side, and a flowering plant in it; at this side of the picture is a piece of water, with rising ground behind, evidently the view from the terraced garden at Thorp Hall. L. c. 1660.

N.B.—The date of these pictures points to a period in which the Hall was occupied by the family of Risby, and, according to the parish register, in 1661 (a date which is on a fine oak beam) it was occupied by John Risby and Elizabeth his wife, married in that very year. Elizabeth, their eldest child, was baptized 22nd January, 1662, and John, their eldest son, was baptized 5th March, 1663. There are four other pictures: (1) a Dutch painting of men playing at cards; (2) a Dutch scene with Teniers-like figures; (3) The Good Samaritan; (4) a battle.

THORP-MORIEUX RECTORY

The Property of the Right Rev. Bishop Harrison

1. THOMAS ELDRED. H.L. Body and face both full, short hair, moustache, and beard. Dress: black doublet, with a thick muslin ruff, and a small cuff to the sleeve of the right wrist, this hand being forward, and holding a round compass; in the top dexter corner is a plain cross. M. On panel. Below: "One of the Eldred family." On the dexter side of this, in a similar frame, is an ancient ship flying many flags, and on the sinister side a globe, and on the stand thereof this inscription: "Thomas Eldred went out of Plimouth 1586. July 21, and sail'd about the whole Globe, and arriv'd againe in Plimouthe the 9 of September 1588. What can seeme great to him that hath seene the whole world, save the Maker of it, and the world above it."

N.B.—In the "Gentleman's Magazine," 1837, i, 487, is an account of Olivers, near Colchester, the residence of the Eldred family, where the portrait is described as that of Thomas Eldred, merchant, of Ipswich, who accompanied Thomas Cavendish on his voyage round the world. A copy of it is said to have been drawn by Vertue; several other portraits of the family seem to have been in the House in 1837, on one of which was the coat of arms: "Azure, a cross botonée fitchée or; on a chief of the last three globes azure." A pedigree of the family is included in the same article, and from this, Thomas Eldred was the grandson of Nicholas Eldred, of Gnatshall (Knattishall), Suffolk. He married Margery, daughter of . . . Stud, of Ipswich. He was a commander or factor under the E.I.C., and died in 1622. See D. N. B., xvii, 175.

SIR STEPHEN SOAME
GREAT THURLOW HALL No. 1

A GENTLEMAN c. 1690
TROSTON LODGE No. 5

July, 1652, three months after the death of his father; he married Mary, daughter of Sir Thomas Hewet, of Pishiobury, co. Herts. Died 9th October, 1690, buried at Bardwell.

4. THOMAS CROFTS READE. H.L. Young man, full face. Dress: dark brown, with yellow underneath, cravat with lace ends, tied with a small black ribbon above, beneath the chin. The background is dark, and there is an imaginary frame of leaves, oval in shape, differing slightly from the last. M. On the back of the picture is: "THOMAS READE. JUNER." This picture, from its extreme similarity to No. 2, identifies itself, and the pendant. Painted about 1673.

Thomas Crofts Reade, one of twin sons of Thomas Reade, of Wrangle, and Bridget his wife, daughter of Sir Charles Crofts, of Bardwell; he was born three months after the death of his father, 25th July, 1652; and died 28th March, 1678.

Francis Richardson, a colonel in H.M. 1st Regiment of Foot Guards. He died at Ghent, 28th November, 1832, aged eighty-nine; he married, at Gretna Green, Letitia, daughter of William Moseley, of Fornham All Saints, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Abraham Cocksedge, of Drinkstone; he was grandfather of Mrs. Holden, and is said to have lost an arm at Bunker's Hill.

6. MAN. T.Q.L. Full face, clean shaven, wearing a long brown curly wig. Dress: a red robe, showing a white shirt in front, and sleeves tight round the wrists, a white turnover cravat; the right hand of the figure rests on a table, which has a cloth on it; a ship flying the English flag is on the sinister side of the picture. L. c. 1690.

7. LADY. H. and S. Full face, brown hair, curls over the left shoulder. Dress: red, quite loose, white bodice in front, cut low. Background dark. M. In oval frame. She is about thirty years of age. Signed: "Jo Verelst p. 1701."

This portrait is supposed to represent one of the families of Maddocks or Brundish.

8. MAN. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, long fair wig. Dress: a loose robe of red over the shoulders, with white scarf. M. c. 1700.

9. MAN. T.Q.L. Full face, fair wig, short and turned back from the forehead, one roll over the ears. Dress: blue coat, gold buttons, fawn waistcoat, white cravat tied tight round the neck, with frilled shirt in front, and frilled cuffs; the right hand, grasping a metal holdfast with a piece of chalk in it, rests on a slate, and is writing figures. M. Age about eighteen or twenty.
It is supposed to represent one of the family of Moseley.
10. MAN. H.L. Body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, gray hair, clean shaven. Dress: black coat, white stock; the right hand passes across the picture and holds in the hand the same metal holdfast with chalk as in No. 9. M. ? By Samuel Lane.

19. MAN. H. and S. A long curly wig. Dress: a dark robe, with a white linen Puritan collar. M.

IT has been thought well to include in the West Suffolk portraits those now at Cringleford, near Norwich, which were not long since at Norton Hall; those in the possession of H.H. Prince Frederick Duleep Singh, all of which were, until quite recent years, in West Suffolk houses; two pictures now in the possession of Mr. Ernest Crofts, R.A., which are part of the Bardwell collection of the Crofts family; the interesting picture, in the possession of H.H. Prince Victor Duleep Singh, of his father the Maharajah, which was at Elveden, and of which there is a copy in the possession of Lord Iveagh; and the Barnardiston portraits at the Ryes, near Sudbury.

CRINGLEFORD, NORFOLK

The Property of Mrs. Henry Staniforth Patteson, 1905

These pictures were formerly at Norton Hall, Suffolk, otherwise called Little Haugh, Norton, and came by descent from the Macros to their present owner.

I.
REV. EDWARD ALLOTT. H.L. Face turned slightly to the sinister, short hair, small fair moustache and beard. Dress: black coat, and gown over it, a small linen collar just fastened, with linen cuffs turned back over the sleeves of the coat, the right hand forward holding a book, forefinger within the leaves thereof. On it: "Anº Dni. 1637 æ suæ 40." M. It is said to be by Van Dyck.

Edward, son of John Allott, of Chingleston, co. York, Rector of Little Thurlow and Wratting, Suffolk; he married Margaret, the daughter of . . . Woolrich. He left four daughters and co-heiresses, one of whom, Grace, married the Rev. John Cox, Rector of Risby, Suffolk. He died 2nd March, 1658, aged sixty-one, and is buried at Little Thurlow.

2. MRS. EDWARD ALLOTT. H.L. Body and face both turned slightly to the dexter, she wears a large black hat on the head. Dress: black, cut square over the shoulders, and filled in with white material, edged with black, and a white linen collar over that; there is a black rosette at the breast, the left hand is forward, showing a white cuff round the wrist. On it: "An^o 1637 æ suae. 34." M. It is said to be by Van Dyck.

Margaret, daughter of . . . Woolrich, and wife of Rev. Edward Allott, Rector of Little Thurlow; she was born in 1603.

3. JOHN COX. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, face only slightly so, hair long, to the neck. Dress: dark in colour, with a small linen collar, having tassels in front. M. By Walker, probably Robert Walker, contemporary of Van Dyck.

John Cox, descended from Richard Cox, D.D., Bishop of Ely, and tutor to Edward VI. He was the father of Rev. John Cox, Rector of Risby; he married, on 18th February, 1620, Anna, daughter of . . . Thurston.

4. EDWARD GODFREY. H.L. Full face, very large curly wig. Dress: dark, a lace cravat round the neck, with ends, and lace ruffs, the right hand forward. M. By Houseman—probably Jacob Huysmans.

Edward Godfrey, "late of ye parish of St James' Westminster"; born 1653. He was Keeper of the Privy Purse to Queen Anne. He died 11th May, 1727, aged seventy-four, and was buried in the church of Risby, Suffolk, where there is still a ledger stone, with his coat of arms.

5. MRS. EDWARD GODFREY. H.L. Full face, dark hair. Dress: white, cut low, a green robe fastened on the left shoulder, cut into lappets just below the shoulder; there is an under-bodice apparent, edged with narrow lace. M. Supposed to be by Sir Peter Lely.

Hannah, daughter of . . . Looker, of Suffolk; she married Edward Godfrey, of St. James's, Westminster, and died in May, 1740. The coat of arms on the sinister side of the shield is "A chevron between three horses heads erased and bridled," which was borne by Lucas, co. Somerset.

6. RICHARD GODFREY. H.L. Face turned to the sinister, with a short white wig. Dress: brown coat and blue waistcoat, open in front. M

N.B.—The label on this portrait when it left Norton was "Richard Godfrey, buried at Pakenham," that place being near Norton. In Dr. Cox Macro's catalogue there is a portrait: "Mr. Edward Godfrey, painted by Thomas Ross." I should suggest it might be Francis, eldest son of Edward Godfrey, who died 28th August, 1727, aged twenty-nine, as recorded on the ledger stone of his father in Risby church.

7. MRS. LOOKER. H.L. Body turned slightly to the dexter, face full, a white cap round the head. Dress: brown, cut low, white tucker and under-sleeves; a blue satin robe over left shoulder, passes behind, and is apparent on the dexter side. M. By Murray, probably Thomas Murray, who studied under Riley.

Mrs. Looker would probably be the mother of Mary, the wife of Edward Godfrey. The Lookers are supposed to have lived at Risby, or in the neighbourhood of Bury St. Edmunds.

8. REV. COX MACRO, D.D. H. and S. Young man, body turned to the dexter, face very nearly full, a large brown curly wig. Dress: in gown and bands. On it: "B. . . . fec. aet suae 71. (? 31)." By Joseph Brook, of Bury. See Nos. 9 and 10.

Cox, son of Thomas Macro, of Bury St. Edmunds, by Susan his wife, daughter of Rev. John Cox, of Risby; born 1683; married, in 1753, Mary, daughter of Edward Godfrey, of Risby, by Hannah his wife. Died 2nd February, 1767, aged eighty-four.

9. REV. COX MACRO, D.D. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, long wig just tinted with powder. Dress: a dark robe, with the linen collar of the shirt upright, just apparent, the right hand forward. Min. By W. Mieris. Oval, on copper. See Nos. 8 and 10.

10. REV. COX MACRO, D.D. H. and S. Full face, with very long curly wig, just tinted with powder. Dress: blue coat, white cravat. Min. By Christian Frederick Zincke. See Nos. 8 and 9.

N.B.—It is interesting to note that in Dr. Macro's account book is this: "My picture in enamel. £6.9.0. Setting it in gold. £1.1.6. The Crystal of it. 9/6, the weight of it in gold £1.13.6. Total £9.13.6."

11. MRS. COX MACRO. H. and S. Aged lady, body and face both turned to the dexter; a white cloth turban-shaped cap on the head. Dress: black, with white linen under-bodice showing at the throat; the right hand forward. On it: "Mary the wife of Doc Cox Macro. ob. Augst 31st 1753." See No. 12.

Mary, the daughter of Edward Godfrey, and Hannah his wife; born 1st November, 1689; she married Rev. Cox Macro. Died 31st August, 1753.

12. MRS. COX MACRO. H. and S. Body and face both turned to the sinister, long brown hair, with curls on shoulders. Dress: green, open, V shape, and fastened in front, showing white under-bodice; a crimson scarf over left shoulder. Min. By C. F. Zincke. See No. 11.

The interior of a room, filled with pictures, sketches, etc. There is a man sitting in front of an easel, in the centre, who turns round to instruct a boy sitting near him on dexter side; whilst behind stands another man. M. By Peter Tillemans.

N.B.—This picture is called in Dr. Macro's catalogue "The painters room, in the which are the portraits of Dr Macro and Peter Tillemans." The artist lived for some time with Dr. Macro, and lies buried at Stowlangtoft.

14. EDWARD MACRO. T.Q.L. Body turned very slightly to the dexter, with face very slightly to the sinister; clean shaven, hair just tinted. Dress: brown throughout; it is probably a fancy costume. L. By Benjamin Wilson.

Edward, son of Dr. Cox Macro and Mary his wife, daughter of Edward Godfrey. He died a bachelor in April, 1766. See No. 15.

15. MASTER EDWARD AND MISS MARY MACRO. F.L. Boy and girl. On the dexter is a boy, standing, long fair hair. Dress: light drab suit with knee breeches; the hands rest on the neck of a greyhound, which is jumping up; a three-cornered black hat is under the left arm. On the sinister side a girl seated. Dress: blue, cut low, a plume and some flowers in the hair, and a basket of flowers in the lap; two dogs on the sinister side of the picture—one a bull terrier with a red ribbon. Scenery of trees and shrubs, and an orangery in the background. L. By Peter Tillemans.

Edward and Mary, son and daughter of Rev. Cox Macro, D.D., by Mary his wife, daughter of Edward Godfrey. Edward died a bachelor, April, 1766. Mary, born 1719, married to William Staniforth, of Sheffield. She died 16th August, 1775, aged fifty-six.

16. THOMAS MACRO. H. and S. Body and face both turned to the dexter; long brown hair. Dress: a mantle of a golden brown colour, thrown over the shoulders, and there is a white collar of the shirt apparent beneath. M. Oval. By Sir Godfrey Kneller.

Thomas Macro, of Bury St. Edmunds; born in 1649; five times alderman of Bury St. Edmunds; he married Susan, only daughter and heir of Rev. John Cox, of Risby, by Susan his wife, daughter of Rev. Edward Allott. He died 26th May, 1737, aged eighty-eight.

17. MRS. THOMAS MACRO. H. and S. Body turned to the sinister, face but slightly so; long brown hair in curls. Dress: old gold satin, with white tucker and elbow sleeves; a band of pearls and other jewels over the right shoulder; and a rope of large pearls in front. M. Oval. By Sir Godfrey Kneller. See No. 18.

Susan, only daughter of Rev. John Cox, Rector of Risby, by Susan his wife, daughter of Rev. Edward Allott; born 1st August, 1660; married, on 9th January, 1678, Thomas Macro, of Bury St. Edmunds. She died 29th April, 1743, aged eighty-three.

18. MRS. THOMAS MACRO. H.L. Body and face both full; brown hair in curls. Dress: blue, cut V shape, with white tucker; the sleeve is fastened together with a jewel over the shoulder, with the white under-sleeve apparent beneath; the dress is also open down the front, and looped together with jewels; a dark yellow robe is fastened over left shoulder, and, passing behind, appears on dexter side. In sham oval. M. By John Riley. See No. 17.

19. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Body full, face turned slightly to the dexter; clean shaven, hair taken off the forehead and just tinted with powder. Dress: drab coat with collar; white waistcoat and cravat. Painted when quite young. M. By Philip Reinagle, R.A. See Nos. 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24.

John, eldest son of Henry Spark Patteson, and Martha his wife, the daughter of Daniel Fromanteel; born 19th November, 1755; Sheriff of Norwich 1785; Mayor 1788; M.P. for the City 1806 and 1807; he married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Robert Staniforth, formerly of Manchester, and afterwards of Norton Hall, Suffolk, by Catherine his wife, daughter of Rev. John Dossie. He died 3rd October, 1833, aged seventy-eight, and is buried at St. Peter's, Mancroft, Norwich.

20. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Young man, face just turned to the sinister, a powdered wig. Dress: blue coat and white cravat. Min. Painted when sixteen years old, by Edward Miles, of Great Yarmouth. See Nos. 19, 21, 22, 23, and 24.

21. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Body full, face turned slightly to the sinister; clean shaven, brown hair. Dress: brown coat, white cravat and frill. Min. By a foreign artist, unknown. The likeness to No. 19 is not very apparent. See Nos. 19, 20, 22, 23, and 24.

22. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Body full, face turned to the dexter; powdered hair, clean shaven. Dress: black coat with white facings; white cravat and frill. Min. By Nathaniel Dance, R.A., afterwards Sir Nathaniel Dance Holland. See Nos. 19, 20, 21, 23, and 24.

23. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Body and face both turned slightly to the sinister; powdered hair, clean shaven. Dress: a dark purple coat; white cravat and frill. By Richard Crosse. See Nos. 19, 20, 21, 22, and 24.

24. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Full face, clean shaven, powdered hair. Dress: a dark purple coat, and green waistcoat with gold buttons; white cravat and frill. Min. By unknown artist, not considered to have been a good likeness. See Nos. 19, 20, 21, 22, and 23.

25. MRS. JOHN PATTESON. H. and S. Body full, face turned to the sinister; fair hair, slightly powdered; light bluish-gray cap or head-dress on the top of hair. Dress: white, a white cape over shoulders, edged on both sides with frilling, fastened in front; muslin round the throat, just open beneath the chin, and fastened with a jewel. Scenery behind. M. By Philip Reinagle, R.A. See No. 26.

Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Robert Staniforth; born 11th May, 1760; married to John Patteson. Died 5th March, 1838, aged seventy-eight; buried in St. Peter's, Mancroft, Norwich.

26. MRS. JOHN PATTESON. H.L. Body turned to the dexter, face nearly full; a very large hat with feathers on the head. Dress: a gray riding habit, with white facings; a liver and white spaniel is under the left arm. Scenery behind. In sham oval. M. By Philip Reinagle, R.A. This portrait, not being considered by Mrs. Patteson as a good one, was cut in halves, and the lower portion, with the dog, framed by itself. The two parts accidentally came into the possession of Rev. W. F. Patteson about 1874, who had it restored to the original size. See No. 25.

27. MRS. SOAME. H. and S. Body slightly turned to the dexter, face full, curly hair on either side of head. Dress: old-gold in colour, cut very low, with tucker and trimming on it, pearls round the neck. S. By Sir Peter Lely.

Mrs. Soame, said to be intimate with the Cox family at Risby. William Soame, of Haughley, Suffolk, was sponsor for John, the son of Mr. Cox, who died young. I would suggest, seeing the early date of this portrait, a connection between the Allotts of Little Thurlow Rectory and the Soames of Little Thurlow Hall.

28. WILLIAM STANIFORTH. H. and S. Face very nearly full, powdered wig, clean shaven. Dress: a drab coat and waistcoat, white shirt, tight round the throat. Min.

William Staniforth; born 1716; married Mary, the daughter of Rev. Cox Macro, D.D. He died 14th November, 1786, aged seventy.

29. MRS. WILLIAM STANIFORTH. H. and S. Body turned to the dexter, with face very nearly full, dark hair. Dress: a blue brocaded silk, open V shape in front, with black lace trimmings to the open bodice. She wears pearl earrings. Min.

Mary, only daughter and heir of Rev. Cox Macro, D.D., by Mary his wife, the daughter of Edward Godfrey; born 1710; married, 8th May, 1767, William Staniforth. Died 16th August, 1775, aged sixty-five.

30. MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM STANIFORTH. The meet of the hounds at Norton Hall, with figures on horseback. M. By Peter Tillemans.

OLD BUCKENHAM HALL, NORFOLK

The Property of Prince Frederick Duleep Singh, 1905

I.

SIR SAMUEL BARNARDISTON, 2ND BART. (OF BRIGHTWELL). H.L. Face and body both full, long powdered curly wig, complexion bright. Dress: gray coat lined with pale blue, trimmed with silver in front. The right hand is tucked into the coat, with lace cuffs round the wrists, black cocked hat under the left arm. M. On it: "Sir Samuel Barnardiston, 1710."

Samuel, fourth, but first surviving, son of Nathaniel Barnardiston, of Hackney, Middlesex, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Nathaniel Bacon, of Friston, Suffolk; born 28th February, 1659-60; M.P. for Ipswich 1698-1700; succeeded to the baronetcy 1707; he married, 13th August, 1709, Martha, daughter and co-heir of Thomas Richmond, of London, apothecary. He was buried at Kedington, Suffolk, 11th January, 1709-10, aged fifty. See D. N. B., iii, 244.

N.B.—This picture was purchased of Mr. Cubitt, Norwich, who bought it at the Brent Eleigh Hall sale in Suffolk in 1903.

SIR SAMUEL BARNARDISTON 1710
2nd BART. OLD BUCKENHAM HALL No. 1

THOMAS ROOKWOOD 1713
OLD BUCKENHAM HALL No. 10

Dionesse, daughter of Richard Hale, of Kings Walden, co. Herts, wife of Edward Colman, of Brent Eleigh. On the slab at Brent Eleigh, with the arms of Colman, impaling Hale, is this: "departed this life, upon the 23^d day of May 1691, in the 88th year of her age." She was therefore long a widow, for her husband died 27th January, 1651, aged fifty-eight.

N.B.—This portrait was purchased at the Brent Eleigh Hall sale in 1903. There is a picture exactly like it at Wortham Manor, Suffolk.

3. MR. CLARKE. H. and S. Aged man, full face, white wig, with curls around it, the mouth turned on one side. Dress: black coat, double-breasted, gray open waistcoat, white scarf beneath it just apparent; both hands in front, holding a gold-headed cane.

It is supposed to be Mr. Clarke, of Stamford; however, it was purchased from Mr. Johnson, of Bury St. Edmunds, who bought it at a sale at Horringer.

4. JOSHUA GRIGBY. F.L. Face turned to the dexter, in which direction he is walking, powdered hair. Dress: blue coat, high collar, tight gray breeches, with spat gaiters, white scarf round the neck, and white beaver hat on the head, a white handkerchief appears out of his tail coat pocket, and he holds a spud in the right hand; he wears yellow gloves.

Joshua, son of Joshua Grigby, of Drinkstone, by Jane his wife. He married first, in 1784, Mary, the daughter of . . . Brackenbury, who died 5th January, 1823; and second, in 1827, Anne, second daughter of William Crawford, of Haughley Park. He was High Sheriff in 1810, but was latterly an eccentric recluse, and lies buried in the south-west corner of the grounds; his widow died 5th March, 1853, aged sixty-four, and the estate passed to the eldest nephew, John Harcourt Powell.

5. MRS. THOMAS KITCHENER. H. and S. Face nearly full, large mob cap on the head. Dress: white, with shawl crossed over the shoulders. Min.

Martha, daughter of William Robinson, of Eriswell Hall; married, in 1764, to Thomas Kitchener, of Lakenheath. She was great-grandmother of Lord Kitchener. She died in 1826.

6. EDWARD LEWKENOR. F.L. Young man, full face, complexion light, hair short. Dress: olive green doublet pointed, slashed with pale blue, falling ruff, belt across right shoulder, green pantaloons, white hose, Carolean leather boots; the right hand, downwards, holds his large olive-green hat, the left hand rests on hip; a cloak, partly thrown off, shows a light blue lining to it, the sword hangs at the left side. Red curtain as background. On the picture: "Lewkenor. brother to Mary. 1st wife of Horatio Lord Townshend." L. 65 by 40. Purchased at the sale of the Townshend Collection.

Edward Lewkenor, son of Sir Edward Lewkenor, Knt., of Denham in Suffolk, by Mary his wife, daughter of Sir Henry Neville, of Billingbear, co. Bucks; he was born on 11th February, 1614. Died of smallpox in December 1634. His very beautiful monument, with recumbent effigy, may be seen in Denham Church.

7. GEORGE MURE. F.L. On horseback, with two others, amidst a pack of hounds, with Euston Park, Hall, and Church behind. Dress: in full hunting costume. Painted by George Fenn, of Beccles, 1842. L. It is engraved.

George Mure, of Herringswell House, son of Thomas Mure, of Warriston, by Helen his wife, eldest daughter of Hon. Patrick Boyle, second son of John, 2nd Earl of Glasgow; he was born 11th June, 1797; married first, 17th September, 1835, Fanny Eliza, only daughter of Wight Thomas Squire, of Bridge House, Peterborough; he was in the Grenadier Guards and served at Waterloo. He died s.p., 16th March, 1868. His widow married secondly, 1873, William Edmund Image, of St. Margaret's Gate, Bury St. Edmunds.

8. MRS. OLIVER. H. and S. Full face, hair turned up high, lace cap on top of it, with blue bow in front. Dress: pink, lace collar and bunch of flowers in the middle in front, black velvet round her neck. On it: "M^{rs} Oliver. mother of Branwhite Oliver. Esq. Sudbury. Gainsborough." S. By Thomas Gainsborough.

9. SIR ROBERT ROOKWOOD. T.Q.L. Face and body both full, hair turned off the forehead, and rather long, small gray moustache and bunch beneath the lip. Dress: the coat is of a golden colour, buttoned up nearly to the top of the neck, showing a small white linen collar, a black robe thrown over him, the right hand stretched out, apparently describing something to which it points, the white shirt appears fastened round the wrist with a jewelled buckle; the left hand rests on the hip and is gloved, holding the other glove, with shirt fastened in a similar way, the elbow of his arm points outwards, showing the colour and material of the coat, gold sword hilt on the left side.

SIR ROBERT ROOKWOOD
OLD BUCKENHAM HALL No. 9

Red curtain behind, scenery on sinister side, statue in armour on the dexter. By Joseph Richard Wright. Signed: "Ritus pinxit. 1660." L. This picture came from Hengrave Hall Sale, where there was also a copy of it sold.

Robert, son and heir of Ambrose Rookwood, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Robert Tyrwytt, of Keteby, co. Lincoln; he was of Coldham Hall, Suffolk; knighted by James I in 1624; he married Mary, daughter of Sir Robert Townsend of Ludlow, co. Salop; he died 10th June, 1679, and lies buried in Stanningfield Church, Suffolk.

10. THOMAS ROOKWOOD. T.Q.L. Face and body both full, long curly gray wig. Dress: gray coat, open in front, trimmed with gold, showing a great deal of a white muslin scarf, lace cuffs; the right hand, with book, resting on a table, left hand on hip, gold sword hilt just apparent. There are rocks behind the figure, with mountainous scenery on the dexter side of the picture. On it: "Thomas Rokewode. Coldham Hall 1713," and signed "KG. fecit 1713." L. This picture was purchased at the Hengrave Hall Sale, Suffolk, to which place it was brought from Coldham by the Gage family.

Thomas, son and heir of Ambrose Rookwood (who was the son of Sir Robert Rookwood, see No. 9), by Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heiress of . . . Cadwell, of Cantys, in Dunton, Essex; he was born 1658; and married first, Tamworth, daughter of Sir Roger Martin, of Long Melford (by whom he left one daughter, Elizabeth, who married John Gage), and second, Dorothy Maria, daughter of Compton Hanford, of Woolers Hill, co. Worcester. He died 21st August, 1728, aged seventy.

11. MRS. HENRY SHELTON. H.L. Face and body both full, hair turned back over the head, with long curl resting on right shoulder, the complexion very delicate. Dress: a loose robe of pale blue, cut open, V shaped in front, showing a white tucker, and white lining to the sleeves, over all is a red robe, almost cast off, the right hand and wrist just apparent, part of the fingers being beneath the picture. A coat of arms in top dexter corner. Azure, a cross or (Shelton), impaling Argent, two bars sable, in chief as many pallets of the second (Churchman). M.

Hester, only daughter of Sir John Churchman of Illington, Norfolk, Knt., by Hester his wife, daughter of Sir John Gore, of Gelderston, co. Herts, Knt.; she married, 2nd January, 1682, Henry, son of Maurice Shelton, of Barningham, Suffolk, and Shelton, Norfolk. He died and was buried at Shelton, 24th May, 1690, aged thirty-six. It is not known when or where she died. They had a son, Maurice Shelton, who inherited Barningham, and sold it.

12. ARTHUR YOUNG, F.R.S. H.L. Man, body nearly full, face turned to the dexter, short white wig. Dress: yellow, with lace collar and cuffs, red robe cast off on the sinister side; yellow glove on the right hand, which appears in the front of the picture, resting on a table, with a blue book on it, inscribed "AGRICULTURE." The dress must be a fancy costume, for the arms are slashed in Elizabethan style. M. This portrait was purchased at the Bradfield Hall sale, Suffolk.

Arthur, son of Rev. Arthur Young, LL.D., Prebendary of Canterbury, Rector of Bradfield, Suffolk, by Anne Lucretia his wife, daughter of John Coussmaker, of Weybridge; he was born 7th September, 1741; he was Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, and published many works. He died 12th April, 1820. See D. N. B., lxiii, 376.

13. ARTHUR YOUNG, F.R.S., AND MRS. JOHN TOMLINSON. Two figures. (1) Girl. T.Q.L. On the dexter side of the picture, seated on a stone, full face. Dress: white, low, short sleeves, pink robe thrown lightly over her; she is nursing a black and white spaniel, which is supported on her lap by the left hand; the right hand, resting on the stone, holds five cherries. (2) Boy. F.L. On the sinister side, seated on a red velvet cushion, full face, black cap with ostrich feathers on the head. Dress: a white garment, feet naked and crossed, a blue robe is thrown over the knees; he holds two cherries in his left hand, whilst the right hand points to the dog. Scenery in the background, with a parrot on the dexter side. L. This picture was purchased at a sale at Lawshall Hall, but previous to that is said to have been at Bradfield, and to have represented Arthur Young and his sister.

Arthur Young. See No. 12.

Elizabeth Mary, daughter of Rev. Arthur Young, LL.D., by Anne Lucretia his wife, daughter of John Coussmaker, of Weybridge; she married John Tomlinson, of East Barnet, co. Herts. "She died before her father." See tablet at Bradfield. The Rev. Arthur Young died in 1759.

17. MAN. H. and S. Long curly wig, brown in colour, face very nearly full, fine lace cravat joined down the middle, complexion pale. Set in an oval. Min. c. 1670. "The Hon^{ble} Mr Boyle" on the back.
18. LADY. H. and S. Full face, with enormous ruff round the neck, hair turned off the head backwards. Set in oval. Min. c. 1590.
19. LADY. H. and S. Body and face full, brown hair, turned back over the forehead. Dress: blue, cut V shape, lined with yellow, showing a white tucker. Set in oval. Min. c. 1710. Possibly Mrs. Arthur Young.
20. MAN. H. and S. Full face, long curly brown wig. Dress: armour, lace scarf round his neck with long ends, showing a red bow beneath. Set in oval. Min. c. 1680.
21. LADY. H. and S. Body to the sinister, face full, white curly hair, with cap on it. Dress: red, cut a little open in front, pearl necklace, blue bow in front. Min. c. 1695.

All portraits from Nos. 15 to 21 were at Bradfield Hall.

22. CHILD. F.L. Full face. Dress: red, embroidered with gold, sleeves green, wreath in her right hand; coral set in gold, and with a gold chain, hangs round the neck, and is held in the left hand. The child stands on a marble floor of black and white squares, and wears gold embroidered shoes; black cap on the head edged with pearls, brooch in the centre of the cap composed of gems, with a coronet above. S.

Purchased of Mr. Johnson, of Bury St. Edmunds. Probably Charles I as a child.

23. LADY. H. and S. Body and face both full. Dress: the under-garment or bodice is of white, the sleeves of which appear fastened round the wrist with black. The over-garment is all black, and is cut square in front, so that the under-garment of white appears, muslin ruff round the neck and cuffs; black hood lined with white, jewelled pendant like a watch hangs on the right side. M.

Purchased of Mr. Johnson, of Bury St. Edmunds, who bought it at Pakenham, Suffolk. Possibly Dame Mary Compton, wife of Sir George Villiers, created Countess of Buckingham in 1618.

24. MAN. H. and S. Body turned to the sinister, face nearly full, wearing a long curly wig. Dress: loose brown robe, showing a great deal of muslin scarf round the neck. M. c. 1690.
Purchased at Bury.
25. MAN. H.L. Full face, short hair, dark moustache and bunch of a fairer tint on the chin. Dress: black doublet, large white muslin collar, edged with narrow lace, tied in front, where there is a tassel. The right hand comes across the picture, and holds apparently the sleeve of the other arm. A very dark background. M. c. 1635.
Bought of Mr. Johnson, of Bury St. Edmunds.

THE RYES, ESSEX

The Property of Colonel Nathaniel Barnardiston, 1904
